Thompson, 2008-09-19 The Ethics of Agricultural Intensification An Interdisciplinary and International Conversation Paul B Thompson and John Otieno Ouko Global agriculture faces a number of challenges as the world approaches the second decade of the third millennium Predictions unilaterally indicate dramatic increases in world population between 2010 and 2030 and a trend in developing countries toward greater consumption of animal products could multiply the need for production of basic grains even further Although global food production in 2000 was estimated to be adequate for the existing population hunger and malnutrition are persistent problems that have led decision makers to recognize that increasing food production in specific regions may be the most effective way to address food security for impoverished peoples At the same time there will need to be policy adjustments that improve poor people s access to current food supplies without simultaneously undercutting the ability of local producers to obtain needed cash income What is more the uncertain effects of global climate change on agricultural ecosystems complicate planning for this process while poorly understood processes of globalization create additional unknowns from the side of social systems In short despite surpluses in many parts of the developed world finding ways to increase food production on both selected regional and a total global basis remains a priority for many farmers policy makers and agricultural researchers      Challenges to Law at the End of the 20th Century: Rights International Association for Philosophy of Law and Social Philosophy. World Congress,1997      Greenfield on Educational Administration Thomas Barr Greenfield,Peter Ribbins,1993 An influential collection of ten key papers by Thomas Greenfield offering his often controversial theories on educational administration      Handbook of Tourism and Consumer Behavior Danni Zheng,Metin Kozak,Jun Wen,2024-11-08 This Handbook evaluates cutting edge research on consumer behavior in the modern day discussing key areas such as emerging tourism experiences and technology enabled services      Waveform Politics; A War to End Democide Gary Clifford Gibson,2007-05 Why did the war to free Iraq from Saddam Hussein occur Was the conflict a moral war to end a democide during the sanctions era and to build a democracy The national debate and the author's essays continued through the war and onto the era of a troubled peace and national elections      A Case for Legal Ethics Vincent Luizzi,1993-01-01 In suggesting that general ethics be modeled on legal ethics this book is a call for more creativity in our moral experience Luizzi argues that lawyers regularly re think their roles and the rules related to these roles Their rejection of a prohibition on advertising for example was part of their re thinking of the traditional view of the lawyer's noble calling one for whom advertising was inappropriate What this says for general ethics is that we are to become active participants in defining our roles Our daily experiences can help us in constructing fresh and better conceptions to guide us A Case for Legal Ethics rejects fixed conceptions of human nature and extends our constructive efforts beyond specific roles to human nature itself and to our environments Luizzi appeals to role modeling both to keep our constructed conceptions within moral bounds and to develop the literature on moral education We must be willing for others to imitate us as we live according to the conceptions we construct
