What's Wrong with Pakistan? Babar Ayaz, 2013-08-01 A courageous comprehensive and no holds barred account by a veteran journalist of a 66 year old nation that is still trying to find its identity and fighting its own demons Beginning with the genetic defect that Pakistan was born with Babar Ayaz highlights the numerous problems faced by Pakistan today that have arisen as a result of the country's foundation being based on religion What Quaid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah managed to achieve as a separate homeland in August 1947 is today being consumed by religious fanaticism Ayaz attributes such a state of affairs to the Islamization of Pakistani laws which are in conflict with the twenty first century value systems The author next pinpoints how Jinnah failed to recognize the ethno-linguistic diversity of the Pakistan he had created which needed proper distribution of power between the Centre and the states in the then existent West Pakistan and East Pakistan He describes how the centralization of power and the imposition of a single language for both wings of the country led to the dismemberment of Pakistan and the creation of Bangladesh in 1971 The book also analyzes the unwritten national security policy of Pakistan and how it has dictated its foreign policy Relations with the US India China Saudi Arabia Iran and Afghanistan are discussed vis-à-vis the overall national security policy The author contends that the rise of fundamentalism is a global phenomenon but in Pakistan it has given birth to a plethora of Islamic militant groups covertly supported by the Pakistani intelligence services Pakistan has been branded as the most dangerous state of the world and the epicentre of terrorism He laments the fact that attempts to present the peaceful side of Islam are extremely feeble because of the dominance of the pro-jihad elements which are pushing the country into a civil war like situation In spite of several years of attempts at indoctrination of the people through mass media and educational institutions in Pakistan the anti-Indian feelings and extreme stands on Kashmir have been limited Ayaz believes that India and the developed world would have to help by being more accommodating and understanding so that the people of Pakistan can re-invent their country Without moving towards secularism the author warns Pakistan will remain at war with itself as it is torn between the twenty first century and medieval religious value systems

India's Sentinel: Select Writings of Air Commodore Jasjit Singh AVSM, VrC, VM (Retd) Dr Manpreet Sethi, Dr Shalini Chawla, 2014-07-15 Air Commodore Jasjit Singh was one of India's foremost strategic analysts The only constant for him in over three decades of research analyses and writing was the centrality of national interest Indeed the man never let the nation down whether as an air warrior or a strategist ever ready to voice his views irrespective of how the wind was blowing and always remaining practical in approach Ever an optimist he believed that India would inevitably rise to power by the sheer size of its economy and human resource potential A greater concern for him

however was the need to sensitize his compatriots to the national security challenges that would arise as the country rose and to equip them with the capability to optimally address these. He did so through his writings and talks. This book is a modest compilation of his select writings on two specific issues: nuclear strategy and Pakistan, since he considered these as critical amongst India's many security challenges. Of course, the range of Jasjit Singh's writings and the expanse of his knowledge is immense and beyond capture in one book. But this is a small effort in the direction of spreading his message ideas to the current and future generation of scholars and policy makers. Hopefully, it will encourage students of national security to look for more of his writings beyond the few that we have been able to carry in this volume. Solution Pakistan Zakir Mahmood Malik, 2018-07-17

The Muslim World After 9/11 Angel Rabasa, Matthew Waxman, Eric V. Larson, Cheryl Y. Marcum, 2004-11-17 Momentous events since September 11, 2001: Operation Enduring Freedom, the global war on terrorism, and the war in Iraq have dramatically altered the political environment of the Muslim world. Many of the forces influencing this environment, however, are the products of trends that have been at work for many decades. This book examines the major dynamics that drive changes in the religious-political landscape of the Muslim world, a vast and diverse region that stretches from Western Africa through the Middle East to the Southern Philippines and includes Muslim communities and diasporas throughout the world. It draws the implications of these trends for global security and U.S. and Western interests. It presents a typology of ideological tendencies in the different regions of the Muslim world and identifies the factors that produce religious extremism and violence. It assesses key cleavages along sectarian, ethnic, regional, and national lines and examines how those cleavages generate challenges and opportunities for the United States. Finally, the authors identify possible strategies and political and military options for the United States to pursue in response to changing conditions in this critical and volatile part of the world.

