The New Wave of British Women Playwrights Elisabeth Angel-Perez, Aloysia Rousseau, 2023-01-30 It is a fact that today's British stages resound with powerfully innovative voices and that very often these voices have been those of young women playwrights This collection of essays gives visibility and pride of place to these fascinating voices by exploring the vitality inventiveness and particularly strong relevance of these poetics These women playwrights sometimes invent radically new forms and sometimes experiment with conventional ones in fresh and unexpected ways as for example when they re energize naturalism and provide it with new missions The plays that are addressed are all concerned with the necessity to grasp the complexity of the contemporary world and to further investigate what it means to be human Intimate or epic and sometimes both at once visionary or closer to everyday life these plays approach the contemporary world through a multitude of prisms historical scientific political and poetic and open different and visionary perspectives

A Narratology of Drama Christine Schwanecke, 2022-01-19 This volume argues against Gérard Genette's theory that there is an insurmountable opposition between drama and narrative and shows that the two forms of storytelling have been productively intertwined throughout literary history Building on the idea that plays often incorporate elements from other genres especially narrative ones the present study theorises drama as a fundamentally narrative genre Guided by the question of how drama tells stories the first part of the study delineates the general characteristics of dramatic narration and zooms in on the use of narrative forms in drama The second part proposes a history of dramatic storytelling from the Renaissance to the twenty first century that transcends conventional genre boundaries Close readings of exemplary British plays provide an overview of the dominant narrative modes in each period and point to their impact in the broader cultural and historical context of the plays Finally the volume argues that throughout history highly narrative plays have had a performative power that reached well beyond the stage dramatic storytelling not only reflects socio political realities but also largely shapes them

The SAGE Handbook of New Approaches in Management and Organization David Barry, Hans Hansen, 2008-04-30 Ten years ago critical theory and postmodernism were considered new and emerging theories in business and management What will be the next new important theories to shape the field In one edited volume David Barry and Hans Hansen have commissioned new chapters that will allow readers to stay one step ahead of the latest thinking Contributors draw on research and practice to introduce ideas that are considered fringe and controversial today but may be key theoretical contributions tomorrow Each chapter sets these ideas in their historical context lays out the key theoretical positions taken by each new approach and makes it clear why these approaches are different to more mainstream concepts Throughout contributors refer to existing studies that show how these developing themes will change the business and management arena Researchers teachers and advanced students who are interested in the future of Business and Management scholarship will want to read this Handbook interested in how neoliberalism both suffuses and is resisted by today's contemporary performance scene Kivalina Christine Shearer, 2011 For the people of Kivalina Alaska the price of further climate change denial could be the complete devastation of their lives and culture Their village must be relocated to survive but neither the fossil fuel giants nor the U S government are willing to take full responsibility P 4 of cover The Routledge Companion to Ethics, Politics and Organizations Alison Pullen, Carl Rhodes, 2015-06-05 The Routledge Companion to Ethics Politics and Organizations synthesizes and extends existing research on ethics in organizations by explicitly focusing on ethico politics where ethics informs political action It draws connections between ethics and politics in and around organizations and the workplace examines cutting edge areas and sets the scene for future research Through a wealth of international and multidisciplinary contributions this volume considers the broad range of ways in which ethics and politics can be conceived and understood The chapters look at various ethical traditions as well as the discursive deployment of ethical terminology in organizational settings and they also examine large scale political structures and processes and how they relate to different forms of politics which affect behaviour in organizations These many possibilities are united by a focus on how ethics can be used to inform and justify the exercise of power in organizations This collection will be a valuable reference source for students and researchers across the disciplines of organizational studies ethics and politics The Effect Lucy Prebble, 2024-08-22 A Student Edition of Lucy Prebble's acclaimed 2012 play which looks at two people on a clinical drugs trial and investigates questions around sanity neurology physical attraction and the possibilities of medicine The edition includes commentary and notes by Paulette Marty which look at the context around depression and anti depressant medication as well as delving into major questions posed by the play such as is love real and what is chemistry when applied to human beings Her commentary also looks at the play in production the implications of the playwright having written the roles for particular actors and the opportunities that arise from the playwright encouraging future actors to mould the text around themselves Stage Business and the Neoliberal Theatre of London Alex Ferrone, 2021-01-21 This book examines contemporary English drama and its relation to the neoliberal consensus that has dominated British policy since 1979 The London stage has emerged as a key site in Britain's reckoning with neoliberalism On one hand many playwrights have denounced the acquisitive values of unfettered global capitalism on the other plays have more readily revealed themselves as products of the very market economy they critique their production histories and formal innovations uncomfortably reproducing the strategies and practices of neoliberal labour markets Stage Business and the Neoliberal Theatre of London thus arrives at a usefully ambivalent political position one that praises the political power of the theatre its potential as a form of resistance to the neoliberal rationality that rides roughshod over democratic values while simultaneously attending to the institutional bondage that constrains it For of course the theatre itself everywhere straddles the line of capitulating to the marketization of our cultural life How Mumbo-Jumbo Conquered the World Francis Wheen, 2005-07-06 What characterizes our era Cults quacks gurus irrational panics moral confusion and an epidemic of mumbo jumbo that's what In How Mumbo Jumbo Conquered the World Francis Wheen brilliantly laments the extraordinary rise of superstition relativism and emotional hysteria From Middle Eastern fundamentalism to the rise of lotteries astrology to mysticism poststructuralism to the Third Way Wheen shows that there has been a pervasive erosion of Enlightenment values which have been displaced by nonsense And no country has a more vivid parade of the bogus and bizarre than the one founded to embody Enlightenment values the USA In turn comic indignant outraged and just plain baffled by the idiocy of it all How Mumbo Jumbo Conquered the World is a masterful depiction of the absurdity of our times and a plea that we might just think a little more and believe a little less

