The Politics of Community-making in New Urban India Ritanjan Das, Nilotpal Kumar, 2023-04-17 This book explores the relationship between the production of new urban spaces and illiberal community making in contemporary India. It is based on an ethnographic study in Noida, a city at the eastern fringe of the state of Uttar Pradesh bordering national capital Delhi. The book demonstrates a flexible planning approach being central to the entrepreneurial turn in India's post liberalisation urbanisation whereby a small scale industrial township is transformed into a real estate driven modern city. Its real point of departure however is in the argument that this turn can enable a form of illiberal community making in new cities that are quite different from older metropolises. Exclusivist forms of solidarity and symbolic boundary construction stemming from the differences across communities as well as their internal heterogeneities form the crux of this process which is examined in three distinct but often interspersed socio spatial forms: planned middle class residential quarters, urban villages and migrant squatter colonies. The book combines radical geographical conceptualisations of social production of space and neoliberal urbanism with sociological and anthropological approaches to urban community making. It will be of interest to researchers in development studies, sociology, urban studies as well as readers interested in society and politics of contemporary India.

South Asia Sustainable Regional Development Vinita Yadav, 2020-03-18 Region encompasses of inter dependent urban and rural areas. The rural areas supply perishable items to urban areas and from urban areas migrants send remittances back to their homes in rural areas. In India where 68.85 percent of the population resided in rural area in 2011, the balanced regional development is required to achieve uniform and equitable distribution of resources. Of late, most of the Government's planning related efforts and associated development are more in cities being largest contributor to Gross Domestic Product (GDP) than rural areas. Higher investment in cities as compared to rural areas contradicts the basic premise of a balanced regional development. Though region received recognition through 73 and 74 Constitutional Amendment Act, yet regional planning is still amiss. As the population is increasing at a faster rate, one has to design the space in a sustainable manner. The development by means of infrastructure or governance shall have the futuristic approach. The book intends to create knowledge about the significance of regional planning. Using case study approach, thirteen chapters by contributing authors provides an in depth understanding of both theoretical and practical aspects related to the concepts of regionalization, agglomeration, economies, contract farming, industrialization, corridor development and heritage based development. In the book, highly acclaimed professionals present a microscopic view of planning of varied type of regions and suggest ways to avoid the excess and misuse of resources which will dwindle the quintessence of future development. The book provides a one stop answer to the quest of university students, government officials, researchers, officials from non Government and private organisations to comprehend the concept of region, contextualize its importance as a viable unit of planning to resolve prevalent issues keeping in mind futuristic outlook of regional development. The editor establishes the importance of region.

as a viable unit of planning emphasizes upon the need for contextualising the issues existing in the region and accentuates that Government's effort at national and state levels should be towards holistic planning of a region Comprehensive Master Plan ,1964 Master Plan Report: Preliminary general land use plan Chatham County-Savannah Metropolitan Planning Commission,1958* V.K. Assessing the Role of Master Plans in City Development Ramakrishna Nallathiga,2017 Master plans have emerged as the standard instruments of planning to be developed by urban local governments in India Master plans are forward planning tools that anticipate urban development and make provisions for it on city space in terms of a the allocation of land for various uses b the regulation of its development and c the provision of civic infrastructure However they have received an increasing amount of criticism on several grounds First of all plan making process is not in line with that suggested under UDPFI guidelines and several States are at different stages of plan development Second it is also held that the approach of master plan is far too simplistic especially to anticipate development needs citizens aspirations their very long tenure has been a major hindrance to anticipate socio economic and technological changes over time Third most of the plans are not co terminus with urban local government which leads to interventions at later stage or in implementation stage by obtaining deviations from plan proposals Fourth it is also held that master plan formats fail to meet the aspirations expectations of citizens due to elite capture and lip service to public participation Finally the approach taken towards plan implementation is fraught with financial challenges and also the risks of legal challenges of land acquisition Planning system in Indian States needs to be overhauled and streamlined so that some of the above challenges are met Plans have to move beyond the traditional straight jacket approach and adopt strategic and project dimensions Plan implementation needs to be given more serious attention especially through pro active proposals incentive based policy adoption of complimentary instruments and utilising land based instruments It is hoped that with reforms and renewal of planning system plan making and modified approach the plans would become successful in meeting their objective Comprehensive Master Plan East Orange (N.J.).
