From Eco Cities To Living Machines Principles Of Ecological Design:

From Eco-cities to Living Machines Nancy Jack Todd, John Todd, 1994 From Eco cities to Living Machines presents the ecologically based working designs and prototypes of biologist John Todd and writer and environmental activist Nancy Todd Since 1969 with the founding of New Alchemy Institute on Cape Cod the Todds have become known world wide for their leadership in the restoration of pure water bioremediation of wild aquatic environments food production and urban design In this new book the Todds further develop the idea of Eco cities designs for integrating agriculture and flowing pure water into green urban settings and introduce Living Machines a family of technologies for purifying wastewaters to tertiary quality effluent without chemicals Provocative and grounded firmly in the principles of biodiversity the Todds work encompasses site specific technological interventions and systems wide ecological thinking It has already influenced a new generation of ecological planners and designers environmental economists and systems based engineers working to change the way we utilize production technology water and energy

Ecological Design, Tenth Anniversary Edition Sim Van der Ryn, Stuart Cowan, 2013-03-05 Ecological Design is a landmark volume that helped usher in an exciting new era in green design and sustainability planning Since its initial publication in 1996 the book has been critically important in sparking dialogue and triggering collaboration across spatial scales and design professions in pursuit of buildings products and landscapes with radically decreased environmental impacts This 10th anniversary edition makes the work available to a new generation of practitioners and thinkers concerned with moving our society onto a more sustainable path Using examples from architecture industrial ecology sustainable agriculture ecological wastewater treatment and many other fields Ecological Design provides a framework for integrating human design with living systems Drawing on complex systems ecology and early examples of green building and design the book challenges us to go further creating buildings infrastructures and landscapes that are truly restorative rather than merely diminishing the rate at which things are getting worse

Design for Ecological Democracy Randolph T. Hester, Jr., 2010-09-24 Shows how to combine the forces of ecological science and participatory democracy to design urban landscapes that enable us to act as communities are resilient rather than imperiled and touch our hearts Over the last fifty years the process of community building has been lost in the process of city building City and suburban design divides us from others in our communities destroys natural habitats and fails to provide a joyful context for our lives In Design for Ecological Democracy Randolph Hester proposes a remedy for our urban anomie He outlines new principles for urban design that will allow us to forge connections with our fellow citizens and our natural environment He demonstrates these principles with abundantly illustrated examples drawn from forty years of design and planning practice showing how we can design cities that are ecologically resilient that enhance community and that give us pleasure Hester argues that it is only by combining the powerful forces of ecology and democracy that the needed revolution in design will take place Democracy bestows freedom ecology creates responsible freedom by explaining our interconnectedness with all creatures Hester's new design principles are founded on three fundamental issues that integrate democracy and ecology enabling form resilient form and impelling form Urban design must enable us to be communities rather than zoning segregated enclaves and to function as informed democracies A simple bench at a centrally located post office for example provides an opportunity for connection and shared experience Cities must be ecologically resilient rather than ecologically imperiled adaptable to the surrounding ecology rather than dependent on technological fixes Resilient form turns increased urban density for example into an advantage And cities should impel us by joy rather than compel us by fear good cities enrich us rather than limit us Design for Ecological Democracy is essential reading for designers planners environmentalists community activists and anyone else who wants to improve a local community

Epistemologien des Umgebens Florian Sprenger, 2019-09-02 Der Aufstieg des Begriffs Environment zur Beschreibung der Gegenwart markiert den Einfluss den das Nachdenken über Umgebungsrelationen und die Möglichkeit der technischen Gestaltung künstlicher Umgebungen seit Mitte des 19. Jahrhunderts gewonnen haben In geschlossenen artifiziellen Welten wie Raumstationen oder künstlichen Ökosystemen wird die Verschränkung des Environments mit den umgebenen Organismen zum Gegenstand einer Biopolitik die heute in autonomen Technologien der Umgebungskontrolle neue Räume erschließt Florian Sprenger verfolgt diese Transformation kologischen Umgebungswissens mit dem Ziel gegenwärtige Technologien besser zu verstehen den Begriff unselbstverständlich zu machen und die biopolitische Dimension jeder Ökologie herauszuarbeiten

