The Gentle Art of Leadership Brian Donovan, Dean Phelan, 2024-11-12 What makes leaders great The writing is on the wall Quantitative and qualitative research indicate they consistently practise a Gentle Art of Leadership Firsthand analyses of more than six thousand 360o feedback reports Over 50 one on one interviews with Leaders Reflections on hundreds of Executive Coaching sessions Review of over 160 books and articles on leadership Our own experiences as CEOs A compelling guide and handbook for anyone in a leadership role This Gentle Art of Leadership cuts against the grain of the often held view that great leaders CEOs and team coaches are charismatic extroverted forceful characters with powerful egos and that we need such big personalities to transform our companies organisations sporting teams and nations Sometimes this view proves to be true and we remember such characters But more often the greatest leaders who leave the greatest legacies have a powerful mixture of personal humility integrity and indomitable will for forwarding the health success and long term prosperity of their organisation and people They seem to get the best out of others by genuinely treating them with dignity and respect whilst focused on strategic outcomes

Rooted Leadership John Johnson, 2022-06-14 Behind many of the challenges facing us today is a failure of leadership This is not a new problem Yearning for wise guidance and effective authority is a perennial human longing We need leaders who are credible competent and committed But many leaders seem to be caught up even consumed with their own power and agendas Some see the leadership crisis as an intellectual problem believing we lack a clear theory of leadership Others view the breakdown of leadership as a result of increasing deficiency in moral character Most leadership books today revolve around the concepts of motivation inspiration empowerment and teamwork Helpful as these themes might be they miss something more fundamental Leadership needs a theological foundation that will be useful for shaping the undergirding principles and evaluating current leadership theories and practices We need to view leadership from the vantage point of God In Rooted Leadership John E Johnson explores how Christian theology provides an overarching leadership framework and applies that theory to leadership practices Spiritual reflection guided by scripture points us to the very center of leadership God and the purpose of leadership that we might display his glory All the best forms of leading take their cues from who God is his purposes and his ways of working with people that he has progressively revealed Building on three decades of research study and experience as a global leader Johnson surveys the landscape of contemporary leadership theory unpacks the assumptions and beliefs that underly current trends and responds by offering a robust approach to leadership founded on the character work and words of God

The Opposable Mind Roger L. Martin, 2009-07-07 If you want to be as successful as Jack Welch Larry Bossidy or Michael Dell read their autobiographical advice books right Wrong says Roger Martin in The Opposable Mind Though following best practice can help in some ways it also poses a danger By emulating what a great leader did in a particular situation you ll likely be terribly disappointed with your own results Why Your situation is different Instead of focusing on what exceptional leaders do we need to understand and emulate how they think Successful businesspeople engage in what Martin calls integrative thinking creatively resolving the tension in opposing models by forming entirely new and superior ones Drawing on stories of leaders as diverse as AG Lafley of Procter Gamble Meg Whitman of eBay Victoria Hale of the Institute for One World Health and Nandan Nilekani of Infosys Martin shows how integrative thinkers are relentlessly diagnosing and synthesizing by asking probing questions including What are the causal relationships at work here and What are the implied trade offs Martin also presents a model for strengthening your integrative thinking skills by drawing on different kinds of knowledge including conceptual and experiential knowledge

Integrative thinking can be learned and The Opposable Mind helps you master this vital skill      Cancer: 100 Ways to Fight John Roberts, 2010-03-29 Cancer 100 Ways to Fight Your own attitude is your brightest guiding star Some of success is doing what you like to do But more of it is doing the things you don't like to do but must It is too easy to make an excuse and not do it and fail John Roberts As this book goes to press early in 2010 I am 75 and into my fifth year with incurable metastatic prostate cancer which had already spread to the bones before cancer was diagnosed and the prostate removed The statistical prognosis for the current treatments of choice is that one half of these patients will die within three years 75% within five This usually happens after the standard treatments and chemotherapy fail and must be discontinued due to harmful side effects or weakening effectiveness resumed cancer growth and the failure of bones or key organs I am still feeling fine no pain living a normal life and I have completed eight months of chemotherapy with a 63% drop in my PSA prostate cancer blood test without major side effects or rising PSA I have fought this cancer and its personal consequences in more than a hundred ways as described here Above all a lifetime of fitness and my current excellent physical and mental condition supplemented by great medical care and everything else I can learn or think of is partially responsible for my success in living beyond the average life span for my particular fatal disease We cannot know which weapon or how much each one contributes to the extension of life so we must use them all The doctors all say that cancer survival is very unpredictable and I figured that many of the positive outcomes must depend on how comprehensively and how hard the individual fights So I immediately started this book and organized my fight I was extremely unfortunate most prostate cancer either is so slow growing or eliminated by removal that survivors live for many years In my case it had already spread or metastasized to the bones prior to the operation and that cancer is inoperable and incurable But some people in that condition die very early while others like me live much longer This is highly unpredictable in individual cases due to variation in patient condition treatment effectiveness and other unknowns More than half of all people newly diagnosed with cancer will be cured or given extended remission They will die of something else Of the other half a large number have treatable cancer and they still have many years to live The remainder probably including me have learned that they have incurable cancer that has grown too strong or spread and taken root in such places that it cannot be killed or removed and death is likely in the next few months or years Nevertheless normally incurable cancer and conventional predictability sometimes fail and others may prolong life by fighting with strong mental and physical effort As the disease progresses and is treated and science advances sometimes in great leaps we are rarely sure of which group we are in That uncertainty that hope and the dreadful power of cancer call for great strength of character and effort in both patients and those around them This book is about that The animal instinct to survive is in humans alone expanded in our unique cortex to something much greater the intelligent understanding of self awareness and an intense desire to prolong the experience growth and emotion of life The human spirit beyond the mere motivation of existence is largely responsible for all that our species has conquered and achieved It is an essential quality to be trained treasured and put to use and one of the finest ways is to survive continue and improve our exceptional life through our collective and individual intellect In the last century medical science the visibility of living in distant years and the recognition that we are and can be responsible for increasing our own longevity have ad
