Bangladeshi Immigrants In Meghalaya Causes Of Human Movements And Impact On Garo Hills:

Refugees and Borders in South Asia Antara Datta, 2013 The war in 1971 between India and Pakistan led to a huge refugee crisis This book argues that the massive influx of ten million refugees into India within a few short months changed ideas about citizenship and belonging in South Asia The book looks at how the Indian state while generously keeping its borders open to the refugees made it clear that these refugees were different from those generated by Partition and would not be allowed to settle permanently It discusses how the state was breaking its effective link between refugees and citizenship and how at the same time a second affective border was developing between those living in the border areas especially in Assam and West Bengal The book argues that the present discourse regarding illegal infiltration from Bangladesh has a long historical trajectory in which the events of 1971 play a key role It goes on to analyse the aftermath of the 1971 war and the massive repatriation project undertaken by the governments of India Pakistan and Bangladesh to examine ways in which questions about minorities and belonging remained unresolved post 1971 The book is an interesting contribution to the history of refugees border making and 1971 in South Asia as well as to studies in politics and international relations Provided by publisher Political Governance and Minority Rights Lipi Ghosh, 2020-11-29 This volume brings together a collection of essays analysing the current scenario in South and Southeast Asia with respect to the position of minority groups Based on an in depth investigation of some of the lasting minority majority conflicts of the post colonial period in countries that often escape comparison the articles are a rich and critical exposition of the social economic cultural and political dimensions of these struggles The central question being addressed is that of community rights in the modern nation state and how these are being understood by the two concerned parties and where and when thereof a situation of conflict arose They Ask If We Eat Frogs Ellen Bal, 2007 An investigation into the category of tribes in South Asia It focuses on one so called tribal community the Garos of Bangladesh It deals with the evolution of Garo identity ethnicity and with the progressive making of cultural characteristics that support a sense of Garo ness in the context of the complex historical developments Bangladeshi Immigrants in Meghalaya Senjang N. Sangma, 2005 The Problem Of Bangladeshi Immigrants Has Adversely Impacted On Socioeconomic And Political Conditions In India The Book Focuses On Unauthorized Human Movement From Bangladesh To Garo Hills Meghalaya In 1964 And Then In 1971 Causes For Migration Relief Camps Rehabilitation And Reclamation Of Displaced Persons From Across The Border And Impact Of These Immigrants On The Region Are Discussed And Analysed The Book May Be Found Useful By The Policy Makers And Scholars Having Interest In The Region Annual Report India.
