and genre Recovering 1940s Horror Cinema Mario DeGiglio-Bellemare, Charlie Ellbé, Kristopher Woofter, 2014-12-11 The 1940s is a lost decade in horror cinema undervalued and written out of most horror scholarship This collection revises reframes and deconstructs persistent critical binaries that have been put in place by scholarly discourse to label 1940s horror as somehow inferior to a classical period or canonical mode of horror in the 1930s especially as represented by the monster films of Universal Studios The book's four sections re-evaluate the historical political economic and cultural factors informing 1940s horror cinema to introduce new theoretical frameworks and to open up space for scholarly discussion of 1940s horror genre hybridity periodization and aesthetics Chapters focused on Gothic and Grand Guignol traditions operating in forties horror cinema 1940s proto slasher films the independent horrors of the Poverty Row studios and critical reevaluations of neglected hybrid films such as The Vampire's Ghost 1945 and slippery auteurs such as Robert Siodmak and Sam Neufield work to recover a decade of horror that has been framed as having fallen victim to repetition exhaustion and decline Sidney J. Furie Daniel Kremer, 2015-11-12 Known for his visual style as well as for his experimentation in virtually every genre of narrative cinema award winning director Sidney J Furie also has the distinction of having made Canada's first ever feature length fictional film in English A Dangerous Age 1957 With a body of work that includes The Ipccress File 1965 Lady Sings the Blues 1972 and The Entity 1982 he has collaborated with major stars such as Marlon Brando Frank Sinatra Robert Redford and Michael Caine and his films have inspired some of Hollywood's most celebrated directors including Stanley Kubrick and Quentin Tarantino In this first biography of the prolific filmmaker author Daniel Kremer offers a comprehensive look at the director's unique career Furie pioneered techniques such as improvisation in large scale film productions and sometimes shot his films in sequence to develop the characters from the ground up and improve the performers in the moment spontaneity Not only has Stanley Kubrick acknowledged that Furie's The Boys in Company C 1978 informed and influenced Full Metal Jacket 1987 but Martin Scorsese has said that he considers The Entity to be one of the scariest horror films of all time However Furie was often later criticized for accepting lowbrow work and as a result little serious study has been devoted to the director Meticulously researched and enhanced by Kremer's close relationship with the filmmaker this definitive biography captures the highs and lows of an exceptional but underexamined career taking readers behind the scenes with a director who was often ahead of his time Reappraising Cult Horror Films Lee Broughton, 2024-05-16 Identifies key and in some cases previously overlooked cult horror films from around the world and reappraises them by approaching and interrogating them in new ways New productions in the horror genre occupy a prominent space within the cinematic landscape of the 21st century but the genre's back catalogue of older films refuses to be consigned to the motion picture graveyard just yet Interest in older horror films remains high and an ever increasing number of these films have enjoyed an afterlife as cult movies thanks to regular film festival screenings television broadcasts and home video releases Similarly academic interest in the horror genre has remained high The frameworks applied by
