

General Term Summary

Grade 6 – Term 1

Language Arts

In Language Arts, we focused on several types of functional writing, and extended our knowledge of reading strategies to deepen our understanding of literature. Our writing practice explored the traits of writing (organization, content, sentence structure, conventions and word choice). Students were also engaged in responding to a variety of writing prompts, which included regular blogging, personal reflections, descriptive paragraphs and persuasive arguments. Our class read aloud focused on the comprehension strategies of self-monitoring, making connections and making inferences. Further, students practiced their ability to manage ideas and information through research and engaged in many research activities that required them to access information, evaluate sources, record information and share their ideas and information. The above concepts were applied to real-world situations, as well as selected texts.

Science

This term we performed an in-depth study of Topic A: Air and Aerodynamics, as well as Topic B: Flight. This included the properties of air, and specific ways that air movement can create lift. The class also focused on making observations as part of Topic C: Evidence and Investigation. Through the study of the topics, we applied the scientific process and used an investigative approach.

Social Studies

6.1 Citizens Participating in Decision Making: The broad focus in Social Studies in Grade 6 is on active citizenship and how we can affect others through our decisions and understanding of the world around us. This term we studied decision-making processes, the components that make up democracy, and how our rights and freedoms are protected in Canada. Students learned and used this information by exploring their values and attitudes, applying their knowledge and understanding, and practicing a variety of skills and processes (active inquiry, critical thinking, reflection and using and managing information).

Mathematics

The strands of Number and Patterns and Relations: While working with these strands, we looked at ways to describe patterns and relationships between numbers, and the different ways that we can write, describe and organize numbers. Students were required to represent and describe patterns and relationships using graphs and tables, understand relationships within tables of values to solve problems, develop and use equations with letter variables (basic algebraic equations), understand and apply the order of operations, demonstrate the meaning of preservation of equality and identify multiples and factors of various numbers.

The strand of Shape and Space: Angles and their relationships in different shapes were examined. Students were required to demonstrate the ability to identify angles in their environment, classify angles according to their measure, determine angle measures in degrees and understand the relationship between angles relative to their shape type (triangles and quadrilaterals).

Students are expected to demonstrate mathematical understanding by explaining their understanding, connecting mathematical ideas to other concepts and subject areas, demonstrating fluency with mental math, developing and applying new mathematical understanding through problem solving, developing mathematical reasoning, selecting and using technology as tools in problems solving and using visualization skills to assist in making connections and with problem solving. All of the above skills were used to solve problems that are encountered in daily life, and show how mathematics can be used in and out of the classroom.

Multifaceted Assessment for Early Childhood Education Robert J. Wright, 2010 Multifaceted Assessment in Early Childhood is ideal for those on upper division undergraduate courses and first level graduate courses in early childhood education assessment The book covers the various measures used in a range of assessment dimensions and includes valuable information regarding young children with special needs and English Language Learners which has rarely been touched upon in other textbooks The chapters are focused on student accessibility and include practical applications of key concepts Features and benefits Covers a range of assessment concepts including Formative uses feedback from learning to adapt teaching Summative i.e. tests quizzes Authentic focuses on complex deeper tasks Standardized STAR SAT Includes coverage of assessment for English language learners and children with special needs topics that are not provided enough coverage in other books including Wortham McAfee Puckett and Mindes Wright's writing style grabs and engages the reader in the topic Two of our reviewers who use Wortham specifically cited Wright's writing style as a reason they would adopt our book A McAfee reviewer is likely to switch for the same reason

