In Search of Stanislavsky's Creative State on the Stage Gabriela Curpan, 2021-04-12 This book rediscovers a spiritual way of preparing the actor towards experiencing that ineffable artistic creativity defined by Konstantin Stanislavski as the creative state Filtered through the lens of his unaddressed Christian Orthodox background as well as his yogic or Hindu interest the practical work followed the odyssey of the artist from being oneself towards becoming the character being structured in three major horizontal stages and developed on another three vertical interconnected levels Throughout the book Gabriela Curpan aims to question both the cartesian approach to acting and the realist psychological line generally viewed as the only features of Stanislavski's work This book will be of great interest to theatre and performance academics as well as practitioners in the fields of acting and directing

JosephNiiAbekarMensah U-Turn Bruce Grierson,2008-12-01 In this impressively researched and incisive book Bruce Grierson draws on over three hundred stories of so called U turners who have risked their livelihoods to answer a sudden wake up call We meet people who change political parties and careers doctors who quit to become poets men who become women people who suddenly become revolutionaries for a cause they didn t care about the day before In chapters that address everything from the neuroscience behind epiphanies to the possibility of forcing a U turn Grierson brilliantly describes and elucidates this powerful mysterious phenomenon and in doing so illuminates all of our continual struggles with life choices and identity The Spiritual Doorway in the Brain Kevin Nelson,2010-12-30 The world s leading neurologist on out of body and near death experiences shows that spirituality is as much a part of our basic biological makeup as our sex drive or survival instinct If Buddha had been in an MRI machine and not under the Bodhi tree when he attained enlightenment what would we have seen on the monitor Dr Kevin Nelson offers an answer to that question that is beyond what any scientist has previously encountered on the borderlands of consciousness In his cutting edge research Nelson has discovered that spiritual experiences take place in one of the most primitive areas of the brain In this eloquent inspired and reverent book he relates the moving stories of patients and research subjects brain scan analysis evolutionary biology and beautiful examples of transcendence from literature to reveal the machinery in our heads that enables us to perceive miracles whether you are an atheist Buddhist or the most devout Catholic The patients and people Nelson discuss have had an extremely diverse set of spiritual experiences from arguing with the devil sitting at the foot of their hospital bed to seeing the universe synchronize around the bouncing of the ball in a pinball machine However the bizarre experiences don't make the people seem like freaks they seem strangely very much like us in surprising ways Ultimately Nelson makes clear that spiritual experiences are not the exception in human life but rather an inescapable and precious part of every one of us

The God Impulse Kevin Nelson, 2011-03-03 Why do people have near death experiences Are there physical explanations for those out of body sensations and tunnels of light And what about moments of spiritual ecstasy If Buddha had been in an MRI machine and not under the Bodhi tree when he attained enlightenment what would we have seen on the monitor In THE GOD IMPULSE Kevin Nelson a neurologist with three decades experience examining the biology behind human spirituality deconstructs the spiritual self uncovering its origin in the most primitive areas of our brain Through his revolutionary studies on near death experience Nelson has discovered that spiritual experience is an incidental product of several different neurological processes acting independently When we feel close to God or sense the presence of departed relatives we may believe that we are standing at the border of this world and the next as individual autonomous rational creatures touching God The reality is far different our brain function resembles a Cubist painting by Picasso or Braque and the experiences we regard as the height of our humanity are in fact produced by primal reflexes THE GOD IMPULSE takes us on a journey into what Nelson calls the borderlands of consciousness The book offers the first comprehensive empirically tested peer reviewed examination of the reasons we are capable of near death experience out of body experience and the mystical states produced by hallucinogenic drugs essays in book Empty Vision David McMahan,2013-12-19 Visual metaphors in a number of Mahayana sutras construct a discourse in which visual perception serves as a model for knowledge and enlightenment In the Perfection of Wisdom Prajnaparamita and other Mahayana literature immediate access to reality is symbolized by vision and set in opposition to language and conceptual thinking which are construed as obscuring reality In addition to its philosophical manifestations the tension between vision and language also functioned as a strategy of legitimation in the struggle of the early heterodox Mahayana movement for authority and legitimacy This emphasis on vision also served as a resource for the abundant mythical imagery in Mahayana sutras imagery that is ritualized in Vajrayana visualization practices McMahan brings a wide range of literature to bear on this issue Including a rare analysis of the lavish imagery of the Gandavyuha Sutra in its Indian context He concludes with a discussion of Indian approaches to visuality in the light of some recent discussions of ocularcentrism in the west inviting scholars to expand the current discussion of vision and its roles in constructing epistemic systems and cultural practices beyond its exclusively European and American focus Waking, Dreaming, Being Evan Thompson,2014-11-18 A renowned philosopher of the mind also known for his groundbreaking work on Buddhism and cognitive science Evan Thompson combines the latest neuroscience research on sleep dreaming and meditation with Indian and Western philosophy of mind casting new light on the self and its relation to the brain Thompson shows how the self is a changing process not a static thing When we are awake we identify with our body but if we let our mind wander or daydream we project a mentally imagined self into the remembered past or anticipated future As we fall asleep the impression of being a bounded self distinct from the world dissolves but the self reappears in the dream state If we have a lucid dream we no longer identify only with the self within the dream Our sense of self now includes our dreaming self the I as dreamer Finally as we meditate either in the waking state or in a lucid dream we can observe whatever images or thoughts arise and how we tend to identify with them as me We can also experience sheer awareness itself distinct from the changing contents that make up our image of the self Contemplative traditions say that we can learn to let go of the self so that when we die we can witness its dissolution with equanimity Thompson weaves together neuroscience philosophy and personal narrative to depict these transformations adding uncommon depth to life s profound questions Contemplative experience comes to illuminate scientific findings and scientific evidence enriches the vast knowledge acquired by contemplatives Forthcoming Books

Rose Army,1997-12 God Interrogated Lynne Renoir,2023-03-31 Lynne Renoir began life as a devout Christian but after many years she realized that her faith was not working She sought an explanation for her situation by completing postgraduate degrees in psychology and philosophy and carrying out research in quantum theory Drawing on the insights that the universe is multidimensional and that everything is ultimately one Renoir proposes that we too are multidimensional beings She points out that what we believe about anything is generally deemed to be either true or false This approach in her view is applicable to our everyday three dimensional reality but that transformation occurs when what we consciously accept as fact resonates with the oneness that lies at the deepest level of our being