The Philosophy of Sustainable Design Jason F. McLennan, 2004

The author outlines the major ideas and issues that have emerged in the growing movement of green architecture and sustainable design over the last thirty years The book asks individuals to understand how the philosophy of sustainable design can affect their own work Design for Sustainability Janis Birkeland, 2012-05-04 With radical and innovative design solutions everyone could be living in buildings and settlements that are more like gardens than cargo containers and that purify air and water generate energy treat sewage and produce food at lower cost Birkeland introduces systems design thinking that cuts across academic and professional boundaries and the divide between social and physical sciences to move towards a transdisciplinary approach to environmental and social problem solving This sourcebook is useful for teaching as each topic within the field of environmental management and social change has pairs of short readings providing diverse perspectives to compare contrast and debate Design for Sustainability presents examples of integrated systems design based on ecological principles and concepts and drawn from the foremost designers in the fields of industrial design materials housing design urban planning and transport landscape and permaculture and energy and resource management

Technology and the Contested Meanings of Sustainability Aidan Davison, 2001-04-19 This transdisciplinary inquiry presents a new way of thinking about sustainability and technology that takes us beyond the familiar preoccupation with ecoefficiency and toward the contested moral question of what most nourishes our ability to care for our world In contrast to the technocratic aim of controlling a perilous future the author proposes that we develop the practical craft of sustenance Beginning with debates in environmental policy he draws upon recent philosophical interest in ecology technology and moral experience to argue that the challenge of sustainability is that of undermining those traditions that present technology as somehow external to our inherent moral ambiguity This discussion responds to the work of Langdon Winner Albert Borgmann Charles Taylor Martin Heidegger David Abram and others Mortal City Peter Lang, 1995 Urban violence increasingly dominates our day to day existence we watch footage of the earthquake in Japan the bombing of Chechnya the war in Bosnia and not so long ago the same year that war broke out in Bosnia we watched the horror of the Los Angeles riots As events in Sarajevo and Los Angeles demonstrate these crises continue without imminent resolutions The very definitions of the city and of violence are constantly being revised the city is no longer a fixed site but has hemorrhaged across real and imagined space while violence has moved beyond the traditional arenas of social conflict to pervade daily life Water

Infrastructure for Sustainable Communities Xiaodi Hao, Vladimir Novotny, Valerie Nelson, 2010-07-31 A new model for water management is emerging worldwide in response to water shortages polluted waterways climate change and loss of biodiversity Cities and towns are questioning the ecological and financial sustainability of big pipe water stormwater and sewer systems and are searching for lighter footprint more sustainable solutions Pilot projects are being built that use treat store and reuse water locally and that build distributed designs into restorative hydrology This book has been developed from the conference on Sustainable Water Infrastructure for Villages and Cities of the Future SWIF2009 held in November 2009 in

Beijing China that brought together an international gathering of experts in urban water and drainage infrastructure landscape architecture economics environmental law citizen participation utility management green building and science and technology development Water Infrastructure for Sustainable Communities China and the World reveals how imaginative concepts are being developed and implemented to ensure that cities towns and villages and their water resources can become ecologically sustainable and provide clean water With both urban and rural waters as a focal point the links between water quality and hydrology landscape and the broader concepts of green cities villages and smart development are explored The book focuses on decentralized concepts of potable water stormwater and wastewater management that would provide clean water It results in water management systems that would be resilient to extreme events such as excessive flows due to extreme meteorological events severe droughts and deteriorated water and urban ecosystem quality A particular emphasis is placed on learning lessons from the many innovative projects being designed in China and other initiatives around the world The principal audience for the book is university faculty and students scientists in research institutes water professionals governmental organizations NGOs urban landscape architects and planners Visit the IWA WaterWiki to read and share material related to this title <http://www.iwawaterwiki.org/xwiki/bin/view/Articles>

