Zimbabwean Literature in African Languages Emmanuel Chiwome, Zifikile Mguni, 2012 The scope of this book is Ndebele and Shona literature with emphasis on post independence publications African literature in English has received more critical attention than literature in indigenous languages The former has occupied centre stage as representing national literature while modern literature in indigenous languages occupies the intermediate lower stratum that is accorded to national languages in the colonial and post independence eras The objective of the study is to combine some of the different genres of literature in indigenous languages in an attempt to understand them on the basis of their common history and culture While colonialism has promoted and interpreted differences among Zimbabwean ethnic communities as evidence of polarisation the authors here view African language literatures as parts of one great whole Versions of Zimbabwe. New Approaches to Literature and Culture Robert Muponde, Ranka Primorac, 2005-06-15 The book is the result of a collaboration of scholars from southern Africa and overseas whose work emphasises hitherto overshadowed subjects of literature exposing new and untried approaches to Zimbabwean writing The contributors focus on pluralities inclusiveness and the breaking of boundaries and elucidate how literary texts are betraying multiple versions and opinions of Zimbabwe arguing that only a multiplicity of opinions on Zimbabwe can do the complexity of the society and history justice Stories from a Shona Childhood Charles Mungoshi, 1989 Four Shona folktales retold by one of Zimbabwe's foremost writers The Columbia Guide to Central African Literature in English Since 1945 Adrian A. Roscoe, 2008 Columbia's guides to postwar African literature paint a unique portrait of the continent's rich and diverse literary traditions This volume examines the rapid rise and growth of modern literature in the three postcolonial nations of Zimbabwe Malawi and Zambia It tracks the multiple political and economic pressures that have shaped Central African writing since the end of World War II and reveals its authors heroic efforts to keep their literary traditions alive in the face of extreme poverty and AIDS Adrian Roscoe begins with a list of key political events Since writers were composing within both colonial and postcolonial contexts he pays particular attention to the nature of British colonialism especially theories regarding its provenance and motivation Roscoe discusses such historical figures as David Livingstone Cecil Rhodes and Sir Harry Johnston as well as modern power players including Robert Mugabe Kenneth Kaunda and Kamuzu Banda He also addresses efforts to create a literary historical record from an African perspective an account that challenges white historiographies in which the colonized was neither agent nor informer A comprehensive alphabetical guide profiles both established and emerging authors and further illustrates issues raised in the introduction Roscoe then concludes with a detailed bibliography recommending additional reading and sources At the close of World War II the people of Central Africa found themselves mired in imperial fatigue and broken promises of freedom This fueled a desire for liberation and a major surge in literary production and in this illuminating guide Roscoe details the campaigns for social justice and political integrity for education and economic empowerment and for gender equity participatory democracy rural development and environmental care that characterized this exciting period of development

Mobility in Contemporary Zimbabwean Literature in English Magdalena Pfalzgraf, 2021-06-29 This monograph explores the concept of mobility in Zimbabwean works of fiction published in English between the introduction of the controversial Fast Track Land Reform Programme and the end of the Mugabe era Since 2000 Zimbabwe has experienced unprecedented levels of transnational out migration in response to the political conflicts and economic downturn often referred to as the Zimbabwe Crisis This in turn has led to an increased outpouring of literary texts about migration both in locally produced texts and in works by authors based in the diaspora Situating Zimbabwe's recent literary developments in a wider context of Southern African writing and history this book focuses on texts that portray movement within Zimbabwe's cities between village and city to South Africa and overseas The author examines important developments and trends in recent Zimbabwean literature investigating the link between state authoritarianism and control of mobility and literature's potential to intervene into dominant political discourses The book includes in depth analyses of ten recent works of fiction published in the post 2000 era and develops mobility as a key category of literary analysis of Zimbabwe's contemporary literatures Setting out a rich dialogue between literary criticism and mobility studies this book will be of interest to researchers of African literature Southern Africa migration and mobility

