Fiero, 2006. The Humanistic Tradition is quite simply the finest book of its type. It is a masterpiece of scholarship, balanced, interesting, easy to read, and consummately beautiful. Our professors praise its accuracy and scope, and our students unanimously say it is their favorite textbook. Sonia Sorrell, Pepperdine University. The Humanistic Tradition features a flexible, topical approach that helps students understand humankind's creative legacy as a continuum rather than as a series of isolated events. This widely acclaimed interdisciplinary survey offers a global perspective, countless illustrations, and more than 150 literary sources. Available in multiple formats The Humanistic Tradition explores the political, economic, and social contexts of human culture, providing a global and multicultural perspective which helps students better understand the relationship between the West and other world cultures. The Call of Conscience Michael J. Hyde, 2001. This study considers the relationship between the phenomenon of conscience and the practice of rhetoric as it relates to one of the most controversial issues of our time: euthanasia. The author offers an extensive treatment of Heidegger's and Levinas' philosophical investigations of conscience. Platonic Architectonics John Shannon Hendrix, 2004. Platonic Architectonics: Platonic Philosophies of the Visual Arts examines philosophical structures of Plato in their structural, spatial, and architectonic implications. It examines elements of Plato's philosophical systems in relation to other philosophical systems, including those of Anaximander, Plotinus, Proclus, Nicolas Cusanus, Marsilio Ficino, Georges Bataille, Jacques Lacan, and Jacques Derrida. It also examines Plato's philosophy in relation to architectonic conceptions in the arts, including the work of Leon Battista Alberti and Piero della Francesca in the Renaissance, Paul Cézanne and the Cubists, and Deconstructivists in the twentieth century. Platonic Architectonics presents new interpretations of philosophical texts, artistic treatises, and works of art and architecture in Western culture as they are interrelated and related to Platonic and Neoplatonic philosophical structures. It demonstrates the importance of philosophy in the production of the visual arts throughout history and the importance of the relation between the work of art and the philosophical text and artistic treatise. Whitman's Ecstatic Union Michael Sowder, 2013-10-31. First Published in 2005. Whitman's Ecstatic Union rereads the first three editions of Leaves of Grass within the context of a nineteenth-century antebellum evangelical culture of conversion. Though Whitman intended to write a new American Bible and inaugurate a religion, contemporary scholarship has often ignored the religious element in his poetry. But just as evangelists sought the redemption of America through the reconstruction of individual subjects in conversion.

Leaves of Grass sought to redeem the nation by inducing ecstatic regenerating experiences in its readers Whitman's Ecstatic Union explores the ecstasy of conversion as a liminal moment outside of language and culture and employing Althusser's model of ideological interpellation and anthropological models of religious ritual shows how evangelicalism remade subjects by inducing ecstasy and instilling new narratives of identity The book analyzes Whitman's historical relationship to preaching and conversion and reads the 1855 Song of Myself as a conversion narrative A focus on the 1856 edition and the poem To You explores the sacred seductions at the heart of Whitman's poetry Crossing Brooklyn Ferry and Whitman's vision of a world of perfect miracles are then connected to a conception of universal affection uncannily paralleling Jonathan Edwards' ideal of love to being in general A conclusion looks toward the transformations of Whitman's vision in the 1860 edition
