All things must pass. The lives and deaths of rock Christophe Pirenne, 2021-03-10 Even before Elvis Presley recorded his first album rock had been pronounced dead and gone For seven decades the stream of contradictory statements has never run dry For some rock must be discussed in the past tense while for others its future remains bright What do these views mean What arguments are they based on What do they tell us about our cultural practices and our relation to time While the answers are not decisive we can at least affirm to paraphrase Frank Zappa that if rock isn t dead it just smells funny Christophe Pirenne teaches music history and cultural politics at the Universities of Liège and Louvain-la-Neuve. In addition to his works on rock, he is also interested in Belgium's musical life in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. He is a member of the Royal Academy of Belgium.

Leveraging Gender, Youth and Social Networks for Inclusive and Transformative Livestock Production in the Tropics and Subtropics Stefan Burkart, Renee Marie Bullock, Juan Andrés Cardoso Arango, Marcela Ramos, Natalia Triana Angel, 2024-10-14 Social research has provided critical insights into understanding gender and generational gaps and the ways that power relations create differentiated access to agricultural and livestock technologies and services. Many of these technologies and services, such as improved feed options, grass-legume associations, silvo-pastoral systems, improved animal genetics, health and welfare, grazing management, and associated water and soil health and manure management, have the potential to improve livelihoods, sustainability, food security, and generational transfer dynamics. Their adoption contributes to mitigating many of the impacts the livestock sector has on the environment, through, for example, reducing greenhouse gas emissions and deforestation, increasing biodiversity, restoration, and land sparing. Likewise, their adoption helps producers adapt to climate change.

Finding Faith in Foreign Policy Gregorio Bettiza, 2019-06-04 Since the end of the Cold War, religion has become an ever more explicit and systematic focus of US foreign policy across multiple domains. US foreign policymakers, for instance, have been increasingly tasked with monitoring religious freedom and promoting it globally, delivering humanitarian and development aid abroad by drawing on faith-based organizations, fighting global terrorism by seeking to reform Muslim societies and Islamic theologies, and advancing American interests and values more broadly worldwide by engaging with religious actors and dynamics. Simply put, religion has become a major subject and object of American foreign policy in ways that were unimaginable just a few decades ago. In Finding Faith in Foreign Policy, Gregorio Bettiza explains the causes and consequences of this shift by developing an original theoretical framework and drawing upon extensive empirical research and interviews. He argues that American foreign policy and religious forces have become ever more inextricably entangled in an age witnessing a global resurgence of religion and the emergence of a postsecular world society. He further shows how the boundaries between faith and state have been redefined through processes of desecularization in the context of American foreign policy, leading the most powerful state in the international system to intervene and reshape in increasingly sustained ways sacred and secular landscapes around the globe. Drawing from a rich evidentiary base spanning twenty-five years, Finding Faith in Foreign Policy details how a wave of religious enthusiasm has transformed not just American foreign policy but the entire international system.

Nietzsche on Consciousness and the Embodied Mind Manuel Dries, 2018-09-10 Nietzsche's thought has been of renewed interest to philosophers in both the Anglo-American and the phenomenological and hermeneutic traditions. Nietzsche on Consciousness and the Embodied Mind presents 16 essays from analytic and continental perspectives. Appealing to both international communities of scholars, the volume seeks to deepen the appreciation of Nietzsche's contribution to our understanding of consciousness and the mind.

Over the past decades a variety of disciplines have engaged with Nietzsche's thought including anthropology biology history linguistics neuroscience and psychology to name just a few His rich and perspicacious treatment of consciousness mind and body cannot be reduced to any single discipline and has the potential to speak to many And as several contributors make clear Nietzsche's investigations into consciousness and the embodied mind are integral to his wider ethical concerns This volume contains contributions by international experts such as Christa Davis Acampora Emory University Keith Ansell Pearson Warwick University João Constâncio Universidade Nova de Lisboa Frank Chouraqui Leiden University Manuel Dries The Open University Oxford University Christian J Emden Rice University Maria Cristina Fornari University of Salento Anthony K Jensen Providence College Helmut Heit Tongji University Charlie Huenemann Utah State University Vanessa Lemm Flinders University Lawrence J Hatab Old Dominion University Mattia Riccardi University of Porto Friedrich Ulfers and Mark Daniel Cohen New York University and EGS and Benedetta Zavatta CNRS Anthropogenic Disturbances in the Deep Sea Ricardo Serrão Santos, Christopher Kim Pham, Jeroen Ingels, 2020-01-15 Daily Variety, 1959
