Hunger of Memory Richard Rodriguez, 2004-02-03 Hunger of Memory is the story of Mexican American Richard Rodriguez who begins his schooling in Sacramento California knowing just 50 words of English and concludes his university studies in the stately quiet of the reading room of the British Museum Here is the poignant journey of a minority student who pays the cost of his social assimilation and academic success with a painful alienation from his past his parents his culture and so describes the high price of making it in middle class America Provocative in its positions on affirmative action and bilingual education Hunger of Memory is a powerful political statement a profound study of the importance of language and the moving intimate portrait of a boy struggling to become a man

The Enduring Library Michael Gorman, 2003-01-23 In this work one of the library world's thinkers discusses the transformative effect that communications technology has had on information delivery from past to present to future By tracing these transformations Michael Gorman writes a roadmap for achieving balance between the tradition of library service and ever changing technology

Enacting Adolescent Literacies across Communities R. Joseph Rodríguez, 2016-11-30 Through an innovative approach of critical ethnography and literacy research via case study methodologies Enacting Adolescent Literacies across Communities Latino a Scribes and Their Rites analyzes Latino adolescents engagement with the elements of literacy for English language arts learning and understanding How young people enact literacies in their bicultural lives and understand literary traditions today reveals their own interests in democracy equity and opportunity Moreover the rites they perform often recover buried histories mirrors and stories similar to the pre Columbian scribes whose intellectual legacy is relevant in the twenty first century R Joseph Rodríguez illustrates how adolescents experience scribal identities and language pluralism that sustains their cultural knowledge as they make meaning and enact literacies with diverse audiences in civic and schooling communities

Chicano Controversy Paul Guajardo, 2002 Chicano Controversy takes a unique approach to two colorful and controversial Chicano writers Oscar Acosta and Richard Rodriguez Paul Guajardo argues that Acosta's involvement with the Chicano movement of the late 1960s and 1970s was somewhat opportunistic as Acosta was always uneasy about his identity and ethnicity Conversely Guajardo argues that Richard Rodriguez who also problematizes notions of ethnicity requires re evaluation and full inclusion into the broadening canon of Chicano literature
