The Loss of Happiness in Market Democracies Robert Edwards Lane, 2000-01-01 Despite the fact that citizens of advanced market democracies are satisfied with their material progress many are haunted by a spirit of unhappiness There is evidence of a rising tide of clinical depression in most advanced societies and in the United States studies have documented a decline in the number of people who regard themselves as happy Although our political and economic systems are based on the utilitarian philosophy of happiness the greatest good for the greatest number they seem to have contributed to our dissatisfaction with life This book investigates why this is so Drawing on extensive research in such fields as quality of life economics politics sociology psychology and biology Robert E Lane presents a challenging thesis He shows that the main sources of well being in advanced economies are friendships and a good family life and that once one is beyond the poverty level a larger income contributes almost nothing to happiness. In fact as prosperity increases there is a tragic erosion of family solidarity and community integration and individuals become more and more distrustful of each other and their political institutions. Lane urges that we alter our priorities so that we increase our levels of companionship even at the risk of reducing our income. Happiness Ed Diener, Robert Biswas-Diener, 2011-09-07 Utilizing sophisticated methodology and three decades of research by the world's leading expert on happiness, Happiness challenges the present thinking of the causes and consequences of happiness and redefines our modern notions of happiness. It shares the results of three decades of research on our notions of happiness, covers the most important advances in our understanding of happiness, offers readers unparalleled access to the world's leading experts on happiness, provides real world examples that will resonate with general readers as well as scholars. The Secret of Happiness Billy Graham, 2011-11-21 Happiness is what we all long for, what all human beings seek in our jobs, our relationships, our activities. We try so hard to be happy and all too often we end up empty and unsatisfied. Why? Because, says Billy Graham in this classic work, we are looking for happiness in all the wrong places. We haven't learned the secret Jesus taught in the Beatitudes: that true, lasting happiness simply isn't to be found by seeking it directly. Happiness is a by-product, a bonus that comes when we seek what is really important. And the things that will bring us the satisfaction we long for are not necessarily what the world considers meaningful. Jesus did not have to have an outward stimulus to make Him happy. Billy Graham points out He had learned a secret that allowed Him to live above the circumstances of life and fear of the future. He moved with calmness, certainty, and serenity through the most trying circumstances, even death. What was His secret? He gave it to us in the Beatitudes. Presented with Billy Graham's characteristic vigor and simplicity, in this landmark book it is a secret that can transform your life.

Dynamics Behind Persistent Images of "the Other" Vanessa Wijngaarden, 2016 In tourism, strangers meet face to face. What do Tanzanian Maasai and Western tourists think when they meet? Using a combination of methods that has never been tried in anthropology or in the field of tourism studies, this work provides novel theoretical insights into the images hosts and guests have of each other and how their views relate to the interactions they experience. This compelling reflexive study uses video and Q method to contribute to the epistemology of anthropological research in tourism settings and the construction of a new, more symmetrical anthropology. Dissertation. An important contribution to the growing field of the anthropology of tourism, an example of intense and methodical fieldwork combined with theoretical acumen and deep reflexivity. Prof. Dr. Walter E. A. van Beek, Tilburg U. Series Contributions to African Research. Beitr. ge zur Afrikaforschung Vol. 76. Subject: African Studies, Tourism.
