Libros que hay que leer El preu de ser mare Júlia Bacardit, 2020-11-16 Durant els primers anys del segle XXI hi ha hagut un gran augment dels tractaments de reproducció assistida. Les causes són diverses: la caiguda de la fertilitat i el estil de vida i la precarització económica i social entre d'altres. La tecnologia es una benedicció per tant, però implica riscos i incerteses. Molts tractaments exigeixen l's d'altres donants. A diferència del que passa a molts països de la UE a Espanya, la donació es considera nòmnia i així funciona com un doble incentiu: anima moltes dones en situacions precàries a donar vells a canvi d'una compensació d'entre 900 i 1.200 euros i moltes dones i parelles estrangeres viatgen a Espanya per comprar aquests vells. Sense garantia d'anonimatat, les donants s'exposarien a que les criatures nasquides dels seus vells poguessin contactar-les quan fossin majors d'edat, com passa a molts països. El dret a la donació es garantida per la legislación nacional e internacional, i les donacions anònimies les contradueixen. Legalment, cap dona pot donar vells més de tres vegades i el maximum de criaturas que poden nàixer dels seus vells es sis, per no haber cap registre centralitzat que ho controli. Al nostre país, una dona pot donar tantes vegades com vulgui, sigui per altruisme, per la recompensa económica o per totes dues coses, sense gairebé cap control assumint riscos per a la seva salut actual i futura, sense que les clínicas en siguin responsables. Què en fem de les desenes de milers d'embriones congelados que hi ha a Catalunya? Podem parlar de ovidonació, pero no de venta. La donació ha de ser una sortida económica desesperada per noies joves i precarias. Hauríem de replantejar-nos l'imperativi de la maternitat a qualsevol preu o hem de donar via lliure als avales de la reproducción asistida.