Authenticity in Contemporary Theatre and Performance Daniel Schulze, 2017-03-23 Authenticity is one of the major values of our time It is visible everywhere from clothing to food to self help books While it is such a prevalent phenomenon it is also very evasive This study analyses the culture of authenticity as it relates to theatre and establishes a theoretical framework for analysis Daniel Schulz argues that authenticity is sought out and marked by the individual and springs from a culture that is perceived as inherently fake and lacking depth The study examines three types of performances that exemplify this structure of feeling intimate theatre seen in Forced Entertainment productions such as Quizoola 1996 2015 as well as one on one performances such as Oentroerend Goed's Internal 2009 immersive theatres as illustrated by Punchdrunk's shows The Masque of the Red Death 2007 and The Drowned Man 2013 which provide a visceral sensate understanding for audiences finally the study scrutinises the popular category of documentary theatre through various examples such as Robin Soan's Talking to Terrorists 2005 David Hare's Stuff Happens 2004 Edmund Burke's Black Watch 2007 and Dennis Kelly's pseudo documentary play Taking Care of Baby 2007 It is specifically the value of the document that lends such performances their truth value and consequently their authenticity The study analyses how the success of these disparate categories of performance can be explained through a common concern with notions of truth and authenticity It argues that this hunger for authentic unmediated experience is characteristic of a structure of feeling that has superseded postmodernism and that actively seeks to resignify artistic and cultural practices of the everyday

Affair of the Heart Michael Billington, 2021-09-23 The best theatrical read of the year British Theatre Guide A book of selected theatre reviews from 1992 to 2020 from one of the foremost authorities on British theatre Each chapter starts with a brief commentary on the developments of that era and the social political and cultural context within which British theatre was being produced Key obituaries and letters in response to reviews written are also included providing a rich collection of curated archival material Following on from his first collection One Night Stands Michael Billington's chronicle offers a rich authoritative insight into British theatre over the last 3 decades from his unique professional perspective It begins with Tony Kushner's UK premiere of Angels in America at the National Theatre in 1992 and culminates with Inua Ellams's celebrated adaptation of Chekhov's Three Sisters at the same venue almost 30 years later En route we're exposed to the fallibility of theatre criticism through his much regretted original criticism of Sarah Kane's Blasted and its role in identifying major talents at the first opportunity Having recently retired from his 48 year position as the Guardian newspaper's drama critic during which time he wrote around 10 000 theatre reviews Michael Billington was Britain's longest serving theatre critic Through his work he was
