Computational Modeling in Biomedical Engineering and Medical Physics Alexandru Morega, Mihaela Morega, Alin Dobre, 2020-09-15 Mathematical and numerical modelling of engineering problems in medicine is aimed at unveiling and understanding multidisciplinary interactions and processes and providing insights useful to clinical care and technology advances for better medical equipment and systems When modelling medical problems the engineer is confronted with multidisciplinary problems of electromagnetism heat and mass transfer and structural mechanics with possibly different time and space scales which may raise concerns in formulating consistent solvable mathematical models Computational Medical Engineering presents a number of engineering for medicine problems that may be encountered in medical physics procedures diagnosis and monitoring techniques including electrical activity of the heart hemodynamic activity monitoring magnetic drug targeting bioheat models and thermography RF and microwave hyperthermia ablation EMF dosimetry and bioimpedance methods The authors discuss the core approach methodology to pose and solve different problems of medical engineering including essentials of mathematical modelling e g criteria for well posed problems physics scaling homogenization techniques Constructal Law criteria in morphing shape and structure of systems with internal flows computational domain construction CAD and or reconstruction techniques based on medical images numerical modelling issues and validation techniques used to ascertain numerical simulation results In addition new ideas and venues to investigate and understand finer scale models and merge them into continuous media medical physics are provided as case studies Presents the fundamentals of mathematical and numerical modeling of engineering problems in medicine Discusses many of the most common modelling scenarios for Biomedical Engineering including electrical activity of the heart hemodynamic activity monitoring magnetic drug targeting bioheat models and thermography RF and microwave hyperthermia ablation EMF dosimetry and bioimpedance methods Includes discussion of the core approach methodology to pose and solve different problems of medical engineering including essentials of mathematical modelling physics scaling Constructal Law criteria in morphing shape and structure of systems with internal flows computational domain construction numerical modelling issues and validation techniques used to ascertain numerical simulation results Electrical

Overstress/Electrostatic Discharge Symposium Proceedings, 2004 Projects in Electrical, Electronics, instrumentation and Computer Engineering SK Bhattacharya | S Chatterjee, The objective of this book has been to provide the students with reference material to select and work on doing various projects related to their subjects of study The projects included in this book have been tried out and hence are realistic The selection of the projects has been done carefully to reflect the real life job situations and also to develop in students the higher order intellectual abilities i e their capability to analyze synthesize and decision making through real life like project activities Key Features All Projects are real life like Projects included have been tried out by the authors Includes variety of projects from interdisciplinary areas
