

I tend to be most interested in the kinds of people that don't sweeten or dilute themselves for the sake of people's tastes.
Who never soften the blow for who they are. I prefer the people that I connect with to be full strength and searing hot. And able to rouse my weary, idle heart.

environment and intense stress that results in depression anxiety and an acquired somatic nervous disorder called tinnitus. Through it all she never gives up; instead, looking for the help she needs to start to heal and find her light. In the end, like the metamorphosis from caterpillar to butterfly, this story is a beautiful love letter that honors Nocero's mother's legacy while detailing the awakening of her own. There are many stories about breast cancer and grief, but none are quite like this one. Throughout her tale, Nocero pulls the reader deep into her story through the intensity of her emotions, and in the end, after resigning from her career as a federal prosecutor due to a toxic administration, she searches for the lighthouse she saw in a vision when her mother died. Embarking on a spiritual pilgrimage on El Camino de Santiago in Northern Spain to get to the lighthouse at Cap Finisterre, she sets out to wake up and live again. The butterfly connection and stark honesty of her writing offers readers important lessons learned from moving through grief so that each person can shine their light again.