The "New" Epidemic- Grading Practices Andre' Mathews, 2016-03-16 This book is a comprehensive view on the grading practices and policies in American public schools The content of the book identifies the lack of alignment amongst the Federal State and Local Districts and the need to adopt a unified policy Educational institutions are creating their own versions of grading systems that lack integrity flawed in design hinder many students from graduating and or achieving opportunities to become a more productive citizen after high school completion Section I The structure of the book begins with a systemic view of development by identifying the philosophical and theoretical aspects involved in the grading system Section II The authors work then transitions to the structure of the grading system addressing the mathematical aspects of calculating a student's grade point average to the teacher's validity of grades Section III This section identifies the parent's role and need to understand the grade itself and its effect on the student's overall outcome and class ranking Section IV The book ends with a strong analysis of the system parental rights examples of educational disasters and schools quest for new grading systems All in all this book takes a journey throughout the entire educational system identifying a need for change on all levels as it relates to the grading system The overall message emphasizes the parent's need to be cognizant of the importance of being involved and properly motivating mentoring monitoring modeling and managing their child's educational careers All stakeholders should walk away with a sense of ownership to the problem and an understanding that the time for change is now The ethnic margin is widening and too many students are graduating unmarketable A grade is more than a number it's a quality of life

Early Childhood Education Petr G. Grotewell, Yanus R. Burton, 2008 This book focuses on early childhood education which spans the human life from birth to age 8 Infants and toddlers experience life more holistically than any other age group Social emotional cognitive language and physical lessons are not learned separately by very young children Adults who are most helpful to young children interact in ways that understand that the child is learning from the whole experience not just that part of the experience to which the adult gives attention Although early childhood education does not have to occur in the absence of the parent or primary caregiver this term is sometimes used to denote education by someone other than these the parent or primary caregiver Both research in the field and early childhood educators view the parents as an integral part of the early childhood education process Early childhood education takes many forms depending on the theoretical and educational beliefs of the educator or parent Other terms that is often used interchangeably with early childhood education are early childhood learning early care and early education Much of the first two years of life are spent in the creation of a child's first sense of self or the building of a first identity. Because this is a crucial part of children's makeup, how they first see themselves, how they think they should function, how they expect others to function in relation to them, early care must ensure that, in addition to carefully selected and trained caregivers, links with family, home culture, and home language are a central part of program policy. If care becomes a substitute for rather than a support of family, children may develop a less than positive sense of who they are and where they come from because of their child care experience.

The All-Day Kindergarten and Pre-K Curriculum Doris Pronin Fromberg, 2012-03-22 Grounded in theory and research, The All Day Kindergarten and Pre K Curriculum provides an activity-based and classroom-proven curriculum for educators to consider as they plan and interact with pre-K and kindergarten children. Allowing young children the opportunities to become independent, caring, critical thinkers who feel comfortable asking questions and exploring possible solutions, the Dynamic Themes Curriculum offers children the skills they need for responsible citizenship and academic progress. This book describes a culturally sensitive pre-K and kindergarten curriculum in the context of literacy, technology, mathematics, social studies, science, the arts, and play, and also discusses how to use the seven integrated conditions for learning to meet and exceed content learning standards, how to organize for differentiated instruction and to integrate multiple forms of assessment, how to teach literacy tools and skills in fresh ways, how to work with families, colleagues, and community. Building off of author Doris Fromberg's groundbreaking earlier work, The All Day Kindergarten and Pre K Curriculum presents a practical curriculum centering on how young children develop meanings. This is a fantastic resource for pre- and in-service early childhood teachers, administrators, and scholars.

Working with Parents and Families in Early Childhood Education Ute Ward, Bob Perry, 2020-05-21 This book reports initiatives to listen to parents and families to ascertain what families believe and do as they seek to engage collaboratively with their children's educators and what educators and educational systems might do to facilitate and/or establish barriers to such engagement. Parental engagement in children's learning and development has many positive benefits. However, in the current environments of accountability and performativity, which are pervading early childhood education in many countries, the opportunities for parents and other family members to be part of the development of respectful collaborative relationships with their children's early childhood educators are becoming more and more restricted. Many educators feel forced to choose between curriculum outcomes and parental engagement as both involve their time. There is a danger that the voices of parents and families in their children's early learning and development will not always be heard, seen, or fully understood. This volume addresses this important issue. Researchers, educators, and families will all benefit from this book to the ultimate benefit of the young children who are the future. This book was originally published as a special issue of the European Early Childhood Education Research Journal.
