

Cold war notes

THE ORIGINS OF THE COLD WAR

Communism vs capitalism

- The USSR was a one-party communist state. There were no free elections and the state owned and controlled all the countries industries and agriculture. It was essentially a totalitarian state. Stalin put to death many of his own people and threw millions more into labour camps. Stalin and Soviets looked for security from outside threats through gaining territory.
- the USA and Britain were democratic and capitalist. Industry and agriculture were in private ownership and were run for profit. They hoped to spread democratic ideals and self-determination, free market principles, and collective security would lead to global security.
- each side feared each other. The Soviets believed that the West wanted to destroy communism whilst the West believed that the Soviets wanted to convert the world to communism. Thereby as the Soviets believed that Germany would roam they created a buffer zone of friendly states between the USSR and Germany.

reasons for the USA and USSR to emerge as superpowers

military

- to defeat Germany, the USA had become the number 1 air-force power in the world
- to defeat Germany, the USSR had become the number 1 land-force power in the world
- France and Britain's inability to defeat Germany resulted in a change in balance of power
- the USSR now lacked any strong military neighbours – needed allies

Economic

- The USA's economy was strengthened by the war. It was now able to out-produce all the other powers put together.
- The USA was committed to more 'open trade'. Its politicians and businesspeople wanted to ensure liberal trade, and market-competition flourished. The United States was willing to play an active role in avoiding the re-emergence of the disastrous pre-war pattern of trade blocs and tariffs.
- The USA had the economic strength to prevent a return to instability in Europe.
- The small Eastern European countries that had been created after World War One were not economically viable on their own, so they needed the support of a stronger neighbour, and the USSR could replace Germany in this role – explains Truman and Marshall doctrines

political

- For the West, the outcome of World War Two showed that the ideals of democracy and international collaboration had triumphed over fascism. Thus the political system of the USA was the right path for the future.

Litsas, 2020-02-06 This book examines US foreign policy in the Eastern Mediterranean and the region's key role in the practice and evolution of American exceptionalism. The political developments in the Eastern Mediterranean during the 19th and the first half of the 20th centuries gave to the US opportunities to express in the most explicit way its anti colonialism, the fervent support of open and democratic societies and its willingness to openly confront tyranny and oppression whenever this was possible or necessary for American interests. Since that time the region has been a testing ground for the core elements of American foreign policy deployed worldwide. The monograph shows the contributions of the United States during critical moments in the region such as the First Barbary War 1801-1805, the introduction of Truman Doctrine, Washington's role in the Suez Crisis, the Greek junta and the Imia Crisis of 1996. It also scrutinizes the different levels of the economic, military and diplomatic challenges which China, Russia and Turkey present today while it also covers the American approach to the Arab Spring. From a Shining City on a Hill to the current Make America Great Again mottoes, this critique follows American Foreign Policy in the Eastern Mediterranean and the strong bonds that the nation established with the geostrategic, political and ideological features of the region. The pace of recent events and the increasing complexity of this global corner prove a challenge to America today; the future and clarion call that hard work and the finest ingenuity are necessary to keep its regional hegemony and its course toward increased prosperity. This work's goal is to inspire the conversations by academics, diplomats, leaders, both political and military, and most of all businessmen to this end.
