Australian Muslim Women's Borderland Subjectivities Lutfiye Ali, 2024-01-19 This book claims a discursive space in academic scholarship for knowledges and ways of knowing that capture the diversity complexity and full humanness of Australian Muslim women s subjectivities It draws on in depth conversational interviews with 20 Australian Muslim women from various ethnic backgrounds during which the women shared their experiences of being at the crossroads of their religious gendered racialised and ethnic identities The book puts forward a decolonial feminist border methodology by weaving the work of decolonial feminist philosophers Maria Lugones and Gloria Anzald a with postmodern feminist thinking on subjectivity and with discourse analysis This methodology is used to centre and attend to the fluidity and plurality of Muslim women s subjectivities at the intersections of race ethnicity patriarchy gender sexuality and Islam

Racism in Contemporary African American Children's and Young Adult Literature Suriyan Panlay, 2016-10-25 Applying critical race theory to contemporary African American children s and young adult literature this book explores one key racial issue that has been overlooked both in race studies and literary scholarship internalised racism By systematically examining the issue of internalised racism and its detrimental psychological effects particularly towards the young and vulnerable this book defamiliarises the very racial issue that otherwise has become normalised in American racial discourse reaffirming the relevance of race racism and racialisation in contemporary America Through readings of works by Jacqueline Woodson Sharon G Flake Tanita S Davis Sapphire Rosa Guy and Nikki Grimes Suriyan Panlay develops a new critical discourse on internalised racism by studying its effects on marginalised children its manifestations and the fictional narrative strategies that can be used to regain and reclaim a sense of self

The Twenty-first Century African American Novel and the Critique of Whiteness in Everyday Life E. Lâle Demirtürk, 2016-05-25 This book examines the post 9 11 African American novels developing a new critical discourse on everyday discursive practices of whiteness The critique of everyday life in the racial context of post 9 11 American society is important in considering diverse forms of the lived experiences and subjectivities of black people in the novels They help us see that African American representations of the city have political significance in that the neo urban novel explores the possibility of a black dialogic communication to build a transformative social change Since the real power of Whiteness lies in its discursive power the book reveals the urgency to understand not only how whiteness works in everyday life in American society But it also explores how to cultivate new possibilities of configuring and performing Blackness differently as a response to the post 9 11 configurations of the culture of fear to produce new ways of interactional social relations that can eventually open up the space of critical awareness for white people to work against rather than reinforce discursive practices of White supremacy in everyday life This book explores how the multiple subjectivities and transformative acts of blackness can offer ways of subverting the discursive power of the white embodied practices What defines post 9 11 America as a nation that is consumed by the fear of racialized terrorists is its roots in the fear of uncontrollable Blackness as excess and ominous threat in the domestic terrain through which the ideology of White supremacy has constructed for governing through Whiteness African American urban novels published in the twenty first century respond to the discursive power of normative Whiteness that regulates black bodies selves and lives This book demonstrates how black people contest white dominant social spaces as sites of black criminality and exclusion in an attempt to re signify them as the sites of black transformative change through personal and grassroots activism through their performativity of Blackness as an agential identity formation in their interpersonal urban social encounters with white people Hence the vulnerable spaces of Whiteness in interracial urban encounters as it pervasively addresses those moments of transformative change enacted by Black characters in the face of the discursive practices of whiteness in the everyday life. These novels celebrate multifarious representations of black individuals who are capable of using their agency to subvert White discursive power in finding ways in their personal and grassroots activism to transform the culture of fear that locates Blackness as such in an attempt to make a difference in the American society at large.

Rethinking Political Thinkers Manjeet Ramgotra, Simon Choat, 2023. The first textbook to challenge and expand the canon of political thinkers, Rethinking Political Thinkers presents political thought in a new light, invites debate, and brings diverse perspectives to the fore, giving students the tools to think about political concepts, theories, and arguments critically and analytically.

Navigating the Postqualitative, New Materialist and Critical Posthumanist Terrain Across Disciplines Karin Murris, 2020-12-28. Navigating the Postqualitative, New Materialist and Critical Posthumanist Terrain Across Disciplines is an accessible introductory guide to theories, paradigm shifts, and key concepts in postqualitative, new materialist, and critical posthumanist research. Supported by its own website, this first book in a larger series is an essential companion to the primary texts and original sources of the theorists discussed in this and other books in the series. Disrupting the Theory/Practice Divide, the book offers a postqualitative reimagining of traditional research processes. In doing so, it guides readers through the contestation of binaries, innovative concepts, and the practical provocations that make up the postqualitative terrain. It orients the researcher in the ontological return also by considering Indigenous knowledges, African, Eastern, and young children's philosophies. The style itself is postqualitative through diffractive engagements by the authors, and the website includes some examples of the practical provocations described in the book that give an imaginary of how postqualitative research can be taught and enacted. This book is an essential resource for novice as well as experienced researchers working both within and across disciplines in higher education. More information and podcasts for this book can be found at <https://postqualitativeveresearch.com/series/overview/navigating-the-postqualitative-new-materialist-and-critical-posthumanist-terrain-across-disciplines-an-introductory-guide-2>.

Race and Popular Fantasy Literature Helen Young, 2015-08-11. This book illuminates the racialized nature of twenty-first century Western popular culture by exploring how discourses of race circulate in the Fantasy genre. It examines not only major texts in the genre but also the impact of franchises, industry editorial and authorial practices, and fan engagements on race and representation. Approaching Fantasy as a significant element of popular culture, it visits the struggles over race, racism, and white privilege that are enacted within creative works across media and the communities which revolve around them. While scholars of Science Fiction have explored the genre's racialized constructs of possible futures, this book is the first examination of Fantasy to take up the topic of race in depth. The book's interdisciplinary approach, drawing on Literary, Cultural, Fan, and Whiteness Studies, offers a cultural history of the anxieties which haunt Western popular culture in a century eager to declare itself post-race. The beginnings of the Fantasy genre's habits of whiteness in the twentieth century are examined with an exploration of the continuing impact of older problematic works through franchising adaptation and imitation Young also discusses the major twenty first century sub genres which both re use and subvert Fantasy conventions The final chapter explores debates and anti racist praxis in authorial and fan communities With its multi pronged approach and innovative methodology this book is an important and original contribution to studies of race Fantasy and twenty first century popular culture Shifting to Fit Carol A.

Mullen, Kim Robertson, 2014-03-01 While social identity challenges probably confront all school administrators the authors focus on a doubly marginalized leadership population Black female principals whose experiences are rarely tapped Based on lessons from this study and the literature reviewed the authors think that leadership preparation programs should give prospective administrators opportunities to gain knowledge and develop skills relevant to navigating their leadership identities In the age of accountability and with the pressures placed on the education system to ensure the success of all students school leaders are under constant scrutiny The appearance speech body language and interactions of principals with students parents teachers and community members are dissected Stretching to satisfy expectations many principals find themselves trying to conform to a predefined image Work pressures like these prove immeasurably intense for many Black women Society has subscribed to certain beliefs about different groups and these beliefs affect the roles responsibilities and identities of the individuals They can have a positive or negative influence Many principals have created professional identities that they have fine tuned and learned to steer Trial and error has helped them learn identity fitting techniques while other principals may still be learning how to effectively manage people address supporters and nonsupporters and be politically savvy Regardless of how they develop their identity principals work toward inventing and branding themselves fulfilling public identities e g caregiver and trying out new identities such as commander and chief Black female principals must navigate their identities as bicultural beings with different stakeholder groups and within work spaces that are traditionally geared to monocultural White males Lived Experiences of Women in Academia Alison L.
