European B2C E-Commerce in the Banking Sector Caroline Möckel,2010-04-28 Inhaltsangabe Introduction Based on the findings of the correlation analysis described in chapter 7 1 factors of influence and variables statistically not related to financial B2C e commerce can now be distinguished While the focus of this part of the analysis lies on factors showing significant correlation coefficients in relation to the research topic this does not mean that the non correlated factors are not of importance or somewhat connected The statistical measurements may not be suitable for this type of analysis survey results may be misleading or the situation will have changed in the last two years after the investigation On the other hand the observed correlations do not necessarily equal a causal relationship and the high complex matter can not be explained by single variables as influence factors The conducted correlation analysis only serves as an indicator for potential influence factors or accelerators and has to be carefully evaluated Keeping these considerations in mind the statistical analysis within the scope of this masters dissertation will support the following conclusions and interpretations First of all computer usage and skills as well as internet usage and skills need to be on a high level in a country to facilitate financial B2C e commerce Residents of countries with higher levels for the subject of examination will probably already have gained adequate skills as indicated by a medium strong negative relation to computer courses taken in the last three months and other online activities such as online information search and online banking positively correlated While online banking is partially included in the variable e_comm representing financial B2C e commerce through customer s usage of online financial services this particular result may not be totally conclusive However it seems logical that consumers with good computer and internet skills also spending a lot of time with advanced activities on the internet may also engage in financial B2C e commerce This assumption narrows down the target group and excludes a certain clientele from online product offers of financial institutions banks will need to adapt their web portals accordingly set up initiatives improving computer and web skills of their consumers and meet their consumers on the internet e.g. with advertising while they are using search engines Practical evidence supporting these interpretations can be found in several examples of CBSE Class 12 - Information Technology Question Bank Mocktime Publication, 101-01-01 CBSE 12 Question Bank Information Technology Urban Challenges and Urban Design Approaches for Resource-Efficient and Climate-Sensitive Urban Design in the MENA Region Elke Pahl-Weber, Ohlenburg, Holger, Seelig, Sebastian, Kuhla von Bergmann, Nadine, Schäfer, Rudolf, 2013-06-10 In an era defined by climate change huge resource consumption a lack of social cohesion rapidly accelerating technological innovations economic shifts and the transformation of political systems solutions must be pursued at every level of action This book shows how solutions from urban design and planning can by integrating the approaches of multiple disciplines be the first steps toward envisioning the sustainable energy efficient and climate sensitive city of the future This book is compiled for readers from a range of professional backgrounds Its intended audience includes the government bodies municipalities urban planners engineers architects civil servants and citizens who are part of urban development from initiation through implementation The facts and findings presented herein are relevant to any national or international debate concerning urban development which aims to create sustainable resource efficient and climate sensitive urbanization processes The text and visuals of this book are intended to serve as a comprehensive decision support tool taking into account that current and future urban challenges and planning tasks can only be tackled through an interlinked and stakeholder driven iterative process As a result of the Young Cities research project this book acts as a multilayered reference manual by providing a a brief outline of the MENA region s urban challenges b a proposal for generic principles and actions for creating an energy and resource efficient as well as environmentally sustainable urban environment c the opportunities and impacts of each discipline involved in an integrated planning process and d the findings of the applied principles in the 35 ha Shahre Javan Community pilot project

Convergence of Project Management and Knowledge Management T. Kanti Srikantiah, Michael

E. D. Koenig, Suliman Hawamdeh, 2010-11-16 Knowledge is power but this is especially true for teams carrying out a project. As in other arenas the effective use of knowledge is possible only if it is readily accessible, well organized, properly analyzed and competently disseminated to meet the project needs. Knowledge gained from project failures or successes is vital for the long term sustainability of organizations to compete in the business environment. This book focuses on the proper access and delivery methods for explicit knowledge in projects and also concentrates on tacit knowledge, unknown and unavailable to most people in project environments. Every project is unique with start and end dates, detailed project plan, budget, schedule, human resources and deliverables, and all these areas have a high volume of rich knowledge. Knowledge is created and flows through all nine project knowledge areas: Project Integration Management, Project Scope Management, Project Time Management, Project Cost Management, Project Quality Management, Project Human Resources Management, Project Communications Management, Project Risk Management, and Project Procurement Management. This book discusses the benefits of managing knowledge in projects and provides techniques that will increase the rate of return on projects. Addressing strategy and deployment issues, this volume also provides case studies, making this an invaluable tool for the success of projects and sustainability growth of organizations.

City Planning in India, 1947-2017 Ashok Kumar, Sanjeev Vidyarthi, Poonam Prakash, 2020-07-07 This book is a comprehensive history of city planning in post independence India. It explores how the nature and orientation of city planning have evolved in India's changing sociopolitical context over the past hundred or so years. The book situates India's experience within a historical framework in order to illustrate continuities and disjunctions between the pre and post independent Indian laws, policies and programs for city planning and development. It focuses on the development scope and significance of professional planning work in the midst of rapid economic transition, migration, social disparity and environmental degradation. The volume also highlights the need for inclusive planning processes that can provide clean air, water and community spaces to large, diverse and fast growing communities. Detailed and insightful, this volume will be of interest to researchers and students of public administration, civil engineering, architecture, geography, economics and sociology. It will also be useful for policy makers and professionals working in the areas of town and country planning.

Goes to the Moon... Marco Aliberti, 2015-07-04. This book is about China's ambitions in its most complex and internationally visible space endeavor, namely its human space exploration programme. It provides a comprehensive reflection on China's strategic direction and objectives in space, including in particular those set forth in its human spaceflight programme, and analyses the key domestic and external factors affecting the country's presumed manned lunar ambitions. The objective of the book is to disentangle the opportunities and challenges China's space ambitions are creating for other spacefaring nations and for Europe in particular. It therefore includes an in-depth analysis of possible European postures towards China in space exploration and seeks to stimulate a debate on future space strategies in the broader context of world politics. □□□□ □□□□
