Bangla Lged:

Bangladesh International Monetary Fund. African Dept.,2012-10-31 Poverty Reduction Strategy Papers are prepared by member countries in broad consultation with stakeholders and development partners including the staffs of the World Bank and the IMF Updated with annual progress reports they describe the countries macroeconomic structural and social policies in support of growth and poverty reduction as well as associated external financing needs and major sources of financing This country document for Bangladesh is being available on the IMF website by agreement of the member country as a service to users of the IMF website Bangladesh Gender Equality Diagnostic of Selected Sectors Asian Development Bank,2018-01-01 Over the last two decades Bangladesh has made progress in women s participation in the labor force gender parity in primary education and women s political representation Areas of concern include the high prevalence of violence against women obstacles to women s access to resources and assets unequal terms of their labor engagement and impact of their overwhelming responsibility for care work The Government of Bangladesh has made policy commitments toward gender equality and established an institutional framework to fulfill these This publication intends to support the government in its attempt to address persisting gender inequalities and gaps through a multisector approach across policies programs and projects It provides insights into gender issues in urban transport energy and skills vocational and tertiary education and gives suggestions for strengthening gender mainstreaming in projects Bangladesh Ranjana Mukherjee,2001-01-01 This book summarizes the responses of Bangladeshi class I highest level public sector officials to a survey on a number of civil service issues from personnel management practices to rewards and disciplinary actions and from employees sources of income to the budget environment and procurement processes It examines the public sector in Bangladesh highlighting pay and employment in the civil service The report also reviews the survey instrument sampling and the survey implementation methodology and discusses the findings of the survey It also describes how the institutional environment and corruption are measured Bangladesh Michael Mastaller,Roger Dee Montgomery,Joseph A. Weinstock,Asian Development Bank,2000 Meteorological Data in Bangladesh ,2005 Securing food for all in Bangladesh Ahmed, Akhter, ed.,Islam, Nurul, ed.,Mujeri, Mustafa K., ed.,2021-11-05 Securing Food for All in Bangladesh presents an array of research that collectively address four broad issues 1 agricultural technology adoption 2 input use and agricultural productivity 3 food security and output market and 4 poverty food security and women s empowerment The fifteen chapters of the book address diverse aspects within these four themes Access to sufficient food by all people at all times to meet their dietary needs is a matter of critical importance Despite declining arable agricultural land Bangladesh has made commendable progress in boosting domestic food production The growth in overall food production has been keeping ahead of population growth resulting in higher per capita availability of food over time In the early 1970s Bangladesh was a food deficit country with a population of about 75 million Today the population is 165 million and the country is now self sufficient in rice production which has tripled over the past three decades Along with enhanced food production increased income has improved people s access to food Furthermore nutritional outcomes have improved significantly Nevertheless the challenges to food and nutrition security remain formidable Future agricultural growth and food and nutrition security are threatened by population growth worsening soil fertility diminishing access to land and other scarce natural resources increasing vulnerability of crop varieties to pests and diseases and persistent poverty leading to poor access to food In addition the impacts of climate change an increase in the incidence of natural disasters sea intrusion and salinity will exacerbate food and nutrition insecurity in the coming decades if corrective measures are not taken Aligned with this context the authors of the book explore policy options and strategies for developing agriculture and improving food security in Bangladesh Securing Food for All in Bangladesh with its breadth and scope will be an invaluable resource for policymakers researchers and students dedicated to improving people s livelihoods in Bangladesh

Jung,2011-06-21 Some may dispute the effectiveness of aid But few would disagree that aid delivered to the right source and in the right way can help poor and fragile countries develop It can be a catalyst but not a driver of development Aid now operates in an arena with new players such as middle income countries private philanthropists and the business community new challenges presented by fragile states capacity development and climate change and new approaches including transparency scaling up and South South cooperation The next High Level Forum on Aid Effectiveness must determine how to organize and deliver aid better in this environment Catalyzing Development proposes ten actionable game changers to meet these challenges based on in depth scholarly research It advocates for these to be included in a Busan Global Development Compact in order to guide the work of development partners in a flexible and differentiated manner in the years ahead Contributors Kemal Dervis Brookings Institution Shunichiro Honda JICA Research Institute Akio Hosono JICA Research Institute Johannes F Linn Emerging Markets Forum and Brookings Institution Ryutaro Murotani JICA Research Institute Jane Nelson Harvard Kennedy School and Brookings Institution Mai Ono JICA Research Institute Kang ho Park Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade Korea Tony Pipa U S Agency for International Development Sarah Puritz Milsom Brookings Institution Hyunjoo Rhee Korea International Cooperation Agency Mine Sato JICA Research Institute Shinichi Takeuchi JICA Research Institute Keiichi Tsunekawa JICA Research Institute Ngaire Woods University College Oxford Sam Worthington InterAction

Tropical Deltas and Coastal Zones Chu T. Hoanh,Brian W. Szuster,2010 Coastal deltas represent one of the most diverse biophysical regions in the tropical developing world These regions are also home to large human populations and are significant areas of agricultural production and industrialization Tropical deltas currently face a number of environmental pressures stemming from their intensive use and rapid development and new threats are emerging as a result of global climate change and expected sea level rise Focusing on the developing countries of Asia Africa and South America chapters explore the impact of development strategies and existing land and water management practices on delta environments New management techniques are also explored which address conflicts between rice based agriculture aquaculture fisheries and the emerging threat of climate change Illustrating the current key management challenges involved in protecting tropical deltaic systems in the face of environmental change this book will be an essential reference for students researchers and policy makers in agriculture environmental science and aquaculture

The Role of Elites in Economic Development the late Alice H. Amsden,Alisa DiCaprio,James A. Robinson,2012-09-27 Elites have a disproportionate impact on development outcomes While a country s endowments constitute the deep determinates of growth the trajectory they follow is shaped by the actions of elites But what factors affect whether elites use their influence for individual gain or national welfare To what extent do they see poverty as a problem And are their actions today constrained by institutions and norms established in the past This volume looks at case studies from South Africa to China to seek a better understanding of the dynamics behind how elites decide to engage with economic development Approaches include economic modelling social surveys theoretical analysis and program evaluation These different methods explore the relationship between elites and development outcomes from five angles the participation and reaction of elites to institutional creation and change how economic changes affect elite formation and circulation elite perceptions of national welfare the extent to which state capacity is part of elite self identity and how elites interact with non elites
