"Experimenting" for the radio amateur is that activity that occurs when a new idea is presented in practice. This usually involves building or "homebrewing" some circuitry that is only part of the process. It also includes the planning, analysis, measurement, evaluation and packaging that accompanies the building. The rest of this collected activity is what we call design.

Chapter 1. Getting Started

1.1—Experimentation, "Homebrewing," and the Purpose of the Book. This is a brief philosophical comment regarding our views on the subject at hand.
