

Female-Headed Households

- Colombia has a high number of female-headed households when compared to other Latin American countries.
- Migration to urban centres by more women than men has led to a high number of female-headed household in urban areas (Richter 1988). 48% of residents of the major metropolitan areas headed their own households as compared to 41 % in the countryside.
- Most of these women belong to an age group of 45-49 (De Vos and Richter), and this family arrangement is also dependent on the number of children and the age of the youngest child.
- Women with less education were also more likely to be heading a household by themselves.

Rethinking Feminist Interventions into the Urban Linda Peake,Martina Rieker,2013-05-29 In Rethinking Feminist Interventions into the Urban Linda Peake and Martina Rieker embark on an ambitious project to explore the extent to which a feminist re imagining of the twenty first century city can form the core of a new emerging analytic of women and the neoliberal urban In a world in which the majority of the population now live in urban centres they take as their starting point the need to examine the production of knowledge about the city through the problematic divide of the global north and south asking what might a feminist intervention a position itself fraught with possibilities and problems into this dominant geographical imaginary look like Providing a meaningful discussion of the ways in which feminism gender and women have been understood in relation to the city and urban studies they ask probing and insightful questions that indicate new directions for theory and research illustrating the necessity of a re formulation of the north south divide as a critical and urgent project for feminist urban studies Working through platforms as diverse as policy formulations and telling stories the contributors to the book come from a range of disciplinary backgrounds and geographic locations ranging through the Caribbean North America Western Europe South East and South East Asia the Middle East and Latin America They identify a range of issues such as care work violence the household mobility intimacy and poverty that they analytically address to make sense of and reanimate resistance to the contemporary urban through articulations of new grammars of gendered geographies of justice Land Tenure, Housing Rights and Gender in Colombia ,2005 International Encyclopedia of Housing and Home ,2012-10-09 Available online via SciVerse ScienceDirect or in print for a limited time only The International Encyclopedia of Housing and Home Seven Volume Set is the first international reference work for housing scholars and professionals that uses studies in economics and finance psychology social policy sociology anthropology geography architecture law and other disciplines to create an international portrait of housing in all its facets from meanings of home at the microscale to impacts on macro economy This comprehensive work is edited by distinguished housing expert Susan J Smith together with Marja Elsinga Ong Seow Eng Lorna Fox O Mahony and Susan Wachter and a multi disciplinary editorial team of 20 world class scholars in all Working at the cutting edge of their subject liaising with an expert editorial advisory board and engaging with policy makers and professionals the editors have worked for almost five years to secure the quality reach relevance and coherence of this work A broad and inclusive table of contents signals or testifies to detailed investigation of historical and theoretical material as well as in depth analysis of current issues This seven volume set contains over 500 entries listed alphabetically but grouped into seven thematic sections including methods and approaches economics and finance environments home and homelessness institutions policy and welfare and well being Housing professionals both academics and practitioners will find The International Encyclopedia of Housing and Home useful for teaching discovery and research needs International in scope engaging with trends in every world region The editorial board and contributors are drawn from a wide constituency collating expertise from academics policy makers professionals and practitioners and from every key center for housing research Every entry stands alone on its merits and is accessed alphabetically yet each is fully cross referenced and attached to one of seven thematic categories whose wholes far exceed the sum of their parts Housing Policy in Latin American Cities Peter M. Ward, Edith R. Jiménez Huerta, María Mercedes Di Virgilio, 2015-06-03 After the 1960s rapid urbanization in developing regions in Latin America Africa and Asia was marked by the expansion of low income irregular settlements that developed informally and which by the 2000s often constituted between 20 60 percent of the built up area of metropolitan areas and other large cities There has been a variety of research directed at the housing policies involved with these informal settlements yet apart from the activities of Latin American Housing Network LAHN there has been minimal attention directed at the earliest portion of settlements that formed some 25 40 years ago that now form a large part of the intermediate ring of the cities This volume breaks new ground by opening up a new generation of housing policy in Latin America cities with broader application for other developing countries Its editors bring unique perspectives Peter Ward coordinates the LAHN and Edith Jim nez and Mar a Di Virgilio are founding members of the network who have led project teams in Guadalajara and Buenos Aires respectively Developed as a coordinated collaborative research project the volume encompasses nine Latin American countries and eleven cities The editors and contributors offer original perspectives on the policy challenges facing much of the low income housing of Latin American cities document the changing nature of the first suburbs present comparative survey findings in order to better understand the types of consolidated settlements that exist today describe the physical nature of the dwellings themselves identify the reasons behind market dysfunction that impede the operation of consolidated housing informal markets in Latin American cities and outline a new generation of housing policies that will support the processes of densification rehabilitation and regeneration of these settlements This book is the first and only composite overview of the research findings and advocacy of the generic policy lines that the LAHN identifies as central to a new generation of housing strategies and approaches Researchers and practitioners working on housing theory housing policy comparative spatial and sociological research and urban development issues will find the book highly significant