Bioclimatic Approaches in Urban and Building Design Giacomo Chiesa, 2021-01-04 This book explores the bioclimatic approach to building design Constant innovations in the field are evident including the need to face climate changes and increase the local resilience at different scales regional urban architectural Differently from other contributions this book provides a definition of the bioclimatic design approach following a technological and performance driven vision It includes one of the largest collection of research voices on the topic becoming also a critical reference work for bioclimatic theory It is intended for architects engineers researchers and technicians who have professional and research interests in bioclimatic and in sustainable and technological design issues

Building for Life Stephen R. Kellert, 2012-09-26 Sustainable design has made great strides in recent years unfortunately it still falls short of fully integrating nature into our built environment Through a groundbreaking new paradigm of restorative environmental design award winning author Stephen R Kellert proposes a new architectural model of sustainability In Building For Life Kellert examines the fundamental interconnectedness of people and nature and how the loss of this connection results in a diminished quality of life This thoughtful new work illustrates how architects and designers can use simple methods to address our innate needs for contact with nature Through the use of natural lighting ventilation and materials as well as more unexpected methodologies the use of metaphor perspective enticement and symbol architects can greatly enhance our daily lives These design techniques foster intellectual development relaxation and physical and emotional well being In the works of architects like Frank Lloyd Wright Eero Saarinen Cesar Pelli Norman Foster and Michael Hopkins Kellert sees the success of these strategies and presents models for moving forward Ultimately Kellert views our fractured relationship with nature as a design problem rather than an unavoidable aspect of modern life and he proposes many practical and creative solutions for cultivating a more rewarding experience of nature in our built environment

Designing for Hope Dominique Hes,Chrisna du Plessis,2014-10-17 A forward looking book on sustainable design that describes problems and then by providing a different way to conceptualise design and development leads on to examples of regenerative solutions Its aim is to move the discussion away from doing less but still detracting from our ecological capital to positively contributing and adding to this capital This book offers a hopeful response to the often frightening changes and challenges we face arguing that we can actively create a positive and abundant future through mindful contributive engagement that is rooted in a living systems based worldview Concepts and practices such as Regenerative Development Biophilic Design Biomimicry Permaculture and Positive Development are explored through interviews and case studies from the built environment to try and answer questions such as How can projects focus on creating a positive ecological footprint and contribute to community How can we as practitioners restore and enrich the relationships in our projects and How does design focus hope and create a positive legacy

Urban Ecology Richard T. T. Forman,2014-02-13 The first richly illustrated worldwide portrayal of urban ecology tying together organisms built structures and the physical environment around cities

Art, Culture and International Development John Clammer,2014-11-13 Culture is not simply an explanation of last resort but is itself a rich multifaceted and contested concept and set of practices that needs to be expanded appreciated and applied in fresh ways if it is to be both valued in itself and to be of use in practical development This innovative book places culture specifically in the form of the arts back at the centre of debates in development studies by introducing new ways of conceptualizing art in relation to development The book shows how the arts and development are related in very practical ways as means to achieve development goals through visual dramatic filmic and craft inspired ways It advocates not so much culture and development but rather for the development of culture Without a cultural content to economic and social transformation the problems found in much development up rooting of cultures loss of art forms languages and modes of expression and performance may only accelerate Paying attention to the development of the arts as the content of development helps to amend this culturally destructive process Finally the book argues for the value of the arts in attaining sustainable cultures promoting poverty alleviation encouraging self empowerment stimulating creativity and the social imagination which in turn flow back into wider processes of social transformation Discussion questions at the end of each chapter make this book ideal to help foster further thinking and debate This book is an inspiring read for postgraduate students and researchers in the fields of development studies cultural studies and sociology of development

