Companion to the World Novel Michael Sollars, Arbolina Llamas Jennings, 2008 Adapted for the Screen Hsiu-Chuang Deppman, 2010-04-30 Contemporary Chinese films are popular with audiences worldwide but a key reason for their success has gone unnoticed many of the films are adapted from brilliant literary works This book is the first to put these landmark films in the context of their literary origins and explore how the best Chinese directors adapt fictional narratives and styles

for film Hsiu Chuang Deppman unites aesthetics with history in her argument that the rise of cinema in China Hong Kong and Taiwan in the late 1980s was partly fueled by burgeoning literary movements Fifth Generation director Zhang Yimou's highly acclaimed films Red Sorghum Raise the Red Lantern and To Live are built on the experimental works of Mo Yan Su Tong and Yu Hua respectively Hong Kong new wave's Ann Hui and Stanley Kwan capitalized on the irresistible visual metaphors of Eileen Chang's postrealism Hou Xiaoxian's new Taiwan cinema turned to fiction by Huang Chunming and Zhu Tianwen for fine grained perspectives on class and gender relations Delving equally into the individual approaches of directors and writers Deppman initiates readers into the exciting possibilities emanating from the world of Chinese cinema The seven in depth studies include a diverse array of forms cinematic adaptation of literature literary adaptation of film auto adaptation and non narrative adaptation and a variety of genres martial arts melodrama romance autobiography documentary drama Complementing this formal diversity is a geographical range that far exceeds the cultural linguistic and physical boundaries of China The directors represented here also work in the U S and Europe and reflect the growing international resources of Chinese language cinema With her sophisticated blend of stylistic and historical analyses Deppman brings much needed nuance to current conversations about the politics of gender class and race in the work of the most celebrated Chinese writers and directors Her pioneering study will appeal to all readers general and academic who have an interest in Chinese literature cinema and culture

Balzac and the Little Chinese Seamstress by Dai Sijie Emma Gordon Williams,2002 Chinese Ecocinema Sheldon H. Fragmented Memories and Screening Nostalgia for the Cultural Revolution Jing Meng,2020-08-19 Fragmented Memories and Screening Nostalgia for the Cultural Revolution argues that films and TV dramas about the Cultural Revolution made after China's accession to the WTO in 2001 tend to represent personal memories in a markedly sentimental nostalgic and fragmented manner. This new trend is a significant departure from earlier films about the subject which are generally interpreted as national allegories not private expressions of grief regret or other personal feelings. With China entering a postsocialist era the ideological conflation of socialism and global capitalism has generated enough cultural ambiguity to allow a space for the expression of personalized reminiscences of the past. By presenting these personal memories in effect alternative narratives to official history on screen individuals now seem to have some agency in narrating and constructing history. At the same time such autonomy can be easily undermined since the promotion of the sentiment of nostalgia is often subjected to commodification. Sentimental treatments of the past may simply be a marketing strategy. Underplaying political issues is also a safer way for films and TV dramas to secure public release in mainland China. Meng concludes that the new mode of representing the past is shaped by the current sociopolitical conditions; these personal memories and micro narratives can be understood as the defining ways of remembering in China's postsocialist era.

Fragmented Memories and Screening Nostalgia for the Cultural Revolution takes a comprehensive look at contemporary screen depictions of the Cultural Revolution. The book convincingly ties close readings of the works analysed with broader social and cultural phenomena that already are hot topics of study and debate offering something original while also being closely engaged with existing scholarship. Jason McGrath, University of Minnesota.

