The Genuine Teachers of This Art Jeffrey Walker, 2012-12-07 Genuine Teachers of This Art examines the techn or handbook tradition which it controversially suggests began with Isocrates as the central tradition in ancient rhetoric and a potential model for contemporary rhetoric From this innovative perspective Jeffrey Walker offers reconsiderations of rhetorical theories and schoolroom practices from early to late antiquity as the true aim of the philosophical rhetoric of Isocrates and as the distinctive expression of what Cicero called the genuine teachers of this art Walker makes a case for considering rhetoric not as an Aristotelian critical theoretical discipline but as an Isocratean pedagogical discipline in which the art of rhetoric is neither an art of producing critical theory nor even an art of producing speeches and texts but an art of producing speakers and writers He grounds his study in pedagogical theses mined from revealing against the grain readings of Cicero Isocrates and Dionysius of Halicarnassus Walker also locates supporting examples from a host of other sources including Aelius Theon Aphthonius the Rhetoric to Alexander the Rhetoric to Herennius Quintilian Hermogenes Hermagoras Lucian Libanius Apollonius the Anonymous Seguerianus and fragments of ancient student writing preserved in papyri Walker's epilogue considers the relevance of the ancient techn tradition for the modern discipline of rhetoric arguing that rhetoric is defined foremost by its pedagogical enterprise
