

DESCRIBING CHEMICAL REACTIONS

Section Review - Objectives

- Explain how to write a word equation
- Describe how to write a skeleton equation
- List the steps for writing a complete chemical equation

Vocabulary

- chemical equation
- skeleton equation
- catalyst
- coefficients
- balanced equation

Part A Completion

Use this completion exercise to check your understanding of the concepts and terms that are introduced in this section. Each blank can be completed with a term, short phrase, or number.

A chemical reaction can be concisely represented by a chemical ____1____. The substances that undergo a chemical change are the ____2____. The new substances formed in a chemical reaction are the ____3____. In accordance with the law of conservation of ____4____, a chemical equation must be balanced. When balancing an equation, you place ____5____ in front of reactants and products so that the same number of atoms of each ____6____ are on each side of the equation. An equation must never be balanced by changing the ____7____ in the chemical formula of a substance.

Special symbols are used to show the physical state of a substance in a reaction. The symbol for a liquid is ____8____; for a solid, ____9____; and for a gas, ____10____. A substance dissolved in water is designated ____11____. If a ____12____ is used to increase the rate of a chemical reaction, its formula is written above the arrow.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____
7. _____
8. _____
9. _____
10. _____
11. _____
12. _____

Part B True-False

Classify each of these statements as always true, AT; sometimes true, ST; or never true, NT.

- _____ 13. In an equation, a substance is shown to be in the gaseous state by placing an upward-pointing arrow after its formula.
- _____ 14. The symbol Δ placed over the arrow in an equation means that heat is supplied to the reaction.
- _____ 15. Atoms are destroyed in a chemical reaction.
- _____ 16. A skeleton equation is not a balanced equation.

Part D Questions and Problems

24. Write a balanced equation for each of these chemical reactions. I
- a. Aluminum reacts with aqueous hydrochloric acid to form hydrogen gas and aqueous aluminum chloride.
 - b. Acetylene gas (C_2H_2) burns in a welding torch with oxygen to form carbon dioxide gas and water vapor.

Computer Algebra in Scientific Computing CASC'99 Victor G. Ganzha, Ernst W. Mayr, Evgenii V. Vorozhtsov, 2012-12-06 The development of powerful computer algebra systems has considerably extended the scope of problems of scientific computing which can now be solved successfully with the aid of computers However as the field of applications of computer algebra in scientific computing becomes broader and more complex there is a danger of separation between theory systems and applications For this reason we felt the need to bring together the researchers who now apply the tools of computer algebra for the solution of problems in scientific computing in order to foster new and closer interactions CASC 99 is the second conference devoted to applications of computer algebra in scientific computing The first conference in this sequence CASC 98 was held 20-24 April 1998 in St Petersburg Russia This volume contains revised versions of the papers submitted by the participants and accepted by the program committee after a thorough reviewing process The collection of papers included in the proceedings covers various topics of computer algebra methods algorithms and software applied to scientific computing symbolic numeric analysis and solving differential equations efficient computations with polynomials groups matrices and other related objects special purpose programming environments application to physics mechanics optics and to other areas In particular a significant group of papers deals with applications of computer algebra methods for the solution of current problems in group theory which mostly arise in mathematical physics

Assessing Organizational Performance in Higher Education Barbara A. Miller,2016-05-10 The book provides a full complement of assessment technologies that enable leaders to measure and evaluate performance using qualitative and quantitative performance indicators and reference points in each of seven areas of organizational performance While these technologies are not new applying them in a comprehensive assessment of the performance of both academic and administrative organization in higher education is a true innovation Assessing Organizational Performance in Higher Education defines four types of assessment user groups each of which has unique interest in organizational performance This offers a new perspective on who uses performance results and why they use them These varied groups emphasize that assessment results must be tailored to fit the needs of specific groups that one size fits all does not apply in assessment An assessment process must be robust and capable of delivering the right information at the right time to the right user group

Organic Chemistry Education Research into Practice Jay Wackerly,Sarah Zingales,Michael Wentzel,Gautam Bhattacharyya,Brett McCollum,2025-03-25 This Research Topic has three main goals 1 provide a platform for instructors of organic chemistry to showcase evidence based methods and educational theories they have utilized in their classrooms 2 build new and strengthen existing connections between educational researchers and practitioners and 3 highlight how people have used chemical education based research in their teaching practice There are places in the literature dedicated for chemical education research CER however there is not a clear avenue for those that have changed their teaching methods based on published CER and report their experiences Creating this article collection will foster collaboration between chemical education researchers and teachers of organic chemistry This opportunity allows these instructors to share evidence based practices experiences challenges and innovative approaches from CER literature and beyond This Research Topic bridges discipline based education research and the scholarship of teaching and learning which will help advance organic chemistry education and improve student outcomes

Problems and Problem Solving in Chemistry Education Georgios Tsaparlis, 2021-05-17 Problem solving is central to the teaching and learning of chemistry at secondary tertiary and post tertiary levels of education opening to students and professional chemists alike a whole new world for analysing data looking for patterns and making deductions As an important higher order thinking skill problem solving also constitutes a major research field in science education Relevant education research is an ongoing process with recent developments occurring not only in the area of quantitative computational problems but also in qualitative problem solving The following situations are considered some general others with a focus on specific areas of chemistry quantitative problems qualitative reasoning metacognition and resource activation deconstructing the problem solving process an overview of the working memory hypothesis reasoning with the electron pushing formalism scaffolding organic synthesis skills spectroscopy for structural characterization in organic chemistry enzyme kinetics problem solving in the academic chemistry laboratory chemistry problem solving in context team based active learning technology for molecular representations IR spectra simulation and computational quantum chemistry tools The book concludes with methodological and epistemological issues in problem solving research and other perspectives in problem solving in chemistry With a foreword by George Bodner Chemical Process Engineering, Volume 2 A. Kayode Coker, Rahmat Sotudeh-Gharebagh, 2022-06-20 CHEMICAL PROCESS ENGINEERING Written by one of the most prolific and respected chemical engineers in the world and his co author also a well known and respected engineer this two volume set is the new standard in the industry offering engineers and students alike the most up to date comprehensive and state of the art coverage of processes and best practices in the field today This new two volume set explores and describes integrating new tools for engineering education and practice for better utilization of the existing knowledge on process design Useful not only for students university professors and practitioners especially process chemical mechanical and metallurgical engineers it is also a valuable reference for other engineers consultants technicians and scientists concerned about various aspects of industrial design The text can be considered as complementary to process design for senior and graduate students as well as a hands on reference work or refresher for engineers at entry level The contents of the book can also be taught in intensive workshops in the oil gas petrochemical biochemical and process industries The book provides a detailed description and hands on experience on process design in chemical engineering and it is an integrated text that focuses on practical design with new tools such as Microsoft Excel spreadsheets and UniSim simulation software Written by two of the industry s most trustworthy and well known authors this book is the new standard in chemical biochemical pharmaceutical petrochemical and petroleum refining Covering design analysis simulation integration and perhaps most importantly the practical application of Microsoft Excel UniSim software this is the most comprehensive and up to date coverage of all of the latest developments in the industry It is a must have for any engineer or student s library
