Bellway Homes North East Residential Development:

Local Policy for Housing Development Roelof Verhage, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2002 When a developer wants to realize a housing scheme what can the local planning authority do to assure that the resulting residential environment is of a high quality This book explores the question through a cross national comparison of housing development processes in The Netherlands the United Kingdom Germany and France It analyzes how decisions about the residential environment are made in different situations and by whom By applying this analysis to housing development processes in different countries the book paints a picture of how public policy and market mechanisms together influence the development of housing From this conclusions are drawn about how local planning authorities can achieve their objectives concerning the quality of housing areas

Nature Swapped and Nature Lost Elia Apostolopoulou, 2020-06-23 This book unravels the profound implications of biodiversity offsetting for nature society relationships and its links to environmental and social inequality Drawing on people s resistance against its implementation in several urban and rural places across England it explores how the production of equivalent natures the core promise of offsetting reframes socionatures both discursively and materially transforming places and livelihoods The book draws on theories and concepts from human geography political ecology and Marxist political economy and aims to shift the trajectory of the current literature on the interplay between offsetting urbanization and the neoliberal reconstruction of conservation and planning policies in the era following the 2008 financial crash By shedding light on offsetting s contested geographies it offers a fundamental retheorization of offsetting capable of demonstrating how offsetting and more broadly revanchist neoliberal policies are increasingly used to support capitalist urban growth producing socially environmentally and geographically uneven outcomes Nature Swapped and Nature Lost brings forward an understanding of environmental politics as class politics and sees environmental justice as inextricably linked to social justice It effectively challenges the dystopia of offsetting s ahistorical and asocial non places and proposes a radically different pathway for gaining social control over the production of nature by linking struggles for the right to the city with struggles for the right to nature for all Planning , 2009 New Labour and Planning Phil Allmendinger, 2011-01-17 Allmendinger presents a thorough analysis of the planning system throughout the years of the Labour government and what this means for the future of UK planning policy The Housing Design

Handbook David Levitt, 2012-12-06 How well have architects succeeded in building housing and what lessons can be learned from their triumphs and failures The Housing Design Handbook will give you a complete understanding of what makes successful housing design Through the analysis of work by Levitt Bernstein and a wide range of other UK practices it illustrates good design principles and accumulates a wealth of knowledge in a readily accessible format for the first time Written by a recognised authority in the field the book provides a range of cases to illustrate the way that different issues in the design of housing have been approached and with what degree of success a review of the place of housing as the most significant built form in the urban landscape an understanding of the importance of achieving a sense of place as the bedrock of social continuity a discussion of how flexibility might be achieved in order to accommodate future changes in housing need if wholesale demolition and replacement is to be avoided more recent examples which explore why certain social groupings are more resistant to design innovation than others and why there has been such an architectural breakthrough in market led higher density urban living David Levitt examines the ideas behind the schemes and assesses how successful and sustainable those ideas have proved making this an essential reference for professionals and students practicing and studying the design and commissioning of housing