Pakistan Pervez Hoodbhoy, 2023-03-24 This book is an accessible, comprehensive, and nuanced history of Pakistan. It reflects upon state and society in Pakistan and shows they have been shaped by historical forces and personae. Hoodbhoy expertly maps the journey of the region from many millennia ago to the circumstances and impulses that gave birth to the very first state in history founded upon religious identity. He documents colonial rule, the trauma of Partition, the nation's wars with India, the formation of Bangladesh, and the emergence of Baloch nationalism. The book also examines longstanding complex themes and issues such as religious fundamentalism, identity formation, democracy, and military rule, as well as their impact on the future of the state of Pakistan. Drawing on a range of sources and written by one of the foremost intellectuals of the region, this book will be indispensable for scholars, researchers, students of history, politics, and South Asian studies. It will be of great interest to the general reader interested in understanding Pakistan.

International Relations Theory and South Asia (OIP) E. Sridharan, 2014-11-13 Bringing together scholarship from several South Asian countries, this volume understands conflict resolution and cooperation building in the region. The essays cover three inter-related issues: security, political economy, domestic politics, and the construction of identities and normative frameworks They employ broader social science theorizing particularly in relation to political economy to go beyond conceptualizations based on international relations theory The volume takes a fresh look at the inter relationships between issues and their analyses and eschews stand alone topics such as Kashmir nuclear policies or regional cooperation Combining theory with fieldwork it provides diverse perspectives and arguments for a more nuanced picture of international relations in South Asia

India's Partition Devendra Panigrahi, 2004-08-19 This title offers an examination of the circumstances surrounding India's independence from Britain and the partition of the subcontinent

Pakistan: Caught in the Whirlwind Wg Cdr C Deepak Dogra, 2015-12-09 This book is indeed a critical analysis of history of political development of Pakistan The hypothesis floated in the book seeking peaceful coexistence of two people who are identical in more than one way finds it difficult to sustain in wake of the political absurdities being committed by certain imprudent elements With more Muslims in India Pakistan has long lost its postulation that it was carved out of British India as a nation for Indian Muslims The two nation theory which saw its silent burial after partition of Pakistan had been based on a faulty proposition that Hindus and Muslims of India were two distinct nationalities Post formation its nation building has gone through twists and turns of political turbulence that has been discussed in detail in this book Besides focusing on the infamous military regimes the author has also analyzed socio political upbringing of this nation under popular governments Having discussed the foreign policy dilemmas of the country its role in pre and post Taliban Afghanistan has also been dwelled upon Nation's obsession with K word seems to have shut all its routes to rationality and prosperity besides denying it the privilege of peaceful coexistence with its parent country The author has also attempted to look through the frosted glass to perceive possible future scenario for the nation that continues to remain an uncertainty

Pakistan M. G. Chitkara,1996 Kashmir and Sindh Suranjan Das,2001 Professor Das provides a fascinating study on the issue of ethnic politics in multi ethnic Third World countries and the non convergence of state and nation in this discussion of the Kashmir and Sindh questions The artificial de colonization process in the South Asian sub continent resulted in the construction of national frontiers for its two successor states that did not rest on a synchronization of ethnic and state boundaries Consequently cross border loyalties amongst significant sections of the population survived the boundaries imposed between the two successor states When in the context of centralizing nation building strategies ethnic political assertions occur in outlying or frontier areas of these nation states the distinction between domestic and external affairs or between home and foreign politics tends to lose its significance in the traditional sense. Political actors from across the borders of neighbouring states can then deny the marks of their different objective nationalities and treat themselves as members of a single loyalty group. Thus ethnic politics transcends its domestic contours and helps foment regional tensions. In such circumstances ethnic assertions tend to constitute vital local or domestic ingredients that define the national security priorities within a particular region. The current insurrection in Kashmir and turmoil in Sindh superbly demonstrate this pattern.

The Roots of Rhetoric Haider Nizamani, 2000-09-30

In an unanticipated flurry of atomic weapons testing a total of 10 tests over 20 days in 1998 India and Pakistan announced to the world their emergence as full fledged nuclear powers. How Nizamani asks did nuclear escalation come to dominate the agendas of both nations? In a comparative analysis Nizamani reveals the political underpinnings of nuclear weapons development arguing that Indian and Pakistani nuclearization is linked to processes of national formation. Working within the Critical Security Studies framework Nizamani traces the development of nuclear discourses in India and Pakistan from early nationhood to the present. Nizamani defers conclusive identification of real or objective national threats and instead examines the historical specificities and internal tensions of the dominant Indian and Pakistani security discourses. Additionally Nizamani provides an overview of anti nuclear dissent in South Asia.
