

Later Modern Era (LMA):

Atlantic Revolutions:

- The Enlightenment gave inspiration for the American Revolution
- Reasons for the American Revolution include no taxation without representation, desire for self-government, and opposition to recent British policies
- The Declaration of Independence signed in 1776 made the United States separate from British politics
- The U.S constitution ratified 3 branches of government, a bicameral legislature, and president
- The French Revolution was caused by an absolute government and old social regimes
- The three estates include the nobility, the clergy and everyone else
- The French government was led by monarch king Louis XVI and Marie Antionette
- Due to enlightenment ideas, French society no longer accepted the divine right of kings
- Also financial crisis hurt the government due to the recent war with the british
- The meeting of the estates general took place in (1780/1789)
- The meeting ended with the third estate taking the Tennis Court oath and form the National Assembly
- Soon after the National Assembly stormed the Bastille prison and issued the "Declaration of the Rights of Man and Citizen"
- The declaration turned France into a Constitutional monarchy
- In 1791, the monarchs of France were taken to Paris and held as prisoners
- In 1793, the revolution turned radical with the invention of the guillotine
- Soon the monarchy was overthrown, and France became a Republic led by the committee of Public Safety and political figure Robespierre
- The Reign of terror was a time where anyone believed to doubt the Revolution was executed
- The Haitian Revolution began as a Slave Revolt and was led by Toussaint L' Ouverture, a former slave
- In 1801, the Haitian constitution granted equality and citizenship to all
- The revolution was successful but ended with the murder of L'Ouverture in 1803
- The creoles led many revolts in Latin America during the 1800s

The Patchwork of World History in Texas High Schools Stephen Jackson, 2022-11-30 This book traces the historical development of the World History course as it has been taught in high school classrooms in Texas a populous and nationally influential state over the last hundred years Arguing that the course is a result of a patchwork of competing groups and ideas that have intersected over the past century with each new framework patched over but never completely erased or replaced the author crucially examines themes of imperialism Eurocentrism and nationalism in both textbooks and the curriculum more broadly The first part of the book presents an overview of the World History course supported by numerical analysis of textbook content and public documents while the second focuses on the depiction of non Western peoples and persistent narratives of Eurocentrism and nationalism It ultimately offers that a more global accurate and balanced curriculum is possible despite the tension between the ideas of professional world historians who often de center the nation state in their quest for a truly global approach to the subject and the historical core rationale of state sponsored education in the United States to produce loyal citizens Offering a new conceptual understanding of how colonial themes in World History curriculum have been dealt with in the past and are now engaged with in contemporary times it provides essential context for scholars and educators with interests in the history of education curriculum studies and the teaching of World History in the United States
