Introduction

This ungraded summary is for the teacher's use only and should not be given to students.

The stories

The Guests was written by Huseyin Rahmi Gurbinar. This story shows how difficult it is to be truthful and polite to visitors who stay too long. The women of the house have a meeting and complain bitterly about the food their guests eat, about the bad behaviour of the children, and the fact that their guest borrows clothes from them. The guest overhears their conversation and is terribly upset. She comes with her children to thank her hosts and to say goodbye. The host family are overcome with remorse and beg the family to stay on with them.

The Picture of the Year 2000 was written by Ayse Kilinci. The problems of moving from the village to the city are described through Guldiken's conversation with his mother about a piece of parchment which he gave to his teacher. The mother wants Guldiken to explain to his teacher that the change from village to city life has not been easy. Guldiken tells his mother that, although his teacher did not appreciate the present he gave her, he was able to turn the gift into something special by drawing a picture of the sun for the picture competition. Guldiken cannot imagine the year 2000 in the same way as the other children in his school, but he creates an unusual image for the year 2000.

The Horse of Death was written by Salt Fik Abasiyanik. It describes the death of a little boy from measles. This story, although it deals with the death of a child, does not leave an impression of tragedy, because the implication is that Unal's death was inevitable. Unal has measles and his grandmother tries to ensure that he stays in bed by telling him that the measles spots can cause his death. But, because he is bored, Unal refuses to obey her. He is fascinated by the black horse which he can see in the toyshop. After dark, Unal leaves his house and enters the toyshop unobserved. He rides the horse, faster and faster. At first he feels very cold, but then he gets very warm, until he seems to burn like fire. The next day, Unal is found dead on the horse, and they are buried together.

The Little Hunters at the Lake was written by Yelvac Unal. This story describes how a group of boys goes hunting, like the men of the village. Hikmet takes his father's gun and the boys attempt to shoot some ducks. They do not realise that they should wait till evening, and so they spoil the hunt for the real hunters. The narrator shoots at some birds in the sky. Two birds fall to the ground, but one of them flies away. They take the dead bird to the birdseller who tells them that they have killed a crane, regarded as the symbol of love because of its devotion to its mate. The boys bury the bird, and later when they go back to the grave, they discover that the second crane has also died. The boys bury both birds and cover the grave with snowdrops. In the spring, another pair of cranes brings the boys snowdrops. The boys know that they have been forgiven.

Before Reading

Here are some ways to help your students approach the story:

- 1 Give students the title of the book and show them the picture on the cover. Ask them to try and guess what kind of story it is.
- 2 Ask the students to read the text on the back cover of the book, and the story introduction on the first page. Then ask them a few questions about the story, or use the Before Reading Activities in the back of each Bookworm.
- 3 Use the pre-reading activity in this worksheet.
- 4 If there is a recording of this title, play the first few pages and stop at an interesting point.
