Beeley, Mark E. Weedman, 2018-02-09 The past thirty years have seen an unprecedented level of interest in early Christian biblical interpretation from major scholarly initiatives to more popular resources aimed at pastors and general readers The fields of Biblical Studies and Patristics Early Christian Studies each arrived at the study of early Christian biblical interpretation largely from their own standpoints and they tend to operate in relative isolation from one another This book aims to bring the two fields into closer conversation in order to suggest new avenues into the study of the deeply biblical dimension of patristic theology as well as the contribution that patristic exegesis can make to contemporary views of how best to interpret the Bible Based on a multi year consultation in the Society of Biblical Literature The Bible and Early Trinitarian Theology features leading scholars from both fields who bring new insights to the relationship between patristic exegesis and current strategies of biblical interpretation specifically with reference to the doctrine of the Trinity Following an account of how each field came to study patristic exegesis the book offers new studies of Trinitarian theology in Old Testament Johannine and Pauline biblical texts and the patristic interpretation of them combining the insights of modern historical criticism with classical historical theology It promises to make a valuable contribution to both fields suggesting several new avenue into the study of early biblical literature and the development of Trinitarian theology Theological Education in Contemporary Africa Grant LeMarquand, Joseph D. Galgalo, 2004 Part One addresses Theological Foundations The five essays in this section deal with the Bible Theology and Ecumenism The subjects of theological methods contextual hermeneutics and appropriate curriculum are given special attention Of course even foundational issues cannot be discussed in a vacuum and so each of the essays addresses these foundational subjects in the light of African realities Part Two deals with Contemporary Issues It is particularly in this section that the traditional themes in African theology have been somewhat displaced by concerns which are today very pressing indeed Three essays are devoted to the question of HIV AIDS This disease which has devastated the African continent demands a theological and practical response from those who claim to follow Jesus Christ If the churches do not respond to this crisis with energy and determination we should not be surprised if the next generation wonders whether the Gospel has the power which we claim that it has Two essays address the question of Islam and Muslim Christian Relations in Africa The resurgence of Islam in the world today is a concern of many For those who believe in Jesus this is a challenge which demands much wisdom and love

How should we respond to our Muslim neighbours What are appropriate and thoughtful ways to share the love of Christ Two further essays appear under the title of The Marginalized This could of course be a much large section Those who suffer from AIDS could be included in this number and one might have expected to see at least one essay on the place of women In this volume however the disabled and youth are highlighted Both groups are clearly in need of the attention of the churches and both groups are clearly misunderstood and neglected The final section of Part Two contains essays which focus attention on Theological Paedagogy All of the other contributions to this volume make suggestions and arguments about curriculum resources and issues of concern for theological educators The causal aim of this book is that these essays may help us to reflect in an intentional way on the implications of contemporary realities for the future of theological education

Theological Education Underground Victoria J. Barnett, Claudia D. Bergmann, Dietrich Bonhoeffer, Scott A. Moore, 2011-11-01 Nearly all in translation for the first time these documents shed special light on Dietrich Bonhoeffer's work from the time of his underground seminary teaching through his sojourn at New York City and his return to the church struggle in Germany

Theological Education at Finkenwalde H. Gaylon Barker, Dietrich Bonhoeffer, Mark Brocker, Douglas W.

Stott, 2014-04-17 In the spring of 1935 Dietrich Bonhoeffer returned from England to direct a small illegal seminary for the Confessing Church. The seminary existed for two years before the Gestapo ordered it closed in August 1937. This volume includes bible studies, sermons, and lectures on homiletics, pastoral care, and catechesis, giving a moving and up-close portrait of the Confessing Church in these crucial years, the same period during which Bonhoeffer wrote his classics Discipleship and Life Together. Reappraising Durkheim for the Study and Teaching of Religion Today Idinopulos, Brian C.

Wilson, 2018-09-24 Reappraising Durkheim for the Study and Teaching of Religion Today is an occasion to critically analyze and reassess the work of this intellectual pioneer. It is also an effort to signal the continuing importance of Durkheim for today's graduate and advanced undergraduate classrooms. Reappraising Durkheim brings together ten new critical essays in which noted sociologists, psychologists, phenomenologists, philosophers, and historians of religion grapple with the questions Durkheim raised and the solutions he proposed. Taken together, the volume is a careful historical and multi-disciplinary study of Durkheim that will lead students to a better understanding of how to study religion. Reappraising Durkheim will be an excellent text for courses focusing on theory and method in the academic study of religion at both the graduate and advanced undergraduate level. It would therefore be appropriate for use in departments of religious studies, philosophy, sociology, and anthropology. A Theology of James, Peter, and Jude Peter H. Davids, 2014-10-20 In this volume Peter Davids offers a comprehensive study of the General or Catholic Epistles of James 1, 2 Peter, and Jude, which are often insufficiently covered in more general New Testament introductions, theologies, and surveys. Before discussing a theology of each of the four letters, Davids first deals with their common aspects: their shared background in the Greco-Roman world and a similar Christology; view of the source of sin and eschatology, thus justifying their being treated together. In the chapters that follow, Davids embarks upon a theological reading of each letter, informed by its social rhetorical understanding, what they meant in the context of their original cultural settings, including a survey of recent scholarship, a discussion of relevant introductory issues, a thematic commentary, a treatment of important theological themes, and a discussion of the place of the letter in the biblical canon and its contribution to New Testament theology. The Biblical Theology of the New Testament (BTNT) series provides upper college and seminary level textbooks for students of New Testament theology, interpretation, and exegesis. Pastors and discerning theology readers alike will also benefit from this series. Written at the highest level of academic excellence by recognized experts in the field, the BTNT series not only offers a comprehensive exploration of the theology of every book of the New Testament, including introductory issues and major themes, but also shows how each book relates to the broad picture of New Testament theology. The Indelible Image: The Theological and Ethical Thought World of the New Testament Ben Witherington III, 2010-02-08 In the first volume of his two-volume comprehensive overview of the theological and ethical thought world of the New Testament, Ben Witherington III focuses on expositional samplings of the theology and ethics of New Testament writers in context and closely examines the interrelations between New Testament theology and ethics

