best special edition DVDs and a new chapter on finding hidden easter egg features      The Ethics of Cultural Studies

Joanna Zylinska, 2005-05-01 Ethical questions feature prominently on today's cultural and political agendas. The Ethics of Cultural Studies presents an ethical manifesto for Cultural Studies, an exploration of its current ethical and political concerns and of its future challenges. The book is concerned with ethics in the material world and draws on examples as diverse as cloning and genetics, asylum and immigration, experiments in plastic surgery and in electronic and digital art, memories of the Holocaust, September 11th and media representations of violence and crime. The Ethics of Cultural Studies is a groundbreaking intervention that sets the debate on ethics in cultural study and offers an invaluable source of ideas for students of contemporary culture.      Billboard, 2006-07-22

Neo-Noir Mark Bould, Kathrina Glitre, Greg Tuck, 2009-06-30 Neo noir knows its past. It knows the rules of the game and how to break them. From Point Blank 1998 to Oldboy 2003, from Get Carter 2000 to 36 Quai des Orfèvres 2004, from Catherine Tramell to Max Payne, neo noir is a transnational global phenomenon. This wide-ranging collection maps out the terrain, combining genre stylistic and textual analysis with Marxist, feminist, psychoanalytic and industrial approaches. Essays discuss works from the US, UK, France, Japan, South Korea, Hong Kong and New Zealand, key figures such as David Lynch, the Coen Brothers, Quentin Tarantino and Sharon Stone, major conventions such as the femme fatale, paranoia, anxiety, the city and the threat to the self and the use of sound and colour.      The Ironic Filmmaking of Stephen Frears Lesley Brill, 2016-08-11

Stephen Frears has a career approaching over half a century directing films of astonishing variety beauty and daring and yet many often have trouble remembering his name The Ironie Filmmaking of Stephen Frears celebrates this great filmmaker beginning with a short biography of Frears general observations on unifying themes and styles in his oeuvre and the characterization of his manner of directing By focusing on 10 key films Lesley Brill finds coherence in Frears characteristic irony and in his concentration on many kinds of love In movies such as My Beautiful Laundrette Dangerous Liaisons High Fidelity The Queen Philomena and many others Frears portrays widely varied situations and characters with a combination of insight skepticism and sympathy He has the passionate unjudgmental focus of an artist who stands simultaneously at a distance from his subjects and within their worlds Through Frears work is widely admired Brill argues that he has attracted little scholarly writing because of a combination of the diffidence of his self presentation and the difficulty of explicating the complex ideas and characters of his films The Ironie Filmmaking of Stephen Frears is meant to inspire others to further examine his films individually and his career as a whole

From Empire to the World Malini Guha, 2015-01-20 The study of globalization in cinema assumes many guises from the exploration of global cinematic cities to the burgeoning world cinema turn within film studies which addresses the global nature of film production exhibition and distribution In this ambitious new study Malini Guha draws together these two distinctly different ways of thinking about the cinema interrogating representations of global London and Paris as migrant cinematic cities featuring the arrival settlement and departure of migrant figures from the decline of imperial rule to the global present Drawing on a range of case studies from contemporary cinema including the films of Michael Haneke Claire Denis Horace OvcY nd Stephen Frears Guha also considers their world cinema status in light of their reconfiguration of established forms of filmmaking from modernism to social realism An illuminating analysis of London and Paris in world cinema from the vantage point of migrant mobilities From Empire to the World explores the ramifications of this historical shift towards the global one that pertains in equal measure to cityscapes their representation as world cinema texts and to the rise of world cinema discourse within film studies itself Roger Ebert's Movie Yearbook 2005 Roger Ebert, 2004 Containing reviews written from January 2002 to mid June 2004 including the films Seabiscuit The Passion of the Christ and Finding Nemo the best and the worst films of this period undergo Ebert's trademark scrutiny It also contains the year's interviews and essays as well as highlights from Ebert's film festival coverage from Cannes

