This book provides a thorough presentation of instrument construction from conception to development and pre-testing of items, formatting the instrument, administration and finally data management and presentation of the findings. Throughout the book, the authors emphasize how to create an instrument that will produce trustworthy and accurate data. To that end, they have included guidelines for reviewing and revising the questionnaire to enhance validity and reliability. They also show how to work effectively with stakeholders such as instruments designers, decision makers, agency personnel, clients and raters, or respondents Qualitative Data Analysis Matthew B. Miles, A. Michael Huberman, Johnny Saldana, 2018-12-13 This comprehensive practical user friendly book provides a wealth of data analysis strategies that are essential for any qualitative research. It is a must have tool book for moving from data analysis to writing for publication. Guofang Li, University of British Columbia, Canada. Miles, Huberman and Salda's Qualitative Data Analysis: A Methods Sourcebook is the authoritative text for analyzing and displaying qualitative research data. The Fourth Edition maintains the analytic rigor of previous editions while showcasing a variety of new visual display models for qualitative inquiry. Graphics are added to the now classic matrix and network illustrations of the original co-authors. Five chapters have been substantially revised and the appendix's annotated bibliography includes new titles in research methods. Graduate students and established scholars from all disciplines will find this resource an innovative compendium of ideas for the representation and presentation of qualitative data. As the authors demonstrate, when researchers think display, their analyses of social life capture the complex and vivid processes of the people and institutions studied.

An Introduction to Educational Research Chad R. Lochmiller, Jessica N. Lester, 2015-12-11 Expand your understanding of educational research with this practice first introduction. Written specifically for education practitioners, An Introduction to Educational Research: Connecting Methods to Practice approaches research methods from a practice first perspective that aligns research with professional experiences and identifies the tools and resources readers can use when conducting their own research. Throughout the book, the authors illuminate complex research concepts using problems of practice confronting educators to help readers make meaningful connections with key concepts and research practices. The authors present balanced coverage across research methodologies that is linked to practice so readers clearly see research as a tool they can use to improve classrooms, schools, districts, and educational organizations.

Research Methods for Environmental Studies Mark Kanazawa, 2017-10-18 The methodological needs of environmental studies are unique in the breadth of research questions that can be posed, calling for a textbook that covers a broad swath of approaches to conducting research with potentially many different kinds of evidence. Written specifically for social science based research into the environment, this book covers the best practice research methods most commonly used to study the environment and its connections to societal and economic activities and objectives. Over five key parts, Kanazawa introduces quantitative and qualitative approaches, mixed methods, and the special requirements of interdisciplinary research, emphasizing that methodological practice should be tailored to the specific needs of the project. Within these parts, detailed coverage is provided on key topics including the identification of a research project, spatial analysis, ethnography, approaches, interview technique, and ethical issues in environmental research. Drawing on a variety of extended examples to encourage problem based learning and fully addressing the challenges associated with interdisciplinary investigation this book will be an essential resource for students embarking on courses exploring research methods in environmental studies
