Disturbing the Universe Roberta S. Trites, 1998-04-01 The Young Adult novel is ordinarily characterized as a coming of age story in which the narrative revolves around the individual growth and maturation of a character but Roberta Trites expands this notion by chronicling the dynamics of power and repression that weave their way through YA books Characters in these novels must learn to negotiate the levels of power that exist in the myriad social institutions within which they function including family church government and school Trites argues that the development of the genre over the past thirty years is an outgrowth of postmodernism since YA novels are by definition texts that interrogate the social construction of individuals Drawing on such nineteenth century precursors as Little Women and Adventures of Huckleberry Finn Disturbing the Universe demonstrates how important it is to employ poststructuralist methodologies in analyzing adolescent literature both in critical studies and in the classroom Among the twentieth century authors discussed are Blume Hamilton Hinton Le Guin L Engle and Zindel Trites work has applications for a broad range of readers including scholars of children s literature and theorists of post modernity as well as librarians and secondary school teachers Disturbing the Universe Power and Repression in Adolescent Literature by Roberta Seelinger Trites is the winner of the 2002 Children s Literature Association s Book Award The award is given annually in order to promote and recognize outstanding contributions to children s literature history scholarship and criticism it is one of the highest academic honors that can accrue to an author of children s literary criticism

Representations of Technology in Science Fiction for Young People Noga Applebaum, 2009-09-10 In this new book Noga Applebaum surveys science fiction novels published for children and young adults from 1980 to the present exposing the anti technological bias existing within a genre often associated with the celebration of technology Applebaum argues that perceptions of technology as a corrupting force particularly in relation to its use by young people are a manifestation of the enduring allure of the myth of childhood innocence and result in young adult fiction that endorses a technophobic agenda This agenda is a form of resistance to the changing face of childhood and technology's contribution to this change Further Applebaum contends that technophobic literature disempowers its young readers by implying that the technologies of the future are inherently dangerous while it neglects to acknowledge children's complex yet pleasurable interactions with technology today The study looks at works by well known authors including M T Anderson Monica Hughes Lois Lowry Garth Nix and Philip Reeve and explores topics such as ecology cloning the impact of technology on narrative structure and the adult child hierarchy While focusing on the popular genre of science fiction as a useful case study Applebaum demonstrates that negative attitudes toward technology exist within children's literature in general making the book of considerable interest to scholars of both science fiction and children's literature
