Euro-Mediterranean Partenariat,1996* The Euro-Mediterranean Partnership Pros and Cons Hani H. Habeeb,2002 This book is a historical document a disputed analysis and evidence of the Euro Mediterranean Partnership as introduced by the Barcelona Declaration It is an account of the unprecedented and unrivalled negotiations between the Euro Mediterranean partners and an evaluation of their achievements It is also an account of the obstacles faced in the transformation of the Euro Mediterranean region into one of peace security stability and prosperity to ensure the realisation of a just and comprehensive peace in the Middle East on the basis of the international terms of reference democratic principles the establishment of a free trade zone a market economy system and the participation of civil society The book addresses several questions which aim to determine whether the Partnership is an extension of the crusades and the Balfour Declaration the result of international transformations a reflection of diversity or a real threat to the security economy and culture of the Arab world aimed at Arab identity and the perpetration of division amongst the Arab world through the creation of a multinational regional system identified as the Western model for an Eastern Mediterranean system that will ensure the integration of Israel and the creation of a separate phase of rupture and alienation within the history of Arab civilisation Similarly this book argues whether the Euro Mediterranean Partnership globalisation imperialist alliances and civil society are multiple manifestations of a single phenomenon to insure Western supremacy and strategic expansion and the exploitation of the Mediterranean region Or whether the Partnership is the strategic Arab European choice needed at this particular moment in history in order to galvanise an effective European political and economic role in the development and economic technological and civil evolution of the Arab world Assessment of the Barcelona Process in the Light of the New
