

17 Art from the Fifties to the Present

A "quick look" at the art of the mid-twentieth century, from the mid-1940s to the mid-1960s, is presented in this section. The art of this period is characterized by a new sense of form and a new sense of color.

For the purpose of this section, the art of the mid-twentieth century is divided into two periods: the mid-1940s to the mid-1950s, and the mid-1950s to the mid-1960s.

This is a black and white photograph of a sculpture. The sculpture is made of a material that looks like stone or concrete. It has a rough, textured surface. The sculpture is a head, and it is looking to the right. The head is made of a single piece of material, and it has a very simple, almost abstract form. The background is a plain, light color.

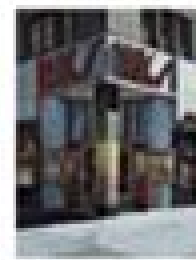

During this painting, in a moment of time, you can see the man and the woman. They are both looking at each other. The man is on the right, and the woman is on the left. They are both wearing dark clothing. The background is a light, textured surface. The painting is signed 'J. M. W. Turner' in the bottom right corner.
