Chekagn, 2016-04-25 As a low income country Ethiopia has made impressive progress in improving health outcomes This report examines how Ethiopia's Health Extension Program HEP has contributed to the country's move toward Universal Health Coverage UHC and to shed light on how other countries may learn from Ethiopia's experiences of HEP when designing their own path to UHC HEP is one of the government's UHC strategies introduced in a context of limited resources and low coverage of essential health services The key aspects of the program include the capacity building and mobilization of more than 30 000 Health Extension Workers HEWs targeting more than 12 million model families and the mobilization of health development army to support the community based health system Using the HEP UHC conceptual model and data from Demographic and Health Surveys the study examines how the HEP has contributed to the country's move toward UHC During the period that the HEP has been implemented the country has experienced significant improvements in many dimensions in terms of socioeconomic psychological behavioral and biological dimensions of the beneficiaries and in terms of the coverage of health care services The study finds an accelerated rate of improvements among the rural less educated and the poor population which is leading to an overall reduction in equity gaps and improvements in the equity indicators including the concentration indices that suggest a more equitable distribution of resources and health outcomes The HEP in Ethiopia has demonstrated that an institutionalized community approach is effective in helping a country make progress toward UHC The elements of success in the HEP include the emphasis on community mobilization which identifies community priorities engages and empowers community members and supports their ability to solve local problems The other aspect of HEP is the emphasis on institutionalization of the activities which addresses the sustainability of community programs through high level of political commitment and effective coordination of national policies and leveraging of support from partners These findings may offer useful lessons for other low income countries facing similar challenges in developing and implementing a sustainable UHC strategy

Making Medicines in Africa Maureen Mackintosh, Geoffrey Banda, Watu Wamae, Paula Tibandebage, 2016-02-03 This book is open access under a CC BY license The importance of the pharmaceutical industry in Sub-Saharan Africa, its claim to policy priority is rooted in the vast unmet health needs of the sub-continent Making Medicines in Africa is a collective endeavour by a group of contributors with a strong African and more broadly Southern presence to find ways to link technological development, investment and industrial growth in pharmaceuticals to improve access to essential good quality medicines as part of moving towards universal access to competent health care in Africa The authors aim to shift the emphasis in international debate and initiatives towards sustained Africa based and African led initiatives to tackle this huge challenge Without the technological, industrial, intellectual, organisational and research related capabilities associated with competent pharmaceutical production and without policies that pull the industrial sectors towards serving local health needs the African sub-continent cannot generate the resources to tackle its populations needs and demands Research for this book has been selected as one of the 20 best examples of the impact of UK research on development See <http://www.ukcds.org.uk> the global impact of UK research for further details

Evaluation of FAO's country programme in Ethiopia 2014-2019 Food and Agriculture Organization for the United Nations, 2020-10-06

Ethiopia is a low income country and agriculture is the mainstay of the economy accounting for 34 percent of GDP and 70 percent of total employment share. Ethiopia remains one of the world's poorest countries despite the significant progress achieved in reducing poverty and hunger. The Government of Ethiopia through its Growth and Transformation Plan (GTP II) has consistently prioritized the transformation of agriculture from low input subsistence oriented production systems to a fast growing intensive and commercially oriented sector to support the country's aspirations to become a middle income country by 2025. FAO's Country Programme Framework 2016-2020 was formulated based on the GTP II. Over the evaluation period 2014-2019, FAO exceeded the resource mobilization targets. Overall, FAO's programme displays several imbalances and disconnects, specifically between development activities and emergency response. The evaluation calls for FAO to adopt a more cohesive programmatic approach and continue to consolidate its fragmented programme. In the context of the Government's plans for agricultural transformation, the evaluation also recommends that FAO support an economically sound value chain and market based approach to agricultural development while upholding normative values of inclusiveness and ecological sustainability.

Compendium report on multisectoral actions for the prevention and control of noncommunicable diseases and mental health conditions World Health Organization, 2024-05-03

Noncommunicable diseases (NCDs) and mental health conditions have a profound impact on societies, communities and individuals around the world. Their risk factors and determinants extend beyond the traditional health sector. Addressing this complex challenge necessitates interventions that reach beyond the boundaries of public health and requires a coherent, coordinated approach across all relevant governmental sectors. Understanding, documenting and sharing how governments implement multisectoral actions are essential to overcome these challenges and identify the capacity needs for coherent and sustainable responses to NCDs and mental health. In 2019, WHO Member States requested the Director General to provide a consolidated report to the World Health Assembly analysing approaches to multisectoral action for NCD prevention and control, including addressing social economic and environmental determinants of health This compendium report is the Secretariat s response to that request and features case studies from countries across WHO s six regions Strategic analysis and intervention plan for potatoes and potato products in the Agro-Commodities Procurement Zone of the pilot Integrated Agro-Industrial Park in Central-Eastern Oromia, Ethiopia Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2019-09-02 With the current Second Growth and Transformation Plan 2015 2020 the Government of Ethiopia expects the agro industrial sector to play key role in economic growth of the Country Accordingly the creation of Integrated Agro Industrial Parks has been identified as one of the key mechanisms for accelerating the development of the sector and the structural transformation of agriculture Agro industrial parks will play a significant role in transitioning Ethiopia from an agricultural led into an industrial led economy In view of that the development of Integrated Agro Industrial Parks has been prioritized in Ethiopia s national development strategy and four Agro Industrial Growth Corridors have been selected for piloting the establishment of four Integrated Agro Industrial Parks The initiative aims at driving the structural transformation of the Ethiopian economy while reducing rural poverty and creating a better environment for increased investments in agro processing and allied sectors Since 1981 FAO has been a strong partner of the Government of Ethiopia towards the achievement of national food security and economic growth goals FAO is working closely with the Ministry of Agriculture and Natural Resources to empower value chain actors and to promote inclusive efficient and sustainable agricultural value chains The present document is the fourth one of a series of detailed analyses of prioritized commodities which will lead to inclusive sustainable and stronger agricultural value chains in the Agro Commodities Procurement Zone of the pilot Integrated Agro Industrial Park in Central Eastern Oromia Geneva Health Forum 2020 Poster Book Antoine Flahault,Antoine Geissbuhler,Nicole Rosset,2022-01-06 The Geneva Health Forum is the forum that brings together key actors of Global Health Created in 2006 and held every two years ever since it is organized by the Geneva University Hospitals HUG and the University of Geneva in partnership with 30 global health organizations Building on the dynamic of International Geneva the Geneva Health Forum is one of the most important international global health conferences The overall objective of the Geneva Health Forum is to contribute to the improvement of health and access to health care in the world To achieve this goal it aims to give visibility to innovative field experiences and to establish a critical and constructive dialogue between global health actors from different sectors as well as to foster collaborations between them At each edition the Geneva Health Forum gives an important place to the presentation of research projects Research whether carried out by students or established researchers contributes to innovation and new practices in access to care The synthesis of research results in the form of a poster remains a quality exercise Electronic dissemination offers new opportunities to meet a wider audience Favoring a multidisciplinary approach the GHF is open to all professions working in the health field From 16 to 18 November 2020 the eighth edition of the Geneva Health Forum which took place in the difficult context of the Covid 19 pandemic hosted 165 posters The present collection