Theology of the New Testament Udo Schnelle, 2009-11 For a few decades jet packs seemed to be everywhere on Gilligan's Island Lost in Space Thunderball and even the opening ceremony of the 1984 Olympics Inventors promised we'd all be flying with them now enabling us to zoom around effortlessly in the sky and getting us to work without traffic jams and trains What happened to the jet pack In The Great American Jet Pack Steve Lehto gives us the definitive history of this and related devices explaining how the technology arose how it works and why we don't have them in our garages today These individual lift devices as they were blandly labeled by the government men who financed much of their development answered man's desire to simply step outside and take flight No runways no wings no pilot's license were required Soaring through the air with the wind in your face and landing anywhere there was room to stand could this be done Yes it could be and it was But the jet pack was perhaps the most overpromised technology of all time From the rocket belt to the jet belt to the flying platform and all the way to Yves Rossy's 21st century free flights using a jet powered wing this book profiles the inventors and pilots the hucksters and cheats the businessmen and soldiers who were involved with these machines And it finally tells a great American story of a technology whose promise may one day yet come to fruition Paul in the Summa Theologiae Matthew Levering, 2014 Aquinas's commentaries on St Paul are well known and have received significant attention in the past few years It is widely known too that Aquinas quotes Paul often in the Summa theologiae This aspect of the Summa however has not been studied in detail This book seeks to fill that lacuna in scholarship

Marketing and Christian Proclamation in Theological Perspective Emily Beth Hill, 2021-06-28 In today's market driven world the contemporary church faces pressing questions as it continues to be formed by the powerful forces of neoliberal capitalism This book builds on theological examinations of capitalism and consumerism to develop a theology of marketing that addresses two key questions First even though church marketing seems to help churches grow amidst a climate of declining church affiliation should the church use it Second considering the church's indistinguishability from culture in relation to consumption how should Christians relate to material goods To address these questions Emily Beth Hill develops a framework that draws on the concrete practices of marketing such as focus groups big data branding and advertising and the trajectory of their use over time along with Martin Luther's theology of the Word Combining Martin Luther's pro me for me theology with marketing concepts Hill shows that while marketing and the gospel have formal pro me similarities materially they are quite different marketing operates as a word of law distinct from the effective liberating word of the gospel proclaimed for us and thus the two produce different human identities While existing examinations of capitalism primarily rely on theologies and discourses of desire Hill reveals that a theology of the Word illuminates a fruitful new area for reflection on how the church can resist the deformations of capitalism

The Perfect Religion, A Beacon to the True Kingdom of God Phillip Cimei, 2019-01-23 Is there such a thing as a perfect religion If so then why are there over 34 000

branches of the Christian faith If there is one true body of believers why do some feel like the following I need to wander around from church to church because I m not satisfied I m afraid if I make a mistake I m hell bound I m stuck in a lukewarm church with members who are satisfied with a mediocre religious life I m tired of that one doctrinal point that defines my church and excludes other Christians I m not sure if what the preacher is teaching is correct but I m afraid to buck the system The author having embraced all of these distressing feelings takes the reader on an unprecedented treasure hunt to find that illusive perfect religion And after fifty years of digging he might have hit the mother lode the Sermon on the Mount Will it satisfy those still searching for the truth Will it reaffirm the faith of those who have found the treasure Will this truth set those shackled to a confused state free The author addresses the problem head on He weaves through the maze of controversy theological mumbo jumbo and religious opinions to give answers to why there is so much division in the church and why so many wandering souls are searching if not in their heart from church to church He uses captivating illustrations a girl with a moose a boy ravaged with a flesh eating disease and a vulture eyeballing a starving child to bring to life Christ s quest to show those wandering souls the way Are you brave enough to take the journey Will I truly find God you ask I love those who love Me and those who seek Me diligently will find Me Prov 8 17
