National Baptist newspaper covering such topics as the Christian deportment of women and the need for black spiritual literature are also gathered here as are a program she devised for systematic Bible study and a brief article published just a few years before her death in which she describes some of her missionary field work Complementing these primary materials are an extensive critical introduction and notes by Carter a Walker Broughton family tree and a chronology of Broughton s life As this collection makes clear Virginia Broughton was strongly committed to making the work of black religious women an ongoing intellectual enterprise In these pages she emerges as both a dedicated missionary and a formidable religious scholar

Prizing Children's Literature

Kenneth Kidd, Joseph Thomas Jr., 2016-11-10 Children's book awards have mushroomed since the early twentieth century and especially since the 1960s when literary prizing became a favored strategy for both commercial promotion and canon making. There are over 300 awards for English language titles alone but despite the profound impact of children's book awards, scholars have paid relatively little attention to them. This book is the first scholarly volume devoted to the analysis of Anglophone children's book awards in historical and cultural context. With attention to both political and aesthetic concerns, the book offers original and diverse scholarship on prizing practices and their consequences in Australia, Canada, and especially the United States. Contributors offer both case studies of particular awards and analysis of broader trends in literary evaluation and elevation drawing on theoretical work on canonization and cultural capital. Sections interrogate the complex and often unconscious ideological work of prizing the ongoing tension between formalist awards and so-called identity-based awards all the more urgent in light of the We Need Diverse Books campaign, the ever-morphing forms and parameters of prizing and scholarly practices of prizing. Among the many awards discussed are the Pura Belpr Medal, the Inky Awards, the Canada Governor General Literary Award, the Printz Award, the Best Animated Feature Oscar, the Phoenix Award, and the John Newbery Medal, giving due attention to prizes for fiction as well as for non-fiction, poetry, and film. This volume will interest scholars in literary and cultural studies, social history, book history, sociology, education, library and information science, and anyone concerned with children's literature. Creative Solutions Anistasia Miller, Jared Brown, 2004-11 View the challenges faced when creating a logo.
