

What is Figurative Language?

Figurative language is meant to be interpreted imaginatively, not literally. For example, if we write that the sun is like a golden eye, if we call a famous person an institution, or if we say that the summer night seems to whisper- then we are using figurative language.

Imagery - the use of vivid language to describe people, places, things, and ideas. It describes something so that a mental picture, or image is created in your mind. This is achieved through the use of sensory language and captures the reader's attention by appealing to the five senses (touch, taste, sight, sound & smell).

Simile - a comparison between two basically unlike things, using the words like or as. Example: "Anxious as a sea-gull" OR "eyes like the dark night sky"

Metaphor - a comparison between two things, not using the words like or as. Example: "Her eyes are glowering stars" OR "he is a cold winter day"

Symbol - any person, place or thing that has a meaning in itself and that also stands for something else. A symbol can be another living thing, an object, a situation, or an action. Symbols stand for ideas or qualities.

Example: dove = peace, heart = love, lion = courage

Personification - a figure of speech in which an animal, idea or inanimate object is given human characteristics.

Example: "the wind whispered to me softly" OR "the trees danced under the moonlight"

Alliteration - the repetition of the same or very similar consonant sounds in words that are close together.

Example: "and the silken seal uncertain rustling of each purple curtain" OR "peter piper picked a peck of pickled peppers"

Onomatopoeia - the repetition of all sounds following in words close together in a poem.

Example: siren and siren, rumble and rumble, jelly and jelly

Consonance - the use of words with sounds that echo their sense.

Example: hush, murmur, hush, tick tock, along, bang

Refrain - a group of words repeated at intervals in a poem, song, or speech.

Repetition - the use of repeated words, phrases or sounds.

Stanza - a group of lines that forms a single unit (paragraph).

Speaker - the voice talking in the poem. It is the poet or a character the poet has created.

English Language Arts, Grade 7 Module 3A PCG Education, 2015-12-16 Paths to College and Career Jossey Bass and PCG Education are proud to bring the Paths to College and Career English Language Arts ELA curriculum and professional development resources for grades 6-12 to educators across the country. Originally developed for EngageNY and written with a focus on the shifts in instructional practice and student experiences the standards require, Paths to College and Career includes daily lesson plans, guiding questions, recommended texts, scaffolding strategies, and other classroom resources. Paths to College and Career is a concrete and practical ELA instructional program that engages students with compelling and complex texts. At each grade level, Paths to College and Career delivers a yearlong curriculum that develops all students' ability to read closely and engage in text-based discussions, build evidence-based claims and arguments, conduct research, and write from sources, and expand their academic vocabulary. Paths to College and Career's instructional resources address the needs of all learners, including students with disabilities, English language learners, and gifted and talented students. This enhanced curriculum provides teachers with freshly designed Teacher Guides that make the curriculum more accessible and flexible, a Teacher Resource Book for each module that includes all of the materials educators need to manage instruction, and Student Journals that give students learning tools for each module and a single place to organize and document their learning. As the creators of the Paths ELA curriculum for grades 6-12, PCG Education provides a professional learning program that ensures the success of the curriculum. The program includes Nationally recognized professional development from an organization that has been immersed in the new standards since their inception. Blended learning experiences for teachers and leaders that enrich and extend the learning. A train-the-trainer program that builds capacity and provides resources and individual support for embedded leaders and coaches. Paths offers schools and districts a unique approach to ensuring college and career readiness for all students, providing state-of-the-art curriculum and state-of-the-art implementation.

Figurative Language, Genre and Register Alice Deignan, Jeannette Littlemore, Elena Semino, 2013-03-07 This volume combines diverse research scenarios to present a solid framework for analysis of figurative language. Figurative Language, Genre and Register brings together discourse analysis and corpus linguistics in a cutting-edge study of figurative language in spoken and written discourse. The authors explore a diverse range of communities, from chronic pain sufferers to nursery staff, to present a detailed framework for the analysis of figurative language. The reader is shown how figurative language is used between members of these communities to construct their own world view and how this can change with a shift in perspective. Figurative language is shown to be pervasive and inescapable, but it is also suggested that it varies significantly across genres.

Mapping the Origins of Figurative Language in Comparative Literature Richard Trim, 2021-10-05 This book investigates the origins of figurative language in literary discourse within a cognitive framework. It represents an interface between linguistics and literature and develops a 6-tier theoretical model.

which analyses the different factors contributing to the creation of figurative words and expressions By examining features ranging from language structure to figurative thought cultural history reference narrative and the personal experience of authors it develops a global overview of the processes involved Due to its particularly innovative characteristics in literature the theme of death is explored in relation to universal concepts such as love and time These aspects are discussed in the light of well known authors in comparative literature such as D H Lawrence Simone De Beauvoir Hermann Hesse and Jorge Luis Borges The origins can involve complex conceptual mappings in figures of speech such as metaphor and symbolism They are often at the roots of an author s personal desires or represent the search for answers to human existence This approach offers a wide variety of new ideas and research possibilities for postgraduate and research students in modern languages linguistics and literature It would also be of interest to academic researchers in these disciplines as well as the general public who would like to delve deeper into the relevant fields

Language, Cognition, and Emotion in Keats's Poetry Katrina Brannon, 2022-10-31 Language Cognition and Emotion in Keats s Poetry applies an innovative cognitive linguistic approach to the poetry of John Keats the first of its kind to employ a cognitive based framework to explore the expression and articulation of emotion in his work Brannon adopts an embodied perspective to emotion rooted in cognitive linguistics cognitive grammar and cognitive poetics but also works from figurative language and stylistics in examining a selection of Keats s poems This approach allows for a close interrogation of the texts themselves but also the languages that compose them comprising lexical and grammatical elements which when taken together bring out the emotional saliency of Keatsian poetry While revealing fresh insights into the work of John Keats the book also sheds further light on the importance of cognitive approaches to poetic and grammatical analyses and how both language and the body can serve as forms of communication through which metaphors can be expressed and contextualized This volume will appeal to students and scholars interested in cognitive linguistics figurative language emotion studies cognitive science and Anglophone poetry

Figurative Language and Thought Albert N. Katz, Cristina Cacciari, Raymond W. Gibbs Jr., Mark Turner, 1998-09-10 Our understanding of the nature and processing of figurative language is central to several important issues in cognitive science including the relationship of language and thought how we process language and how we comprehend abstract meaning Over the past fifteen years traditional approaches to these issues have been challenged by experimental psychologists linguists and other cognitive scientists interested in the structures of the mind and the processes that operate on them In Figurative Language and Thought internationally recognized experts in the field of figurative language Albert Katz Mark Turner Raymond W Gibbs Jr and Cristina Cacciari provide a coherent and focused debate on the subject The book s authors discuss a variety of fundamental questions including What can figures of speech tell us about the structure of the conceptual system If and how should we distinguish the literal from the nonliteral in our theories of language and thought Are we primarily figurative thinkers and consequently figurative language users or the other way around Why do we prefer to speak metaphorically in everyday conversation when literal options may be available for use Is metaphor the only vehicle through which we can understand abstract concepts What role do cultural and social factors play in our comprehension of figurative language These and related questions are raised and argued in an integrative look at the role of nonliteral language in cognition This volume a part of Counterpoints series will be thought provoking reading for a wide range of cognitive psychologists linguists and philosophers