Breaking through the tired dichotomy between personal and collective narratives: individual memory and grand history this refreshing book sheds much light on film memories of the Cultural Revolution in the post socialist millennium. In a limpid and engaging style Jing Meng probes memory's nostalgia and imbrication with the collective destiny and critiques the personal focus aligned with neoliberal economy and commodification. Contemporary Sino-French Cinemas Michelle E. Bloom, 2017-11-30. Transnational cinemas are eclipsing national cinemas in the contemporary world and Sino French films exemplify this phenomenon through the cinematic coupling of the Sinophone and the Francophone linking France not just with the Chinese mainland but also with the rest of the Chinese speaking world. Sinophone directors most often reach out to French cinema by referencing and adapting it. They set their films in Paris and metropolitan France cast French actors and sometimes use French dialogue even when the directors themselves don't understand it. They tend to view France as mysterious sexy and sophisticated just as the French see China and Taiwan as exotic. As Michelle E. Bloom makes clear many films move past a simplistic opposition between East and West and beyond Orientalist and Occidentalist cross cultural interplay. Bloom focuses on films that have appeared since 2000 such as Tsai Ming-liang's What Time Is It There? Hou Hsiao-hsien's Flight of the Red Balloon and Dai Sijie's Balzac and the Little Chinese Seamstress. She views the work of these well known directors through a Sino French optic applying the tropes of mimesis or biraciality intertextuality adaptation and remake translation and imitation to shed new light on their work. She also calls attention to important lesser studied films.

Taiwanese director Cheng Yu chieh s Yang Yang which depicts the up and coming Taiwanese star Sandrine Pinna as a mixed race beauty and Emily Tang Xiaobai s debut film Conjugation which contrasts Paris and post Tiananmen Square Beijing the one an incarnation of liberty the other a place of entrapment Bloom s insightful analysis also probes what such films reveal about their Taiwanese and Chinese creators Scholars have long studied Sino French literature but this inaugural full length work on Sino French cinema maps uncharted territory offering a paradigm for understanding other cross cultural interminglings and tools to study transnational cinema and world cinema The Sino French rich and multifaceted linguistically culturally and ethnically constitutes an important part of film studies Francophone studies Sinophone studies and myriad other fields This is a must read for students scholars and lovers of film Encyclopedia of the World Novel, 1900 to the Present Michael David Sollars, Arbolina Llamas Jennings, 2015-04-22 Praise for the print edition a useful and engaging reference to the vast world of the novel in world literature The Black Musketeer Eric Martone, 2011-05-25 Alexandre Dumas author of The Three Musketeers The Count of Monte Cristo and The Man in the Iron Mask is the most famous French writer of the nineteenth century In 2002 his remains were transferred to the Panth on a mausoleum reserved for the greatest French citizens amidst much national hype during his bicentennial Contemporary France struggling with the legacies of colonialism and growing diversity has transformed Dumas grandson of a slave from St Domingue now Haiti into a symbol of the colonies and the larger francophone world in an attempt to integrate its immigrants and migrants from its former Caribbean African and Asian colonies to improve race relations and to promote French globality Such a reconception of Dumas has made him a major figure in debates on French identity and colonial history Ten years after Dumas s interment in the Panth on the time is ripe to re evaluate Dumas within this context of being a representative of la Francophonie The French re evaluation of Dumas therefore invites a reassessment of his life works legacy and previous scholarship This interdisciplinary collection is the first major work to take up this task It is unique for being the first scholarly work to bring Dumas into the center of debates about French identity and France s relations with its former colonies For the purposes of this collection to analyze Dumas in a francophone context means to explore Dumas as a symbol of a French culture shaped by and inclusive of its former colonies and current overseas departments The seven entries in this collection which focus on providing new ways of interpreting The Three Musketeers The Man in the Iron Mask The Count of Monte Cristo and Georges are categorized into two broad groups The first group focuses on Dumas s relationship with the francophone colonial world during his lifetime which was characterized by the slave trade and provides a postcolonial re examination of his work which was impacted profoundly by his status as an individual of black colonial descent in metropolitan France The second part of this collection which is centered broadly around Dumas s francophone legacy examines the way he has been remembered in the larger French speaking postcolonial world which includes metropolitan France in the past century to explore questions about French identity in an emerging global age Orientalism and Reverse Orientalism in Literature and Film Sharmani
