Rings, Modules and Linear Algebra Brian Hartley,Trevor O. Hawkes,1974      Advances in Non-Archimedean Analysis Helge Glöckner,Alain Escassut,Khodr Shamseddine,2016-05-20 This volume contains the Proceedings of the 13th International Conference on p adic Functional Analysis held from August 12 16 2014 at the University of Paderborn Paderborn Germany The articles included in this book feature recent developments in various areas of non Archimedean analysis non Archimedean functional analysis representation theory number theory non Archimedean dynamical systems and applications Through a combination of new research articles and survey papers this book provides the reader with an overview of current developments and techniques in non Archimedean analysis as well as a broad knowledge of some of the sub areas of this exciting and fast developing research area      Linear Algebra over Commutative Rings Bernard R. McDonald,2020-11-25 This monograph arose from lectures at the University of Oklahoma on topics related to linear algebra over commutative rings It provides an introduction of matrix theory over commutative rings The monograph discusses the structure theory of a projective module      Kazhdan-Lusztig Theory and Related Topics Vinay Deodhar,1992 This volume attests to the far reaching influence of Kazhdan Lusztig theory on several areas of mathematics by presenting a diverse set of research articles centered on this theme Although there has been a great deal of work in Kazhdan Lusztig theory this book is perhaps the first to discuss all aspects of the theory and gives readers a flavor of the range of topics involved The articles present recent work in Kazhdan Lusztig theory including representations of Kac Moody Lie algebras geometry of Schubert varieties intersection cohomology of stratified spaces and some new topics such as quantum groups      Rings, Modules and Linear Algebra B. Modules and the Structure of Rings Golan,1991-04-24 This book offers vital background information on methods for solving hard classification problems of algebraic structures It explains how algebraists deal with the problem of the structure of modules over rings and how they make use of these structures to classify rings

Foundations of Module and Ring Theory Robert Wisbauer,1991-09-05 Translated with the addition of a number of new results exercises and references from the German original of 1988 Verlag Reinhard Fischer Munich this volume provides a comprehensive introduction to module theory and the related part of ring theory including original results as well as the most recent work Starting from a basic understanding of linear algebra the theory is presented with complete proofs For undergraduate graduate and research level mathematicians working in algebra module and ring theory Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Exercises in Modules and Rings T.Y. Lam,2006-12-15 This volume offers a compendium of exercises of varying degree of difficulty in the theory of modules and rings It is the companion volume to GTM 189 All exercises are solved in full detail Each section begins with an introduction giving the general background and the theoretical basis for the problems that follow

Modules and the Structure of Rings Golan,2019-12-02 This textbook is designed for students with at least one solid semester of abstract algebra some linear algebra background and no previous knowledge of module theory Modules and the Structure of Rings details the use of modules over a ring as a means of considering the structure of the ring itself explaining the mathematics and inductive reasoning used in working on ring theory challenges and emphasizing modules instead of rings Stressing the inductive aspect of mathematical research underlying the formal deductive style of the literature this volume offers vital background on current methods for solving hard classification problems of algebraic structures Written in an informal but completely rigorous style Modules and the Structure of Rings clarifies sophisticated proofs avoids the formalism of category theory aids independent study or seminar work and supplies end of chapter problems This book serves as an excellent primary text for upper level undergraduate and graduate students in one semester courses on ring or module theory laying a foundation for more advanced study of homological algebra or module theory

Lectures on Modules and Rings Tsit-Yuen Lam,2012-12-06 Textbook writing must be one of the cruelest of self inflicted tortures Carl Faith Math Reviews 54 5281 So why didn't I heed the warning of a wise colleague especially one who is a great expert in the subject of modules and rings The answer is simple I did not learn about it until it was too late My writing project in ring theory started in 1983 after I taught a year long course in the subject at Berkeley My original plan was to write up my lectures and publish them as a graduate text in a couple of years My hopes of carrying out this plan on schedule were however quickly dashed as I began to realize how much material was at hand and how little time I had at my disposal As the years went by I added further material to my notes and used them to teach different versions of the course Eventually I came to the realization that writing a single volume would not fully accomplish my original goal of giving a comprehensive treatment of basic ring theory At the suggestion of Ulrike Schmickler Hirzebruch then Mathematics Editor of Springer Verlag I completed the first part of my project and published the write up in 1991 as A First Course in Noncommutative Rings GTM 131 hereafter referred to as First Course or simply FC

Exercises in Basic Ring Theory Grigore Calugareanu, P. Hamburg, 1998-02-28 Each undergraduate course of algebra begins with basic notions and results concerning groups rings modules and linear algebra That is it begins with simple notions and simple results Our intention was to provide a collection of exercises which cover only the easy part of ring theory what we have named the Basics of Ring Theory This seems to be the part each student or beginner in ring theory or even algebra should know but surely trying to solve as many of these exercises as possible independently As difficult or impossible as this may seem we have made every effort to avoid modules lattices and field extensions in this collection and to remain in the ring area as much as possible A brief look at the bibliography obviously shows that we don't claim much originality one could name this the folklore of ring theory for the statements of the exercises we have chosen but this was a difficult task indeed the 28 titles contain approximatively 15 000 problems and our collection contains only 346 The real value of our book is the part which contains all the solutions of these exercises We have tried to draw up these solutions as detailed as possible so that each beginner can progress without skilled help The book is divided in two parts each consisting of seventeen chapters the first part containing the exercises and the second part the solutions

Rings, Modules, Algebras, and Abelian Groups Alberto Facchini, Evan Houston, Luigi Salce, 2020-02-10 Rings Modules Algebras and Abelian Groups summarizes the proceedings of a recent algebraic conference held at Venice International University in Italy Surveying the most influential developments in the field this reference reviews the latest research on Abelian groups algebras and their representations module and ring theory and topological
