Learning from First Responders: When Your Systems Have to Work Dylan Richard,2013-03-04 One of the side stories of the 2012 presidential campaign was the success of Obama s software team The team built their software in house and put into practice many ideas from the DevOps world Game day was one of the most important an exercise in which part of the team tried as hard as possible to break their systems while the rest of the team tried to keep things running They simulated everything from database failure to massive network outages And as a result when the election came they were certain that they could respond to any crisis *Letters to Australia*The Radio Broadcasts (1942 - 72) : the 1940s. Volume 1 Julius Stone,2014 Volume 1 begins with 13 wartime broadcasts given with war at its most threatening for Australia they are a call to courage in dark times The broadcasts became more nuanced when they resumed in 1945 with the war almost won and over the remainder of the decade they covered a wide range of issues the complex aftermath of war moves towards disarmament and the control of nuclear weapons the shift of power from Britain and Europe to the US and USSR the evolution of the Cold War the birth of the United Nations the first moves to European union and the stirrings of the fundamentalist violence that is so large a part of today s conflicts Letters to Australia, Volume 1 Julius Stone,2014-06-01 Letters to Australia is a collection of Julius Stone s radio talks originally broadcast by the ABC between 1942 and 1972 Recently discovered in the nation s archives they take the reader back to the mid 20th century bringing to life the people events and the sweep of affairs during World War II and its turbulent aftermath the hopes and fears of individuals and nations They tell much of Australia's role in that world and that era More than anyone else at that time Julius Stone gave Australians a sense that they were part of the world and could and should seek to influence these events Volumes one and two contain essays from the 1940s Volume one begins with 13 wartime broadcasts given with war at its most threatening for Australia they are a call to courage in dark times The broadcasts became more nuanced when they resumed in 1945 with the war almost won and over the remainder of the decade they covered a wide range of issues the complex aftermath of war moves towards disarmament and the control of nuclear weapons the shift of power from Britain and Europe to the US and USSR the evolution of the Cold War the birth of the United Nations the first moves to European union and the stirrings of the fundamentalist violence that is so large a part of today's conflicts Volume two completes the 1940s broadcasts with a series on decolonisation and a remarkable set of commentaries on the events and people nations and regions starting with Europe and concluding with the Americas The volume closes with a series of talks on the jurisprudence of international relations and four insightful end of the decade talks on the key challenges he believed must be met to maintain intellectual freedom to counter the narrowness of indoctrination to respond constructively to the threat of racial conflict and to assert the value and power of gradual reform

Crystal Hope Douglas Milewski, Anybody got a plan When the world gets invaded five teenagers get the most powerful weapons ever conceived If this sounds like an ill thought plan ripe with unintended consequences such as leveling stray cities you'd be right Still the world's got to be saved What's a few cities between friends If you need a light hearted action packed feel good book with friendly giants powerful mechs mischievous psychics super science mages a rampant disregard for physics and five new friends on the road trip of a lifetime this would be the book for you There's also an herbivore with an attitude This is the full series collected into a single volume