Sub-Saharan Political Cultures of Deceit in Language, Literature, and the Media, Volume I Esther Mavengano, Isaac Mhute, 2023-11-18 This two volume set charts a cross disciplinary discursive terrain that proffers rich insights about deceit in contemporary postcolonial Sub Saharan African politics In an attempt to produce a nuanced and multi faceted academic dialoguing platform the two volumes have a particular focus on the aspects of treachery fear of difference oppositional politics and discourses semiotics of mis self representation The major aim of the proposed volumes is to contribute toward the often problematised conversations about the unfolding post colonial Sub Saharan world which is topical in decolonial and Pan African studies The volumes seek to place political thinking and postcolonial political systems under the scholarly gaze with the view to highlight and enhance the participation of African cross disciplinary scholarship in the postcolonial political processes of the continent Most significantly it is through such probing of the limitations of our own disciplinary perspectives which can help us appreciate the complexity of the postcolonial Sub Saharan African politics The first volume uses Zimbabwe as a case study while the second volume broadens to examine postcolonial politics in Sub Saharan Africa more broadly Zimbabwe in Crisis Stephen Chan,Ranka Primorac,2013-10-18 This book covers not only the political situation in Zimbabwe but its international context and those areas of privation exclusion and silence within the country that are beneath the everyday face of politics Written by either a Zimbabwean or an internationally acknowledged expert on aspects of Zimbabwe all the authors agree that the silences in and surrounding the African state cannot continue This volume utilizes the perspectives of diplomacy health law and literature written in both English and Shona and of those deeply concerned with democratization in Zimbabwe and its surrounding region Zimbabwe and the Space of Silence will be of interest to students and scholars of African studies African and Third World politics and international law This book was previously published as a special issue of The Round Table

Zimbabwe's Cinematic Arts Katrina Daly Thompson, 2013 This timely book reflects on discourses of identity that pervade local talk and texts in Zimbabwe a nation beset by political and economic crisis As she explores questions of culture that play out in broadly accessible local and foreign film and television Katrina Daly Thompson shows how viewers interpret these media and how they impact everyday life language use and thinking about community She offers a unique understanding of how media reflect and contribute to Zimbabwean culture language and ethnicity

The Place of Tears Ranka Primorac, 2006-06-30 THIS IS AN NJR NOT JACKET BLURB DO NOT USE IT THIS RAW FORM This new and original work is the only recent monographic treatment of the Zimbabwean novel and its political implications An earlier one by Veit Wild 1992 has not been updated and other such as that by Zhuwarara 2001 are not easily available outside Zimbabwe The author resided in Zimbabwe for almost a decade and has visited the country regularly in the last five years She has published extensively on Zimbabwean literature and brings to her work a deep contextual richness as well as theoretical sophistication Thoroughly up to date the book examines all the published novels of the recently deceased Yvonne Vera d April 2005 as well as major novels of five other internationally acclaimed Zimbabwean writers including Tsitsi Dangarembga and Chenjerai Hove It does so against a political backdrop which goes right up to the March 2005 parliamentary elections The book provides a modern and original historical account of post independence Zimbabwean writing and its relationship to history and politics The critical investigation focuses on fictional representations of space time which links the book the tragically topical Zimbabwean issue of land Dr Primorac employs a form of literary and cultural theory reminiscent of Bakhtinian analysis but drawn at length from East European theoretical sources She investigates what the novels have to say about the Zimbabwean condition and makes a sophisticated link between ideas about space time and novelistic ideologies More than that drawing a parallel with the experience of Eastern Europe she shows how the novel itself breaks out of the confines of the quasi Marxist analysis which still holds sway in Zimbabwe As such the Zimbabwean novel is itself a source of hope in that troubled land Ranka Primorac has degrees from the universities of Zagreb Zimbabwe and Nottingham Trent She has taught Africa related courses at several institutions of higher learning in Britain including the University of Cambridge and New York University in London She is interested in non western writing and cultures theoretical approaches to the novel and the narrative production of space time Her co edited volume Versions of Zimbabwe New Approaches to Literature and Culture was published in 2005 by Weaver Press in Harare
