Partisan Investment in the Global Economy Pablo M. Pinto, 2013-03-25 Pinto develops a partisan theory of foreign direct investment FDI arguing that left wing governments choose policies that allow easier entry by foreign investors more than right wing governments and that foreign investors prefer to invest in countries governed by the left To reach this determination the book derives the conditions under which investment flows should be expected to affect the relative demand for the services supplied by economic actors in host countries Based on these expected distributive consequences a political economy model of the regulation of FDI and changes in investment performance within countries and over time is developed The theory is tested using both cross national statistical analysis and two case studies exploring the development of the foreign investment regimes and their performance over the past century in Argentina and South Korea

Pinkston, 2008 North Korea's nuclear weapons and ballistic missile programs have drawn international attention for years In the early 1960s Pyongyang began to pursue the capability to produce advanced weapons systems including rockets and missiles However foreign assistance and technology particularly from China and the Soviet Union were instrumental in the acquisition of these capabilities The ballistic missile inventory now totals about 800 road mobile missiles including about 200 Nodong missiles that could strike Japan In April 2007 North Korea for the first time displayed two new missiles a short range tactical missile that poses a threat to Seoul and U S Forces in South Korea and an intermediate range missile that could potentially strike Guam Although North Korea has not demonstrated the ability to produce a nuclear warhead package for its missiles its missiles are believed to be capable of delivering chemical and possibly biological munitions North Korean media and government officials claim the country needs a nuclear deterrent to cope with the hostile policy of the United States but Pyongyang has never officially abandoned its objective of completing the revolution in the south Little is known about North Korean military doctrine and the role of its ballistic missiles but National Defense Commission Chairman Kim Chong il has ultimate authority over their disposition North Korea in Transition Kyung-Ae Park, Scott Snyder, 2012-10-05 Following the death of Kim Jong Il North Korea has entered a period of profound transformation laden with uncertainty This authoritative book brings together the world's leading North Korea experts to analyze both the challenges and prospects the country is facing Drawing on the contributors expertise across a range of disciplines the book examines North Korea's political economic social and foreign policy concerns Considering the implications for Pyongyang's transition it focuses especially on the transformation of ideology the Worker's Party of Korea the military effects of the Arab Spring the emerging merchant class cultural infiltration from the South Western aid and global economic integration The contributors also assess

The Black Box Victor D. Cha, 2024-09-03 North Korea is commonly thought of as the most mysterious place in the world The country is marked by its opacity and inaccessibility its inner workings seen as impossible for outsiders to grasp In this groundbreaking book the leading scholar and practitioner Victor D Cha shines a light into the black box of North Korea and draws critical lessons for the possible reunification of Korea after many decades of division The Black Box demonstrates convincingly that North Korea while far from transparent is less inscrutable than is typically assumed Using innovative research methods from data scraping to ethnography including microsurveys of ordinary North Koreans Cha unearths a trove of new information Through these pioneering findings and incorporating his experiences as a White House official negotiating with North Korean interlocutors and traveling to North Korea he paints a vivid picture of this enigmatic country and develops a grounded account of its behavior Cha explores the regime's core tendencies its policies toward the U S South Korea alliance cybersecurity threats the potential for economic development the growth of a nascent civil society and pathways toward Korean unification among other topics The Black Box provides both an essential understanding of contemporary North Korea and an insightful guide to studying the country from one of the world's most esteemed experts inward investment Using empirical tests and case studies this collection shows that Korean groups have invested in developed countries to jump over trade barriers but also to source advanced technology and marketing capabilities Moreover their ambitious strategies have been stimulated by oligopolistic rivalry among the chaebols From a policy perspective the book provides an original discussion of national ownership by questioning the substitutability between inward and outward foreign investment and its relationship with the evolution of the national innovation system By shedding light on the pattern of Korea's internationalization these essays make a valuable contribution to the theory of international production and provide important insights for the current policy debates on globalization and innovation led growth