Framing the World Paula Willoquet-Maricondi, 2010-09-03 The essays in this collection make a contribution to the greening of film studies and expand the scope of ecocriticism as a discipline traditionally rooted in literary studies In addition to highlighting particular films as productive tools for raising awareness and educating us about environmental issues Framing the World Explorations in Ecocriticism and Film encourages its readers to become more ecologically minded viewers sensitive to the ways in which films reflect shape reinforce and challenge our perceptions of nature of human nature relations and of environmental issues The contributors to this volume offer in depth analyses of a broad range of films including fictional and documentary Hollywood and independent domestic and foreign experimental and indigenous Drawing from disciplines including film theory ecocriticism philosophy rhetoric environmental justice and American and Indigenous studies Framing the World offers new and original approaches to the ecocritical study of cinema The twelve essays are gathered in four parts focusing on ecocinema as activist cinema the representation of environmental justice issues in Hollywood independent and foreign films the representation of animals ecosystems and natural and human made landscapes in live action and animation and ecological themes in the films of two eco auteurs Kiyoshi Kurosawa and Peter Greenaway Willoquet Maricondi s introduction provides an overview of the field of ecocriticism and offers both philosophical and theoretical foundations for the ecocritical study of films Contributors Beth Berila St Cloud State University Lynne Dickson Bruckner Chatham College Elizabeth Henry University of Denver Joseph K Heumann Eastern Illinois University Harri Kilpi University of East Anglia Jennifer Machiorlatti Western Michigan University Mark Minster Rose Hulman Institute of Technology Robin L Murray Eastern Illinois University Tim Palmer University of North Carolina Wilmington Cory Shaman Arkansas Tech University Rachel Stein Siena College Paula Willoquet Maricondi Marist College

London in Cinema Charlotte Brunson, 2019-07-25 Charlotte Brunson s illuminating study explores the variety of cinematic Londons that appear in films made since 1945 Brunson traces the familiar ways that film makers establish that a film is set in London by use of recognisable landmarks and the city s shorthand iconography of red buses and black taxis as well as the ways in which these icons are avoided She looks at London weather fog and rain and everyday locations like the pub and the housing estate while also examining the recurring patterns of representation associated with films set in the East and West Ends of London from Spring in Park Lane 1948 to Mona Lisa 1986 and from Night and the City 1950 to From Hell 2001 Brunson provides a detailed analysis of a selection of films exploring their contribution to the cinematic geography of London and showing the ways in which feature films have responded to and created changing views of the city She traces London s transformation from imperial capital to global city through the different ways in which the local is imagined in films ranging from Ealing comedies to Pressure 1974 as well as through the shifting imagery of the River Thames and the Docks She addresses the role of cinematic genres such as horror and film noir in the constitution of the cinematic city as well as the recurrence of figures such as the cockney the gangster and the housewife Challenging the view that London is not a particularly cinematic city Brunson demonstrates that many London set films offer their own meditation on the complex relationships between the cinema and the city

Moving Pictures/Stopping Places David B. Clarke, Valerie Crawford Pfannhauser, Marcus A. Doel, 2009-05-16 Mobility has long been a defining feature of modern societies yet remarkably little attention has been paid to the various stopping places _hotels motels and the like_ that this mobility presupposes If the paradoxical qualities of fixed places dedicated to facilitating movement have been overlooked by a variety of commentators film makers have shown remarkable prescience and consistency in engaging with these still points around which the world is made to turn Hotels and motels play a central role in a multitude of films ranging across an immensely wide variety of genres eras and national cinemas Whereas previous film theorists have focused on the movement implied by road movies and similar genres the outstanding contributions to this volume extend the recent engagement with space and place in film studies providing a series of fascinating explorations of the cultural significance of stopping places both on screen and off Ranging from the mythical elegance of the Grand Hotel through the uncanny spaces of the Bates motel to Korean love motels the wealth of insights from a variety of theoretical perspectives that this volume delivers is set to change our understanding of the role played by stopping places in an increasingly fluid world Roger Ebert's Movie Yearbook 2006 Roger Ebert,2005-11 Now fully updated this annual yearbook includes every review Ebert had written from January 2007 to July 2009 It also includes interviews essays tributes and all new questions and answers from his Questions for the Movie Answer Man columns

Transplant Fictions Emily Russell,2019-04-17 Removing an organ from one typically dead body and placing it in another living body challenges our most foundational ideas about boundaries between self and other individual and social identity life and death health and illness But despite these transgressions organ transplant is a celebrated and relatively common procedure Transplant Fictions brings together a diverse set of cultural representations to understand how we have overcome the profound ideological violations represented by organ exchange in order to reimagine the concept and practice as technological and moral victories From the plots of horror stories and sci fi novels to sentimental romances and feel good media reports of stranger donation this cultural study offers a nuanced portrait of the conceptual journey of organ exchange from strange and terrible to the gift of life The Spectral Metaphor E. Peeren,2014-01-30 What does it mean to live as a ghost Exploring spectrality as a metaphor in the contemporary British and American cultural imagination Peeren proposes that certain subjects migrants servants mediums and missing persons are perceived as living ghosts and examines how this figuration can signify both dispossession and empowerment or agency
