Legal Capital in Europe Marcus Lutter, 2011-12-22 Europe has known very different systems of company laws for a long time These differences do not only pertain to the board structures of public companies where single tier and two tier structures can be distinguished they also pertain to the principles of fixed legal capital Fixed legal capital is not a traditional ingredient of English and Irish company law and had to be incorpo rated into these legal systems only for public limited companies according to the Second European Company Law Directive of 1976 Both jurisdictions have never really embraced these rules Against this background the British Accounting Standards Board ASB and the Company Law Centre at the British Institute of International and Comparative Law BIICL have initiated and supported a study of the benefits of this legal system by a group of experts led by Jonathan Rickford The report of this group has been published in 2004 Its result was that legal capital was costly and superfluous hence the Second Directive should be repealed The British government has adopted this view and wants the European Commission to act accordingly Against this background a group of German and European company law experts academics as well as practitioners have come together to scrutinise sense and benefits of fixed legal capital and all its specific elements guided by the following questions What is the relevant legal concept supposed to achieve What does it achieve in reality What criticisms are there Which proposals or alternatives are available From the outset the group of experts has endeavoured to cooperate with foreign colleagues which resulted in very fruitful and pleasant exchanges This volume contains besides an executive summary of the results 16 essays on specific aspects of legal capital in

Germany covering also neighbouring fields of law e.g. accounting insolvency 7 reports on fixed legal capital in other jurisdictions France Great Britain Italy the Netherlands Poland Spain and the U.S.A. addressing the same questions as the essays on German law The British initiative disapproves of the Second Directive The Directive does only deal with public limited companies in Europe which is reflected in the analysis presented here It is only concerned with the fixed legal capital of public limited companies not with capital issues of private companies The study has arrived at a result that differs completely from that of the Rickford group It verifies the usefulness of the concept of fixed legal capital and wishes to convince the European Commission of the benefits of the Second Company Law Directive

The Lisbon stock exchange in the twentieth century Maria Eugénia Mata, José Rodrigues da Costa, David Justino, 2017-04-30 This book addresses both domestic and foreign readers and for that reason appears in English Following the survey of history of the Lisbon Exchange published in 1996 by David Justino the present text extends that medieval period to the Nineteenth century analysis to the present day Many other Stock Exchanges in Europe and elsewhere have been studied and published by many authors but no comparable book for Portugal has existed until the present work The text is accessible to medium knowledge readers In a world of internationalization of corporations and financial institutions it is paramount that they be able to mobilize the capacities of the Capital Market to finance the economy and to possess a thorough understanding of the role of a Stock Exchange for the efficient working of that market Portugal is a case of great interest to developing countries as it was able to re-instate the market after 1974 and with such success that the country joined the European Union in 1986 and the innovative Euronext Group of Stock Exchanges in 2002 The book discloses for the first time a database used to calculate a share index that was developed over three years with the help of the FCT grant PTDC/HIS/HIS/100132/2008 and using a methodology that makes that index comparable to common international indices and compatible with the General Index computed daily by the Exchange
