Proceedings of the ... Annual Boston University Conference on Language Development ,1998 Language History Andrew L. Sihler,2000 This classroom tested volume aspires to be a brief but technically and factually accurate exposition of linguistic description and history Whether studied as prime subject or as background information it should help students understand the assumptions and reasoning that underlie the contents of their handbooks and etymological dictionaries This book should be a useful guide for anyone unfamiliar with historical linguistics who is studying the history of a language and also for those who are enrolled in courses devoted to reading texts in old languages

Morphology and Language History Claire Boweren,Bethwyn Evans,Luisa Miceli,2008 This volume aims to make a contribution to codifying the methods and practices linguists use to recover language history focussing predominantly on historical morphology The volume includes studies on a wide range of languages not only Indo European but also Austronesian Sinitic Mon Khmer Basque one Papuan language family as well as a number of Australian families Few collections are as cross linguistic as this reflecting the new challenges which have emerged from the study of languages outside those best known from historical linguistics The contributors illustrate shared methodological and theoretical issues concerning genetic relatedness that is the use of morphological evidence for classification and subgrouping reconstruction and processes of change with a diverse range of data The volume is in honour of Harold Koch who has long combined innovative research on understudied languages with methodological rigour and codification of practices within the discipline Science Education Research and Practice in Asia Mei-Hung Chiu, 2016-06-10 This book discusses the scope of science education research and practice in Asia It is divided into five sections the first consists of nine chapters providing overviews of science education in Asia China Lebanon Macau Malaysia Mongolia Oman Singapore Taiwan and Thailand The second section offers chapters on content analysis of research articles while the third includes three chapters on assessment and curriculum The fourth section includes four chapters on innovative technology in science education and the fifth section consists of four chapters on professional development and informal learning Each section also has additional chapters providing specific comments on the content This collection of works provides readers with a starting point to better understand the current state of science education in Asia

Language Typology Alice Caffarel, J. R. Martin, Christian M. I. M. Matthiessen, 2004 This book is intended as a systemic functional contribution to language typology both for those who would like to understand and describe particular languages against the background of generalizations about a wide range of languages and also for those who would like to develop typological accounts that are based on and embody descriptions of the systems of particular languages rather than isolated constructions The book is a unique contribution in at least two respects On the one hand it is the first book based on systemic functional theory that is specifically concerned with language typology On the other hand the book combines the particular with the general in the description of languages it presents comparable sketches of particular languages while at the same time identifying generalizations based on the languages described here as well as on other languages The volume explores eight languages covering seven language families French German Pitjantjatjara Tagalog Telugu Vietnamese Chinese and Japanese A Dictionary of the English Language Joseph Emerson Worcester, 1859 Universal Dictionary of the English Language, 1896 Simultaneity in Signed Languages Myriam Vermeerbergen, Lorraine Leeson, Onno A. Crasborn, 2007-02-21 Signed language users can draw on a range of articulators when expressing linguistic messages including the hands torso eye gaze and mouth Sometimes these articulators work in tandem to produce one lexical item while in other instances they operate to convey different types of information simultaneously Over the past fifteen years there has been a growing interest in the issue of simultaneity in signed languages However this book is the first to offer a comprehensive treatment of this topic presenting a collection of papers dealing with different aspects of simultaneity in a range of related and unrelated signed languages in descriptive and cross linguistic treatments which are set in different theoretical frameworks This volume has relevance for those interested in sign linguistics in teaching and learning signed languages and is also highly recommended to anyone interested in the fundamental underpinnings of human language and the effects of signed versus spoken modality
