

Spanking Bench

The Spanking Bench is a sturdy piece of furniture that places a submissive in a kneeling position, within easy reach of a standing dominant. The arm and leg rests are adjustable and removable so you can put your sub in many positions.

The frame of the bench folds down to 18" by 36" [450 by 900 mm], making it about half the size of other benches I've seen. This compactness lets you store it easily in the smallest closet or car.

The bench is shown without upholstery, but you'll definitely want to use firm padding on the arm and leg rests, if not the top rest.

The basic project doesn't include any anchor points on the bench, but you should include some. You can feed leather straps through slots or drill holes for rope or chain. See "Hardware" on page 29 for other possibilities. Decide how you'll bind your sub before you start upholstering the bench.

The arm and leg rests use three carriage bolts each. All of them are mated permanently to the rests using nuts and washers (For every item 10, item 11 and 12 presses against item 6 to hold item 10 in place).

Notice that only the middle bolt attaches to the bench frame with a wing nut; each rest needs only one wing nut to hold the rest in place. The carriage bolts on the ends keep the rests from rattling or spinning.

The arm and leg rests have three extra holes that let you mate them with each other for compact storage and easier transport. If you prefer to have all the rests separate, you can ignore the extra holes. These small holes on item 4 can be 1/2" [13 mm] or whatever size you need. The larger holes on item 4 should fit the washers (item 11) or be 1" [25 mm].

Overall, the bench is easy to build, but drill the holes carefully. Because the arm and leg rests should fit in all the holes on the bench frame interchangeably, you must measure accurately and make all the holes true. If the carriage bolts sit crooked or the frame holes wander, your mistakes will haunt you whenever you try to assemble the bench.

As long as you open the bench to a reasonable angle, there's little risk of a submissive toppling it. Nevertheless, you can make your bench safer by threading the chain through short, 1" [25 mm] diameter pipes (not shown) that sit under the bench frame. The pipes keep the bench frame from being closed while the bench is in use and should be about 18" [450 mm] long.

As designed, the top rest subassembly consists of a PVC pipe that is capped at both ends for extra strength. The top rest doesn't need padding but may benefit from it. Frankly, upholstering this is difficult, so I'll let you innovate; use pop rivets, glue or whatever works for you.

Alternately, you can design your own top rest subassembly.

You can use this as a heavy-duty horse if you use it with the pipe spacers and top rest but don't use the arm and leg rests.
