Objectives

All page references come from the Prestwick House Literary Touchstone Press edition of Hamlet, copyright 2005.

By the end of this Unit, the student will be able to:

1. define by example the terms tragedy and tragic hero.
2. compare the Aristotelian and Renaissance models of tragedy.
3. show Hamlet to be an example of a Renaissance tragic hero.
4. identify and discuss the characteristics of this play that mark it as a Shakespearean tragedy.
5. trace Hamlet's evolving psychological and emotional state and how his condition is reflected in his soliloquies.
6. analyze the characters of Hamlet, Gertrude, Claudius, Polonius, and Ophelia and their relationships to each other.
7. discuss the techniques Shakespeare uses to convey character and character relationships to his audience.
8. identify and analyze the use of comic relief.
9. respond to multiple choice questions similar to those that will appear on the Advanced Placement in English Literature and Composition exam.
10. respond to writing prompts similar to those that will appear on the Advanced Placement in English Literature and Composition exam.
11. offer a close reading of Hamlet and support all assertions and interpretations with direct evidence from the text, from authoritative critical knowledge of the genre, or from authoritative criticism of the play.

The Education Index, 1967 Journal of Education, 1884 Design for the Changing Educational Landscape Andrew Harrison, Les Hutton, 2013-10-15 The whole landscape of space use is undergoing a radical transformation In the workplace a period of unprecedented change has created a mix of responses with one overriding outcome observable worldwide the rise of distributed space In the learning environment the social political economic and technological changes responsible for this shift have been further compounded by constantly developing theories of learning and teaching and a wide acceptance of the importance of learning as the core of the community resulting in the blending of all aspects of learning into one seamless experience This book attempts to look at all the forces driving the provision and pedagogic performance of the many spaces real and virtual that now accommodate the experience of learning and provide pointers towards the creation and design of learning centred communities Part 1 looks at the entire learning universe as it now stands tracks the way in which its constituent parts came to occupy their role assesses how they have responded to a complex of drivers and gauges their success in dealing with renewed pressures to perform It shows that what is required is innovation within the spaces and integration between them Part 2 finds many examples of innovation in evidence across the world in schools the higher and further education campus and in business and cultural spaces but an almost total absence of integration Part 3 offers a model that redefines the learning landscape in terms of learning outcomes mapping spatial requirements and activities into a detailed mechanism that will achieve the best outcome at the most appropriate scale By encouraging stakeholders to creating an events based rather than space based identity the book hopes to point the way to a fully integrated learning landscape a learning community
