Reviewing Qualitative Research in the Social Sciences Audrey A. Trainor, Elizabeth Graue, 2013-03-05 Foundational characteristics of qualitative research include flexibility variation in application critique and innovation all of which derive from its subjective roots in interpretivism and constructivism While the scholars who design qualitative research projects envision these qualities as strengths such a breadth of practices and the assumptions that undergird them may present challenges during the peer review process As a result those who review and consume qualitative research often have important and difficult to answer questions about the project s design strategies tools and analysis with few guidelines for gauging the merit of the work The mission of this book is to provide a useful guide for researchers reviewers and consumers who are charged with judging the quality of qualitative studies In order to embrace the challenges and controversies that accompany this goal the editors have solicited experts representing multiple disciplines and methods of qualitative inquiry Their contributions represent the rich diversity in the field while simultaneously producing a pragmatic and useful guide While it is neither possible nor desirable to compartmentalize qualitative approaches and issues into neatly organized categories the construct of method has been chosen as a common organizing device The introductory chapter explains the need for such a book and underscores the foundational strengths of qualitative research flexibility variation critique and innovation The remaining chapters review the principal approaches to qualitative research with care taken not to standardize rigidly define or oversimplify any approach For ease of use all methodological chapters are organized around the following elements of inquiry which reviewers tend to examine definition sampling data collection data analysis representation and congruency Diversity, Divergence, Dialogue Katharina Toeppe, Hui Yan, Samuel Kai Wah Chu, 2021-03-19 This two volume set LNCS 12645 12646 constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 16th International Conference on Diversity Divergence Dialogue iConference 2021 held in Beijing China in March 2021 The 32 full papers and the 59 short papers