Handbook of the Circular Economy Allen Alexander,Stefano Pascucci,Fiona Charnley,2023-03-20

The Rise of Awards in Architecture Jean-Pierre Chupin, Carmela Cucuzzella, Georges Adamczyk, 2022-09-06 This book is the first scientific study to focus on awards in architecture and the built environment investigating their exponential growth since the 1980s The celebration of excellence in architecture and related fields remains a phenomenon on which there is strangely little scientific scrutiny What is to be understood from the plethora of award winning projects award winning buildings and awarded professional practices in the built environment year after year Glossy images partake in an intense ballet at every local regional national or international award ceremony and they are meant to embody proofs of architectural excellence However it is necessary to take a critical distance to question what awards are meant to embody symbolize and perhaps measure Each of the 10 chapters in this volume is centered on one question related to themes as varied as the comparison of Pritzker and Nobel Prizes the Prix de Rome the redefinition of quality through awards green awards and sustainability the multiplication of sustainable awards heritage awards architecture book awards the awarding of school architecture awards as mediations and awards as pedagogical devices Many fields once consolidated have featured a sharp increase in related prizes The original data compiled and summarized in 4 appendices cover more than 150 award granting organizations in some 30 countries Our inventory includes upwards of 24 000 prizes awarded at more than 3 100 events the earliest of which is the first instance of Western architecture s seminal Grand Prix de Rome in France in 1720 A history of contemporary architecture is thus written through press releases that praise the merits of the heroes as much as their works and achievements And while awards can be vehicles that propel architecture forward they can also be Trojan horses in an era that is constantly on the lookout for event driven products small and big news and brand imaging Regenerative

Sanitation Thammarat Koottatep, Peter Emmanuel Cookey, Chongrak Polprasert, 2019-02-15 This book proposes Regenerative Sanitation as the next era of sanitation management and attempts to provide a foundation for the study of sanitation on the premise that sanitation is a complex and dynamic system that comprises of social ecological technological and resource systems The preconception is that sanitation will deliver maximal benefits to society only when there exists a cyclical integration of the three subsystems to enable appropriate linkages between technological design and the delivery platform so as to achieve optimal and sustained sanitation solutions. It also calls for the rethinking of sanitation to change the narrative towards more progressive trajectories such as resource recovery and reuse rather than just amelioration. It explores the contributions to food security, livelihood support, urban regeneration, rural development and even local economies. A new paradigm theory and ten principles for ensuring practical and effective sanitation solutions and management is presented. In addition is a unique conceptual framework applicable to both developed and developing countries and to all stages, processes and cycles of delivering sanitation solutions that could critically evaluate, analyse and provide credible, adequate and appropriate sanitation solutions. All of which culminates in a strategic and practical application platform called Sanitation 4.0 that advocates for total rejuvenation and comprehensive overhaul with eight key strategic considerations for the implementation of Regenerative Sanitation. A New Paradigm For Sanitation 4.0 is inter and trans disciplinary and encourages collaboration between engineers, scientists, technologists, social scientists and others to provide effective and practical, user-centred solutions. It includes relevant case studies, examples, exercises and future research recommendations. It is written as both a textbook for researchers and students as well as a practitioners' guide for policymakers and professionals.

Media and the Ecological Crisis Richard Maxwell, Jon Raundalen, Nina Lager Vestberg, 2014-10-03. Media and the Ecological Crisis is a collaborative work of interdisciplinary writers engaged in mapping, understanding and addressing the complex contribution of media to the current ecological crisis. The book is informed by a fusion of scholarly, practitioner and activist interests to inform, educate and advocate for real environmentally sound changes in design, policy, industrial and consumer practices. Aligned with an emerging area of scholarship devoted to identifying and analysing the material, physical links of media technologies, cultural production and environment, it contributes to the project of greening media studies by raising awareness of media technology's concrete environmental effects.
