Feasibility Studies for Hotels Wolfgang Fercher, 2006-10-16 Inhaltsangabe Abstract The intensity of competition in the tourism business especially in the hotel industry has continuously grown during the last years This development leads to the situation that capital investments in the hospitality industry are connected with ever increasing risks In order to minimize these risk potentials a detailed evaluation of the competitiveness and market compatibility of a planned project is an essential part of any project development process Those analyses are covered in the course of a feasibility study which encloses all aspects that influence the success of a hotel project In this context a feasibility study serves as an information tool for project developers investors tenants hotel operators and financiers in order to make decisions with regard to a specific hotel project The preparation of a feasibility study requires the combination of a multitude of aspects hence input from all participants in the project development process Getting hold of information and the appropriate usage of this information is crucial in order to ensure the success of a study The main objective of this diploma thesis is to identify the most important and current issues in feasibility evaluation of hotel projects In practice many studies are prepared following a fixed model which has not been changed for years However the hospitality industry is highly competitive and dynamic new additions to the existing supply therefore need to be analyzed very carefully The focus of this diploma thesis is specifically put on the hospitality industry This means that feasibility evaluation for other types of project development in the tourist industry is not subject to this study The aim of the thesis is on the one hand to point out aspects that have to be taken into consideration in any study and to give suggestions for improvements on the other hand The author has laid down the following four hypotheses that serve as the main source for the research questions Hypothesis 1 The sensitivity analysis is the most important component of a feasibility study Hypothesis 2 A feasibility study is the most important decision making factor for the investor in a hotel project Hypothesis 3 If the results of a feasibility study seem to turn out negative then the operative concept of the project is changed Hypothesis 4 The level of the construction cost is the factor that is most difficult to estimate and is therefore

CFM Review Irvin N. Gleim, Dale L. Flesher, 2000 CMA/CFM Review Irvin N. Gleim, Dale L. Flesher, 2002 Financial Management from an Emerging Market Perspective Soner Gokten, Guray Kucukkocaoglu, 2018-01-17 One of the main reasons to name this book as Financial Management from an Emerging Market Perspective is to show the main differences of financial theory and practice in emerging markets other than the developed ones Our many years of learning teaching and consulting experience have taught us that the theory of finance differs in developed and emerging markets It is a well known fact that emerging markets do not always share the same financial management problems with the developed ones This book intends to show these differences which could be traced to several characteristics unique to emerging markets and these unique characteristics could generate a different view of finance theory in a different manner As a consequence different financial decisions arrangements institutions and practices may evolve in emerging markets over time The purpose of this book is to provide practitioners and academicians with a working knowledge of the different financial management applications and their use in an emerging market setting Six main topics regarding the financial management applications in emerging markets are covered and the context of these topics are Capital Structure Market Efficiency and Market Models Merger and Acquisitions and Corporate Governance Working Capital Management Financial Economics and Digital Currency and Real Estate and Health Finance

Cumulated Index to the Books ,1999 The Local Budget as a Complex System Jeffrey Chapman, 2022-07-21 This book examines budgeting by analyzing the local government budget as a complex system thus adding a new dimension to traditional budget textbooks It is designed to complement existing texts not replace by putting the budget in a complex system general equilibrium framework A complex systems framework adds to conventional budget analysis in at least four ways It looks at the budget as the result of many variables that are outside the finance department's purview it understands that there are multiple interdependences among these variables it suggests analysis of non obvious relationships among actions in the budget process in order to optimize results and it argues that the actors in the process must understand that their budgetary behaviors have indirect and far reaching implications that go beyond the budget document This book also uses concepts seldom discussed in the budgetary literature that of governance including concepts of the facilitative state with adjustments for exogenous shocks the forms of decision making and the political climate of the jurisdiction This framework notes methods of success of firms in the private sector that operate in environments of rapid technological change While becoming a popular theoretical framework for how private sector firms change dynamic capability analysis has received little attention in the public management field This book utilizes DC since public sector organizations also face rapidly changing environments Lastly the book discusses the potential relationship between the local budget and local community welfare maximization Choice ,1989 Inventory Management Mohamad Y. Jaber, 2009-08-11 As markets become more dynamic and competitive companies must reconsider how they view inventory and make changes to their production and inventory systems They must begin to think outside the classical box and develop a new paradigm of inventory management Exploring the trend away from classical models based on economic order quantities to depe
