literary forms The outcome is a work that situates postcolonial classics by Chinua Achebe and Joseph Conrad in online debates on cancel culture and decolonization while responding to social media discussions on Western literary prizes ethnicity and sexuality involving writers like Soyinka Ng g Wainaina and Adichie Neverending Stories R. Harrow,Frieda Ekotto,2015-05-29 Frieda Ekotto Kenneth W Harrow and an international group of scholars set forth new understandings of the conditions of contemporary African cultural production in this forward looking volume Arguing that it is impossible to understand African cultural productions without knowledge of the structures of production distribution and reception that surround them the essays grapple with the shifting notion of what African means when many African authors and filmmakers no longer live or work in Africa While the arts continue to flourish in Africa addressing questions about marginalization what is center and what periphery what traditional or conservative and what progressive or modern requires an expansive view of creative production The Bloomsbury Handbook of Postcolonial Print Cultures Toral Jatin Gajarawala,Neelam Srivastava,Rajeswari Sunder Rajan,Jack Webb,2023-08-10 The texts that make up postcolonial print cultures are often found outside the archival catalogue and in lesser examined repositories such as personal collections the streets or appendages to established collections This volume examines the published and unpublished writing magazines pamphlets paratexts advertisements cartoons radio and street art that serve as the intellectual forces behind opposition to colonial orders as meditations on the futures of embryonic nation states and as visions of new forms of equality The print cultures examined here are necessarily anti institutional they serve as a counterpoint to the colonial archive and relatedly to more traditional genres and text formats coming out of large scale publishers This means that much of the primary material analyzed in this book has not been scrutinized before Many of these print productions articulate collective liberation projects with origins in the grassroots They include debates around the shape of the postcolonial nation and the new state formation that necessarily draw on a diverse and contentious public sphere of opinion Their rhetoric ranges from the reformist to the revolutionary Reflecting the diversity indeed the disorderliness of postcolonial print cultures this book covers local national and transnational cultures from Asia Africa Europe and the Americas Its wide ranging essays offer a nuanced and taken together a definitive though that is not to say comprehensive or systematic study of a global phenomenon postcolonial print cultures as a distinct literary field The chapters recover the efforts of writers readers and publishers to produce a postcolonialism from below and thereby offer a range of fresh perspectives on the meaning and history of postcolonialism

Daymond,2003 Essential this distinctive series presents 120 southern African texts that are rich evocative Library Journal Story of My Life William Taylor,1895 Making African Christianity Robert J. Houle,2011-09-16 In Making African Christianity author Robert J Houle argues that Africans successfully naturalized Christianity This book examines the long history of the faith among colonial Zulu Christians known as amakholwa in what would become South Africa As it has become clear that Africans are not discarding Christianity a number of scholars have taken up the challenge of understanding why this is the case and how we got to this point Where others have focused on the economic and political potential of conversion this book argues that we need to understand what was embedded within the faith that Africans found so appealing Houle argues that translation did not end with the bible but extended to Christian theology which needed to be fully appropriated before the faith was secure on the continent For Zulu the religion was not a good fit until converts filled critical gaps in the faith such as how Christianity could account for the active and everyday presence of the ancestral spirits a problem that was true for African converts across the continent in slightly different ways This book offers fresh insight into the history behind the contemporary success of Christianity on the continent and will be welcomed by African historians those interested in the history of colonialism missions southern African and in particular Christianity Literary Transactions in South Africa Michael Chapman,2025-04-03 A representative overview of some of the most pressing concerns in contemporary literary criticism in South Africa demonstrating literary form s shaping power in the interpretation of politically contentious content Rather than pressing literature into the service of a political cause or programme this study s purpose its politics of interpretation is to open literature to the potential of human experience in both the personal and the public life The society of focus South Africa is a society of political contestation Instead of prioritizing the what of contestation however Michael Chapman explores contestation through the how of the literary work In sharp transactions between an intransitivity of form and a compulsion to communicate the book elucidates an ethics of aesthetics in

J M Coetzee and Nadine Gordimer and the best of modernism and the worst of modernism in Roy Campbell s poetry It also asks Can Themba s style of the shebeens in the 1950s be re visited in a contemporary context of gender based abuse Why or how are Ellen Kuzwayo and Mtutuzeli Matshoba writing in the struggle years of the 1970s simultaneously less than artists and more than artists Has the interpretative frame of the postcolonial best served fiction after apartheid What language of interpretation best releases the voices of contemporary women s poetry a poetry which in its play on identities and identifications looks both inwards to its locality and outwards to the globe Alert to both South Africa s colonial past and its assertions of today Literary Transactions in South Africa pursues the challenge of interpreting a literature of disjuncture between Africa and the West or the South and the North

Publish and be damned Wellington s famous adage runs like a leitmotiv through John Calder s memoirs He has been damned by a censorious press by politicians by other publishers and by organs of the state for publishing books on sensitive issues Damned also for publishing such authors as Henry Miller William Burroughs Alexander Trocchi and Hubert Selby Jr as well as for bringing to public notice the abuses of the armies and security forces of colonial countries He took on American authors who could not be published in the United States during the McCarthy witch hunt He exposed the atrocities of the Algerian and other African wars and produced many books on British political social and moral issues which only a totally independent publisher could have done Born into the most conservative of establishment families John Calder has always gone his own way seeking out literary genius and creating a greater awareness of the world we inhabit His publishing programme contained a large proportion of the leading writers of the twentieth century including Samuel Beckett Eugene Ionesco Luigi Pirandello Alain Robbe Grillet Marguerite Duras Heinrich Boell and such British authors as Howard Barker Edward Bond Steven Berkoff and Ann Quin Anecdotes abound in these memoirs about Bertrand Russell Alger Hiss Graham Greene J B Priestley Jo Grimond and dozens of others whom the author encountered in his activities both within and outside of publishing This book is too outspoken to make many friends but it will open eyes and upset apple carts Never a saint Calder is as frank about his own failings as of those of others
