Invisible Crisis of Contemporary Society Bernard S Phillips, Louis C. Johnston, 2015-12-03 Is there a growing gap in today's world between cultural aspirations and their fulfillment a gap that is increasing social problems of all kinds If so what forces are producing that gap How can these forces be changed To answer these questions Phillips and Johnston employ a very broad approach to the scientific method drawing evidence from a wide variety of data and sources including sociologists psychologists political scientists historians philosophers educators psychiatrists and novelists They find substantial evidence for a widening gap suggesting an invisible crisis throughout contemporary society They also find substantial evidence that a simplistic and static metaphysical stance or worldview is largely responsible for that gap and that an alternative worldview can work to close that gap

New Makers of Modern Culture Justin Wintle, 2016-04-22 New Makers of Modern Culture will be widely acquired by both higher education and public libraries Bibliographies are attached to entries and there is thorough cross referencing

The Critical Turn in Education Isaac Gottesman, 2016-03-17 The Critical Turn in Education traces the historical emergence and development of critical theories in the field of education from the introduction of Marxist and other radical social theories in the 1960s to the contemporary critical landscape The book begins by tracing the first waves of critical scholarship in the field through a close contextual study of the intellectual and political projects of several core figures including Paulo Freire Samuel Bowles and Herbert Gintis Michael Apple and Henry Giroux Later chapters offer a discussion of feminist critiques the influx of postmodernist and poststructuralist ideas in education and critical theories of race While grounded in U S scholarship The Critical Turn in Education contextualizes the development of critical ideas and political projects within a larger international history and charts the ongoing theoretical debates that seek to explain the relationship between school and society Today much of the language of this critical turn has now become commonplace words such as hegemony ideology and the term critical itself but by providing a historical analysis The Critical Turn in Education illuminates the complexity and nuance of these theoretical tools which offer ways of understanding the intersections between individual identities and structural forces in an attempt to engage and overturn social injustice

Europe, America, and Technology: Philosophical Perspectives P.T. Durbin,2012-12-06 As Europe moves toward 1992 and full economic unity and as Eastern Europe tries to find its way in the new economic order the United States hesitates Will the new European economic order be good for the U S or not Such a question is exacerbated by world wide changes in the technological order most evident in Japan s new techno economic power As might be expected philosophers have been slow to come to grips with such issues and lack of interest is compounded by different philosophical styles in different parts of the world What this volume addresses is more a matter of conflicting styles than a substantive confrontation with the real world issues But there is some attempt to be concrete The symposium on Ivan Illich with contributions from philosophers and social critics at the Penns vania State University where Illich has taught for several years may suggest the old cliché of Old World vs New World Illich s fulminations against technology are often dismissed by Americans as old world style prophecy while Illich seems largely unknown in his native Europe But Albert Borgmann born in Germany though now settled in the U S shows that this old dichotomy is difficult to maintain in our technological world Borgmann s focus is on urgent technological problems that have become almost painfully evident in both Europe and America
